Health Department Urges Public to Hear Dr. Kirk's Lecture

City Health Officer Dr. J. M. J. Raunick has given his hearty endorsement to the free lecture to be given this evening in the Technical High School auditorium by Dr. Edward C. Kirk, dean of the dental department of the University of Pennsylvania, who comes to Harrisburg at the invitation of the Harrisburg Dental Society to give Harrisburg people hints on how to preserve their health through the care of their teeth. Dr. Raunick's letter follows:

The free illustrated lecture about teeth and health is scheduled for Friday, December 1, at the Technical High School will afford the people of Harrisburg an opportunity to hear this important community problem discussed by one of the best authorities in the country.

"When we consider that over 50 per cent of our school children have defective teeth and that bad teeth form favorable breeding places for all kinds of disease producing germs, we can appreciate the importance of this question in disease cause and prevention. The Harrisburg Dental Society is to be commended in securing Dr. Edward C. Kirk, dean of the dental department of the University of Pennsylvania for this occasion and it is hoped this event is but the beginning of similar educational advances in public health that will be offered to the people of Harrisburg. JOHN M. J. RAUNICK, M. D."

Pleasing Growth Enjoyed by Big Uptown Store

One of Harrisburg's business institutions which has enjoyed a rapid growth in business during the past few years is the firm of Brown & Company, 1217-1219 North Third street. Starting in a comparatively small way several years ago, it has become necessary to make additions to the quarters from time to time until today several large floors in three of the largest connecting buildings in the North Third street business section are being utilized in the conduct of the business. For the approaching holiday season extensive preparations have been made in lines of merchandise particularly appropriate to the gift season, and throughout the store stocks reflect the Christmas spirit. One department of notable interest is that devoted to framed pictures. Much attention has been given to this branch of the business and the selection of subjects has received the utmost care from buyers versed in picture lore. One picture in the stock which has store windows, won more than ordinary attention for the past few weeks is the work of George Henry Boughton, entitled "Pilgrims Going to Church," the original of which hangs in the Lenox Gallery in New York City. The artist has caught the feeling of the winter along the Massachusetts coast, with its snow fall, the motionless lines standing as sentinels in the background, and in the foreground the group of Pilgrims following the minister and his wife over the snow-covered ground to the Thanksgiving worship. Armed men form a guard to the little group, on whose faces is pictured the fear of some threatening danger and possible Indians lurking nearby. The picture is of an unusual type, very good health for sometime and has decided to take a rest, and later will determine what his new line of activity will be. He stated this after-

LOCAL MANAGER WATTS RESIGNS

Has Not Been in Good Health; Entered Bell Employ in 1901

Announcement was made today that Shirley B. Watts, local manager of the Harrisburg District of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania with offices at 210 Walnut street, had resigned. Mr. Watts has not been in very good health for sometime and has decided to take a rest, and later will determine what his new line of activity will be. He stated this afternoon that he would first "ease up" and then in the early Spring take on his new line of endeavor. Mr. Watts was generally regarded as a "fixturer" in the telephone business in Harrisburg and his decision to retire from corporation work will undoubtedly surprise his many friends. He entered the employ of the Bell Company in 1901, for many years was collector and in that capacity came to know personally many residents of this city. In 1910, he was made local manager, continuing in that position until today. He has a splendid record with the company, all of the officials of which hold him in high regard. His district has shown splendid results in the way of new business. At the office of the Bell Telephone Company, it was said that his successor has not yet been appointed inasmuch as Mr. Watts' resignation had just been received.

A. P. PREVEITS FALSE RUN Wilmington, Del., Dec. 1.—Fire companies in Wilmington to-day were made victims of a hoax by some joker, who called up from Baltimore on the long-distance telephone saying a conflagration was raging and help was needed. The companies made ready to respond to the call when, through the Associated Press, it was learned that there was no fire. Diligent search is now being made to discover the faker and prosecute him. BOYS PLEAD FOR PEACE New York, Dec. 1.—Eight boys, members of the juvenile police force of the East Side, left here for Washington to-day bearing resolutions to President Wilson urging him to use his influence toward bringing about peace in Europe. TO PUT ON STEEL CARS Officials of the Harrisburg Railway Company announce that two new steel cars of latest design will be placed in operation on the Hummelstown line.
