POLLUTION WILL BE PREVENTED

Attorney General Brown Assured of Assistance by the Manufacturers

Men who attended the conference on prevention of stream pollution held at the Capitol by Attorney General Brown on Wednesday have sent word to his office that they will attend meetings with men interested in their lines of business within a week and that before Christmas suggestions for a general policy will be in his hands. The general sentiment expressed is that prevention can be worked out if time is given.

Mr. Brown has sent word to some manufacturers and others who could not get here that he intends to enforce the law, but does not desire to be unreasonable about it. Where there are situations which cannot easily be overcome he wants studies begun, offering the advice of the State departments. But he has also given notice that no evasions will be tolerated. "I recognize that this is a great problem, but the manufacturers and others can work it out in co-operation with us," said he. Mr. Brown also remarked that instead of complaints about pollution coming only from sportsmen he had complaints from men in charge of many mills and factories, railroad shops and water works that water was so polluted above them that they could not use it in boilers.

The complaints from boroughs will be considered by Commissioner of Health Dixon, who has given notice that he will be glad to discuss problems with men in any community, but that the State will insist upon cleansing of streams of sewage and municipalities may as well have plans made and start to adjust their finances to meet the cost before many years go by. Meanwhile inspections by fish wardens will be continued, nine men being assigned to it.

Small Demand For Tags.—Such a small number of persons have applied to the automobile division of the State Highway Department of 1917 registrations that the officials in charge have sent out a warning that persons delaying until late in December will run a risk in getting licenses promptly. Thus far there have been only a little over 11,000 cars out of about 200,000 licensed for the new year and there is a month to go with four Sundays left. The total amount of registrations for 1917 is $131,390. The revenue from licenses this year is calculated at considerably over $2,000,000. The total registrations in all classes, cars, motorcycle drivers, dealers and the like is 324,000 for this year.

Hogs Scarce, Too.—There are fewer hogs being fattened for the winter markets on the farms of Pennsylvania than a year ago according to reports gathered by the State Department of Agriculture. The high cost of feed is blamed for the shortage of the pigs. A short time ago the Department called attention to the short crop of cabbage and to the high prices demanded for it. Incidentally, reports show that sauerkraut has doubled in price and now here comes a report of shortage of pork.

To Meet Monday.—The Public Service Commission will resume sessions here on Monday when a big list of applications will be presented. Hearings will be held most of the week. Farm Tractor Report.—State reports show that there are about 540 farm tractors in use on the farms of Pennsylvania. There are about 2184,000 farms so that the number has not increased very rapidly in the last year. Looking Up Titles.—The titles to tracts of land in Westmoreland county suggested for the new Western Pennsylvania Insane Hospital are being examined. It is likely that the purchase will be consummated soon. Case in Lawrence.—A new case of infantile paralysis has appeared in Lawrence county. O'Neil at Home.—Insurance Commissioner O'Neil has gone home to McKeesport for the week-end. He will be here next week to discuss matters relating to the insurance cases with the Attorney General. Little Business.—The fiscal departments were closed to-day and in others there was little business transacted. In a number of instances offices closed on Monday. Firing Time in Night.—Firing time has rolled around again at the State Capitol and heads are dropping. Insurance Commissioner O'Neil has resigned. Daniel E. Hunihan, of East Pittsburgh, inspector in the department for the last ten years on the score of economy. It is said that Hunihan has been active in politics and a worker for re-election of Congressman W. H. Coleman. Bank Examiner Frank W. Jackson, son of the former State treasurer and for years connected with the State Banking Department, is now announced as having "resigned" on November 1. His place has been filled by the appointment of John Wick, Jr., of Kittanning. Mr. Jackson lives at Apollo. In both cases no statement was made of the dropping of these men and it was only to-day that it was admitted that they had been quitted. Governor Brumbaugh will spend the week-end in Philadelphia. The State Board of Education will meet here on December 11 to discuss legislation. Ryan Suggests Plan.—Commissioner Ryan has suggested a plan to Philadelphia commuters for settlement of their rate questions. It will be discussed next week. Board's Busy Time.—The Industrial Board of the Department of Labor and Industry, is meeting in Philadelphia to-day. Next Wednesday the Industrial Board will meet in the Masonic Temple Building, in an all-day session. A conference will be held by the board, in the morning with representatives from the State Department of Health, the State Board of Education and the Vocational Bureau of the Department of Public Instruction for the purpose of defining the duties of each branch of State Government under the law. In the afternoon session delegations from the Consumers' League, Chamber of Commerce of Lancaster and the Chamber of Commerce at Wilkes-Barre will appear before the Industrial Board for interpretation of the Women's Law and especially in the movement to promote early Christmas shopping.

