NEWELL ALBRIGHT IS MUCH HONORED

Will Represent Distinguished English Piano Teacher in State of Penna.

Newell Albright has been distinguished by the great piano pedagogues, Tobias Matthay, of London, England, in being appointed by him as the accredited representative of his system of technique for this State. His appointment comes as the result of his success in the attainment of the "Method" after three years' effort, the last six months spent with Mr. Matthay as a specially privileged artist-teacher, and as such, given unusual opportunities to study and investigate the efficiency of the system not only in Mr. Matthay's pianoforte school in Wimpole street, but in the classes for demonstrative criticism in the Royal Academy of Music in London.

Mr. Matthay is considered as having said the last word for the acquisition of a complete scientific technique for piano playing, not only in England but on the continent as well. Occupying the same position as did Leschetizky, the greatest investigator of a "natural" system based on a thorough investigation of the principles of mechanical and muscular interaction with the resultant effect of the production of pianoforte effects. It is with Mr. Matthay's suggestion and approval that Newell Albright purposes giving a series of lectures explaining and illustrating the system and its results. The talks are to be given at Mr. Martin's residence in Riverside.

SPECIAL SUNSHINE MEETING HELD ON MONDAY AFTERNOON

MRS. DAUGHTERY IN TOWN

Mrs. John H. Daugherty, of Beaver, a former resident of Harrisburg and Steelton was in town for a day or two with her mother, Mrs. Patrick McNiff, on the way to Washington, D. C., to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her daughters the Misses Marie and Margaret Daugherty, students at Trinity college. James Daugherty who is in town for the winter accompanied his mother, and will return here to-morrow evening.

I have heard many women declare that buying gifts for their Christmas shopping, but I found it both easy and pleasant at the Douchitz Store for Men, 304 Market street. I saw the most beautiful gray mocha gloves, just the thing for some well-groomed man, while the remainder gloves, fur-lined, and the automobile gloves and mittens were of splendid gift for those who are out for a great deal. Then there are most attractive gift boxes containing six handkerchiefs for just 75c. Indeed gift suggestions are so plentiful that it is easy to choose, and there is such satisfaction in knowing that at this store any purchase may be returned for full credit, either before or after Christmas.

PENNY WISE

Are you ever tempted to buy foods at cut-rate groceries, in order to save a few cents? You know there is such a thing as being penny wise and pound foolish, and for the very slight difference in money it seems a pity to sacrifice so much in quality. A good grocer can protect his customers in so many different ways. For instance, the Ferndell products, sold exclusively by the Studebaker Store, (now owned by Mr. George Barnes) Second street at the crossing of State, are of the best on the market, though prices are no more than for the ordinary kind.

MANY PATTERNS IN FLAT SILVER

Whether it is a chest of silver for the bride, or a single piece of sterling for a gift, the Claster Jewelry Shop, 202 Market street, offers a noteworthy assortment. It was charged with the novelty and beauty of the patterns they show in flat silver, and one of the prettiest and most popular of these patterns is priced much lower than at any of the other shops, though the weight and quality is exactly the same. In fact I have been surprised many times to find that in spite of the high grade of everything shown at this store, prices are extremely reasonable in comparison with other shops. For Christmas giving nothing is more generally acceptable than a piece of table silver, and you will find most excellent values at this shop.

THE CHARM OF CHILDREN

The charm of children is their perfect freedom from artificiality and so often a photograph taken when a child is "dressed in Sunday clothes" and dragged more or less reluctantly to a studio, fails to bear any resemblance to the joyous kiddie in frocks, that the child is in the home. If you want a true likeness of your children for Christmas, just phone to the Roshon Studio, 8 N. Market Square, and ask about their home portrait work for pictures taken at home are often no more expensive than studio work, and results are usually far more satisfactory. There is really no gift that is more more joy, than the gift of a photograph of a dear one, Christmas is just the time to have it taken.

SMOKING CONVENIENCES

Does your husband have a habit of dropping ashes all over the floor? Perhaps if you bought him a convenient ash tray for Christmas you might correct his bad habits, and surely he would appreciate a smoking stand such as I saw at Cotterell's, 8 N. Market Square. It is a base of mahogany with brass appointments for the smoker, and is light enough to be conveniently carried about and placed at the side of a chair or table. This is only one of many gifts suggestions for men offered at Cotterell's.

Present Grieg Program at Sunday P. M. Musicales

These musicales were so popular last season that music lovers of the city are delighted they are to be continued.
