WELLY'S CORNER

The curtain drops to-morrow on 1916 football. Harrisburg enthusiasts will have the Central-Tech battle.

Central was working in secret to-day while Tech kept busy this afternoon working out new formations.

The big games to-morrow include Pitt-Penn State; Penn-Cornell; F. and M. Gettysburg.

Representatives of seven teams met last night at George W. Bogar's store and discussed plans for an amateur basketball league.

Last night was anxious to start right. A committee as appointed to secure a good leader, and to ascertain how many teams will enter.

The committee named to pick a man for president has a number of prominent folks under consideration who are enthusiasts for amateur sport.

"Dick" Rauch of this city, a former Harrisburg Academy star, has a broken leg. He slipped on a piece of ice the other day while practicing with the Penn State team.

May Cut Baseball Pay Is Ban Johnson Report

New York, Nov. 29.—Salaries of baseball players in the American League who were signed at high figures to remain this during the war with the Federal League will be sharply reduced, B. E. Johnson, president of the league, announced last night.

The game was conducted in an extravagant manner during the fight with the Federal League, President Johnson said, and all expenses connected with the operation of the sport next season will be curtailed.

"Now that the trouble is over," he asserted, "we will have to return to a sound basis, one where men who have invested their money in the game stand a chance of getting a fair return. There will be no renewal of high-salaried 'war' contracts. The players must understand that."

NO RECONCILIATION WITH ENEMIES

Let us daily tell the French that every foot we conquer is ours. We need not waste words about Belgium. We need access to the channel and we need Antwerp.

London easier to destroy. The Gazette concludes that England is more assailable than Russia, and that London can be destroyed easier than Moscow, because, it says, Moscow costs blood and London only Torpedoes.

"We have no fantastic dreams," are the Gazette's final words, "of conquering the world. German brawling is not yet ripe for mastering and governing a world empire. We neither can or will destroy the British empire, but the minimum necessity for German peace is the complete beating down of France in the west and the prestige of the German flag on all the seas."

Urzes Belgium Annexation. Annexation is also advocated by Dr. Jaeger, a member of the Central party in the Reichstag, who, writing in the Dusseldorf General Anzeig insists that German blood shed in Belgium since 1914 must not have been shed in vain.

"Belgium must be our guarantee," writes Dr. Jaeger, "for a good part of the war costs. We must retain permanently the Meuse line with Jagers and Namur. Part of old Luxembourg which has become Belgian, can perhaps be ceded to the Grand Duchy."

After saying that the Walloons could be ejected from their homes, Dr. Jaeger pronounced in favor of allowing the Belgian dynasty to remain. He declared, however, that the country must be brought politically, militarily and economically in closer relations to Germany.

Just a Few Things the Burglar Store in His Raids

FAUST CONFESSES HE SHOT PENNSY SPECIAL OFFICER

Man Who Robbed More Than Hundred Homes Put Bullet Into Lee Miles

Lou Faust, who robbed more than a hundred homes in this city, has confessed to the shooting of Special Officer Lee Miles, of 316 Maclay street, of the P. R. R., April 20.

A number of things had been missing from the Division street transfer so a special officer was employed. On the night of April 20, Miles noticed a man slinking from the building laden with stolen articles. He started in pursuit of the thief who turned and shot. Miles was wounded in the right hand and he gave up the chase.

A steady stream of people continue to pour into police headquarters to view the different articles in Faust's Department Store, which the police removed from his home, 1918 Forster street to the back room of the station house. Faust, as a point of honor, always took everything transportable, so quite naturally there are few articles of utility or salability not on exhibition.

The walls of the room are hung with clothing of every description; shirts, coats, dress trousers and furs. A long shelf accommodates shoes of every description. A big table laden with jewelry of varied value is the center of attraction.

Many Articles Identified. Many of the articles have already been identified but still quite a number are unclaimed. It is thought some come from other cities where Faust operated. Hagerstown, Sunbury, Wilkes-Barre, Scranton, Philadelphia, Lebanon, Reading and York.