HOW GOOD THAT MUSTEROLE FEELS!

It Gets to That Sore Spot Like Magic

A-a-h! That's delicious relief for those sore muscles, those stiff joints, that lame back. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard and other home simples. It does the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster, minus the plaster and minus the blister!

You simply rub Musterole on the spot where the pain is—rub it on briskly—and usually the pain is gone. No muss, no bother. Just comforting, soothing relief—first a gentle glow, then a delightful sense of coolness. And best of all, no blisters like the old-fashioned mustard plaster used to make.

Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

CARRANZA TO STRIKE AT VILLA

[Continued From First Page] them ship's guns mounted on cars that form a solid metal base for the guns. It is admitted that Villa is now in possession of the other eight pieces of artillery—the first time he has had cannon since his downfall in the battle of Celaya a year ago last April when General Obregon captured fifty-odd pieces from him.

Chihuahua's Dead Oil Soaked and Then Fired; Retreat Was a Rout

Juarez, Mexico, Dec. 1.—The ragged remnants of the Carranza force which fled from Chihuahua City are in camp on the plains south of Juarez. They brought with them the story of the evacuation of the city after four days and nights of fighting. The dead had been piled high in the streets when they left, covered with oil and set on fire. A foreign refugee described the retirement of the Carranza force as a rout. One Mexican civilian refugee says he saw Villa in the city Monday walking about without crutches, his mustache shaved off and looking much thinner than of old.

TEUTONIC GRIP IS TIGHTENING

[Continued From First Page] cords steady progress of the Teutonic allies against the Rumanians along the entire curving front before Bucharest. In particular it shows Von Mackensen's forces from the Danube approaching the line of the Argesch river which flows within 16 miles of Bucharest as it sweeps down diagonally across Rumania from the northwest.

Further inroads upon the Rumanian personnel, and equipment are announced by Berlin in the capture of more than 2,800 prisoners, 21 cannon and other material. Berlin emphasizes the extent of the Russian-Rumanian offensive in the Carpathians along the Moldavian frontier, pointing out that it is being violently pressed over a front of more than 180 miles. It is declared, however, that the attacks were virtually pressed over a front of more than 180 miles. It is declared, however, that the attacks were virtually fruitless and extremely costly and the recapture of some ground previously lost is claimed. Likewise the defeat of an entente attack on the Bulgarian left flank in Dobruja in which the British armored cars were destroyed is recorded.

SEVERE COLDS AND COUGHS SHOULD NOT BE TRIFLED WITH

A Stab-like Pain, a Chill and a Sore Throat—No Time to Trifle Now The following prescription is being widely used for breaking up severe Coughs and Colds. Get from your druggist a small jar of Famous Forkola and thoroughly spread over throat and chest covering with a piece of warm flannel. The warmth of the body quickly releases certain ingredients that are part of the Famous Forkola prescription in the form of medicated vapors that are inhaled all night long through the air passages, while the natural oils and fats are quickly absorbed through the pores reducing all inflammation. Then because Forkola is so pure you can take a small piece the size of a good sized pea and allow it to slowly melt in your mouth, its powerful healing ingredients will reach, heat and clear the throat of all dangerous germs, loosen up a dry, hoarse or tight phlegm in the throat, and the persistent loose cough and promote a healthy healing. Get a small jar from your druggist and begin the treatment to-night. It will work wonders by the morning. Every sufferer from Catarrh of the throat and nose in any form should try Famous Forkola, a trial. Your druggist or H. C. Kennedy can supply you.—Advertisement.
