STATE C. OF C. IS WELL UNDER WAY

Representatives of 53 Organizations in 32 Cities Adopt Tentative Bylaws

Men from thirty-two cities in Pennsylvania representing fifty-three associations and organizations met here yesterday afternoon at the Harrisburg Club to organize a State Chamber of Commerce, adopting tentative by-laws and appoint a board of forty directors.

BOOSTERS STEWARD BOOSTS TANLAC

Wants Every Catarrh Sufferer to Know That It Relieved Him Quickly

"NOTHING LIKE IT" HE SAYS

"The Boosters Club was formed to boost our city" says Eugene Buccina, assistant steward of this progressive organization, "but I guess there won't be any kick coming if I do a little boosting on my own account for the greatest medicine ever sold in our town."

"I have suffered for many years with catarrh of the head and stomach and I was never able to find any medicine that would give me relief. I couldn't eat enough to keep a sparrow alive without suffering intensely afterwards, I had terrible headaches day in and day out and I never managed to get a good night's rest, for I would either be restless and roll and toss most of the night or else I would have horrible dreams that would wake me up with a start."

"I felt weak as a cat all the time and I hadn't enough ambition to fly a kite, I just sort of existed from day to day."

"I read about Tanlac in the papers but I see so much advertised that I don't often read the advertising, but when I saw where two or three people I knew of had been relieved of catarrh I sat up and took notice and the result was that I began using Tanlac myself."

"Well, believe me it's some great medicine. I'll boost Tanlac whenever I get a chance for it sure has fixed me up in great shape. I feel fine. I feel like a regular Booster and all thanks to Tanlac."

and set the time for the next meeting, when final ratification of the constitution with amendments, if any are made, will be acted upon.

A lengthy discussion resulted when the by-laws committee reported and asked for adoption of the by-laws as read, with the understanding that a copy should be sent to every organization in the State for consideration and criticism, together with all available information on the subject of State-wide organization.

The by-laws provide that the organization be known as the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce with permanent headquarters at Harrisburg. The aim and object of the Chamber will be the development of all civic, industrial, agricultural and commercial affairs, together with the co-operation in the advancement of plans for the welfare and prosperity of every one in the State.

The membership is to be divided into two classes, organization and individual. The former will pay membership fees ranging from $10 to $200 in a graduated scale according to income; the latter from $10 to $50 on the same basis. Organization members only will have the right to vote, but individual members have the right to the floor at any time at regular or special meetings. All other methods of conducting business and arranging the financial part of the organization were provided for in the by-laws.

All recommendations and amendments to the by-laws are to be considered at the next meeting at which time officers will probably be elected.

The by-laws committee which was continued, includes W. L. Clause, Pittsburgh, chairman; H. M. Stokes, of the Pennsylvania Breeders and Dairymen Association; George E. Will Sell Bandit's Gun to Pay Widow's Fare

St. Louis, Mo.—Anybody want a bandit's revolver? It caused a husband's death, but it may be the means of saving the life of his widow. That revolver is the only hope Mrs. John Elwood has of reaching her home in Omaha. She is out of money and sick and fears she will die if she has to stay away from her friends.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. I lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write me. Eugene M. Sullivan, Carpenter, 206C Marcellus avenue, Manassquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.