Police of other cities have been as anxious to catch the thief who took things wholesale as have been the local detectives who naturally are taking honorable pride in making the arrest.

Quite a number of the people visited in May, 1915, were in the line of search, but they came to the station in vain. They told stories of a real burglar, who didn't trouble with anything but the best. Plated ware was discarded and only genuine sterling was stolen. Rings with imitation sets were left untouched and only genuine stones were taken. All the robberies at that time occurred in a short space of time, so the "real burglars" did not stay in Harrisburg very long, it is believed.

The "woman in the case" whom the police say has only been posing as Faust's wife, has been arrested and is implicated in the disposal of stolen goods. If she is really not his wife, as the police claim, her testimony can then be used against him.

Fear of Renewed Outbreak of Hoof and Mouth Disease in Central States Wanes

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Fear of a renewed outbreak of the hoof and mouth disease in the Central States was waning rapidly among livestock men here to-day. With encouraging reports from the suspected cattle in Kansas City, local packers, traders and officials of the Union Stock Yards expressed a belief that the quarantine against cattle except for immediate slaughter, from Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska at the yards in Chicago and East St. Louis would be removed to-day.

Action, however, was awaiting the report of Dr. S. F. Bennett, head of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry, in Chicago, who returned from Kansas City with cultures taken there. He said that while the test could not be completed until later in the day, the indications were encouraging.

Arthur Leonard, president of the Union Stock Yards and Transit Company, announced that the International Livestock Show will begin here Saturday as planned and that more than one-third of the exhibits have arrived in Chicago already and the remainder are on the way.

"Extraordinary care is being taken to protect the exhibits," said Bernard Heide, general manager. "We have no fears, realizing that the local quarantine is purely precautionary."

CITY'S LITTLE FOLKS WILL BE SEAL SALESMEN

Cash Prizes and Flags For the Leaders in Christmas Stamp Campaign

Harrisburg's Red Cross Christmas seal campaign for 1916 will begin with a whoop December 5.

The 10,000 to 11,000 school children of the city will lead the crusade. That plan of campaign was definitely outlined last evening at a meeting of the general Red Cross committee held at the home of Mrs. William Henderson, 25 North Front street.

While the sales will be pushed with more than ordinary vigor in the schools, the city at large will not be neglected by any means, and the small towns round about will fight out a real battle for sales honors. The eyes of many a small town have been looking right enviously at Hershey, the little town which has led other communities of the country as a Red Cross seal sales town, and Hershey, it is understood, will be pushed for first place.

At least 400,000 and perhaps 450,000 and even 500,000 Christmas stamps will be sold in Harrisburg. The first of the hopes of the committee, headed by Dr. C. R. Phillips, are realized. The school children will be given the first chance, however, and the first week of the campaign will be "school week." Two prizes of $250 in gold will be offered for the best boy and girl salesmen in both the city and in the district comprising Cumberland and Dauphin counties and handsome silken State flags will be awarded to the school in both city and county districts which stand highest for school sales.

Miss Anne McCormick and Mrs. F. E. Downes were appointed a committee to arrange for the sales at the Post Office and other central points.

Music and Lectures For Guests at Masons' Homes

Elizabethtown, Pa., Nov. 29.—Two notable musical events took place here this week, both given by excellent musical talent of Harrisburg. The first event was a concert by the Pennsylvania Railroad Glee Club of Harrisburg, by courtesy of Milton B. Mishey, a Pennsylvania Italian cashier and a past master of Montgomery Lodge, No. 19, of Philadelphia, on Tuesday evening. The members of this club were all employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

The second musical event of the week was a service of song on Sunday afternoon which was the offering of Professor Lielewellyn For Evans, of Harrisburg, and a company of other gifted musicians of that city.

The Rev. Dallas M. DeHuze, a guest at the homes, who for many years was engaged in the lecture field in connection with church work and also under the auspices of railroads, on Saturday evening delivered an illustrated lecture on "Colorado, the Switzerland of America." The Rev. Mr. DeHuze has a number of other illustrated lectures which he purposes delivering in the near future to the guests at the homes. The next will be "Yellowstone Park and California."
