CITY ABANDONS TEMPORARY PLAN TO TREAT SEWAGE

Council Adopts Lynch's Recommendation to Shut Down Plants

EXPENSE IS PLEADED

Riverside Ordinance In; Confer on Park Exonerations; Lighting Bill

Harrisburg to-day officially declined to comply any longer with the State Health Department's order directing the municipality to temporarily disin-fect its sewage in the interceptors to protect towns down stream against possible typhoid infection.

In accordance with a recommenda tion by City Commissioner W. H. Lynch, superintendent of Public Improvements, seconded by City Commissioner H. F. Bowman, superintendent of Public Safety, Council unani-mously agreed to discontinue the temporary disposal plants on the river porary disposal plants on the river front and Paxton creek interceptors.

Heavy expense combined with the belief that the typhoid outbreak is thoroughly under control, that the sewage is properly treated in the homes of sufferers under instruction of the city health department, and that the river is open to pollution from drainage of towns upstream/were the reasons advanced by Mr. Lynch for asking Council's support in refusing to comply with State Health Commissioner Dixon's decree.

sioner Dixon's decree.

Heavy Expense

Mr. Lynch explained that the temporary plants have cost $2,108.92 in little more than a month's operation. Council had only appropriated $3,000. Following a brief conference with Spencer C. Gilbert, Samuel C. Todd of the Capitol Park Extension Commission, and Charles E. Etter, the commission's realty expert, Council to-day turned over the question of tax exonerations in the park extension to the city solicitor's department, Mr. Etter and City Assessor James C. Thompson to report upon. It was announced that the State will probably not expect to take over the fire-

Announces Committee on

Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, State Commissioner of Health, who was chairman of the recent meeting held at the Capitol to consider the subject of the conservation of the waters of Pennsylvania, to-day announced the following committee to draft legislation and study the situation:

Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, Gifford Pinchot, president of the National Conservation Association; Dr. Henry S. Drinker, president of Lehigh University; William H. Keller, Deputy Attorney General; John B. Eichenhauer, member of the Pittsburgh flood commission; George S. Webster, director of Philadelphia wharves, docks and ferries; Professor of civil engineer, University of Pennsylvania; S. B. Elliott, member of the State Forestry Commission; A. Wells, vice-president and chief engineer of the Pennsylvania water and Power Company.

At the request of the Governor, Dr. Dixon accepted the chairmanship of the committee, which will be enlarged from time to time.

William M. Henderson Dies at Carlisle Today

Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 28. — William M. Henderson, well known in banking circles and business interests, died at his home here this morning from the effects of a stroke of paralysis sustained some time ago. He was 53 years old. Mr. Henderson was the last member of his branch of the family, the only relatives being a number of cousins living in this vicinity. He was a nephew of ex-Judge William M. Henderson, who was president judge of the Dauphin county court about thirty years ago. Besides being a banker Mr. Henderson was a large land owner and was backer of an amusement park near town. His estate is estimated at a quarter of a million dollars. Mr. Henderson was at one time an officer in the National Guard of Pennsylvania, serving as an adjutant in the Eighth Regiment, under Colonel E. B. Watts. No funeral arrangements have been made.

TWO FARMERS ARE REALLY WILLING TO TRADE TURKEY FOR NICE NEW AUTOMOBILE

On Friday evening the Harrisburg Telegraph published the following letter to the editor:

MY KINGDOM FOR A TURKEY Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 23, '16.
To the Editor of the Telegraph:

I have a new 1917 model auto-mobile that I would like to exchange for a turkey. Is there anybody you can suggest who might be induced to make the trade?

I do not expect a large turkey—just a moderate sized one. Anxiously awaiting your reply, because we cx-pect company for dinner, I am, Yours truly,

PIANO MAN. P. S .- My machine is a 1917 model

Now, Mr. Piano Man, here are two letters from farmers of Dauphin and Cumberland counties, calling your "bluft." One of the farmers prefers a Ford, so if you can exchange your car for a flivver, you may be able to come to terms.

a Ford, so if you can exchange your car for a flivver, you may be able to come to terms.

The other farmer from Cumberland county won't take a Ford and makes a few extra demands which you may care to investigate.

The two letters follow:

Rush Township,

A man said to me that he saw in your paper where a man wanted to swop a Peerless atermobile for a turkey. I have a flock of 3 turkey and will swop 1 or two. I won't to keep one for Krismas when the preacher comes to my plais. This man say the Peerless is a fare car. I would like to swop on a Ford. My girl has a bow. He have a Ford. I like a Ford. They say the man who makes the Ford is a pieceble man, he almost stopped the war so if

Cumberland Man's Offer

Newburg, Pa.,
Nov. 27, 1916.
To the Harrisburg Telegraph:
In a recent issue of your paper a Plano Man requests you to inveigle someone into trading a turkey for his automobile. I felt indifferent about it until he pleaded the prospect of company. As my own neutrality has been violated frequently in the same manner, my sympathy was thoroughly aroused.
I am the hoped-for recompany.

my sympathy was thoroughly aroused.

I am the hoped-for someone. I have a small gobbler with beard, wishbone and klaxon in good condition which I will exchange for a seven-passenger auto. 1917 model, provided the same is equipped with an extra set of tires, carries a contract for free repairing for a year, and is shipped, charges prepaid, to my summer home in Alaska.

This is a most generous offer, considering the expense incident to supporting a first-class harem. One of every seventeen of my turkeys died uninsured last summer and their obsequies damaged the sinking fund like shrapnel. Then, too, the surviving birds dine on the European plan, and the cuisine must be a medley of bugs, grasshoppers, and perhaps, corn. My luck may not endure throughout another year, and I believe in preparedness.

P. S.—As this is strictly a charitable proposition, the offer is not open to owners of Fords.

COrdially yours,

CUMB. CO, FARMER.

Refuse to Buy Turkeys at High Prices; Quotations Drop

Pittsburgh, Pa.. Nov. 28. — Following refusal of buyers here to purchase turkeys at high prices many thousands of the fowls were still unsold to-day and the quotations are likely to take another tumble during the day. Annually great quantities of the birds are shipped to Pittsburgh from Ohio, West Virginia and other nearby States just before Thanksgiving and the supply this year is even larger than in the past. Shippers yesterday asked 28 to 29 cents per pound for live turkeys and only sold a few at 25 cents a pound. Some dealers here expect the prices for dressed turkeys will quickly drop from 40 cents a pound to about 35 cents.
