

GRADE CROSSING PLAN IS BUMPED

Public Service Opposed to Any Restoration of Old Dangerous Conditions

The Public Service Commission to-day dismissed the complaint filed by 254 residents of districts near Catawauqua against the action of the Lehigh and New England railroad in changing high-ways, which they contended had been long in use and which were much used, in order to construct an extension.

Commission Adjourns.—The Public Service Commission adjourned yesterday until Monday. Men Want to Go Home.—The Public Service Commission in an opinion by Commissioner Ryan has dismissed the complaint of W. J. Reynolds and others of New Castle, against the rates of fare, car service and shelters of the Mahoning and Shenango and New Castle and Lowell Street Railways operating in Lawrence county and parts of Ohio.

Must Follow Rule.—Attention of architects and builders of structures to be used for theatrical or moving picture purposes is called to the great lack of uniformity in the proposals for such improvements submitted to the Department of Labor and Industry by a circular issued by the commissioner. A digest has been made from regulations made up by representatives of architects, proprietors of theaters, members of the State Building Code Commission, the State Fire Marshal and the Department of Labor and Industry. These regulations have been approved by the State Industrial Board and notice is given that they are to be adhered to.

Two Water Companies.—Charters for two new water companies were issued at the Capitol yesterday. They are the Alston and Upper Delaware Water Companies, to operate in townships of those names in Delaware county. The capital of each is $5,000.

Two Dissent.—Commissioners Ryan and Eilling have dissented from the decision of the Public Service Commission in the Allegheny Valley jitney case as far as refusal of a certificate to the applicant is concerned. They agree that a jitney is a common carrier.

O'Neil Goes Home.—Insurance Commissioner O'Neil went to his home last night following a conference with attorney General Brown on the insurance cases. He expects to make out strong cases.

Big Hearings Soon.—The Public Service Commission is arranging a series of big hearings for the next six weeks. Some of the cases will involve mergers and sales. Several electric cases are also to come up.

Local Approvals.—The Public Service Commission has approved the plans of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway for the improvements between this city and Palmyra. They have been pending for some time.

Big List Ahead.—The State Board of Pardons has a big list of cases on hand for the December meeting. From the looks of things the murder cases will take all day.

Discussing Wire Service.—The Business Men's Association of Lock Haven and the Western Union are engaged in an interchange of letters before the Public Service Commission in regard to telegraphic service to that city.

Excavators Here.—Excavators Hoke, of Franklin, and Thompson, of Beaver, were here yesterday.

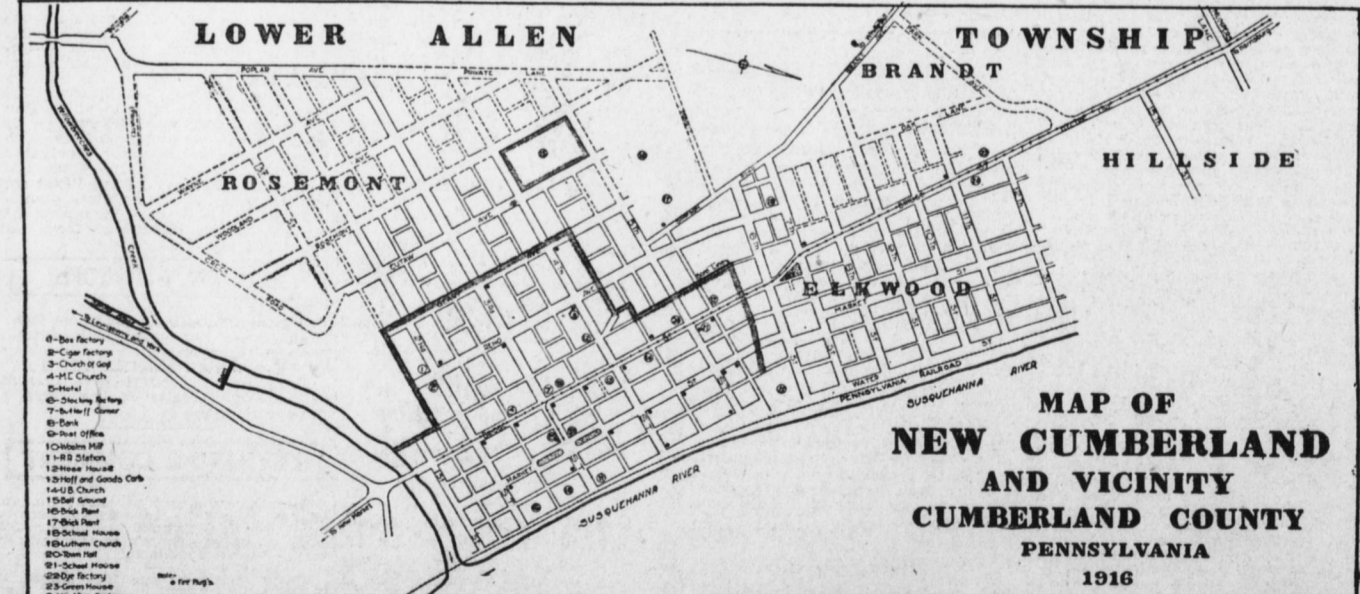

BALFOUR SLATED TO HEAD FOREIGN OFFICE

on apparently good authority, that Mr. Balfour is to go to the foreign office. It is well known. It would be nothing short of disastrous if the man who persistently adopted a policy leading to the weakening of our blockade and the consequent feeling of the Germans should again be placed in command.

Will Decide Irish Problem.—The Manchester Guardian says that the report that Premier Lloyd George will attempt an immediate solution of the Irish question by means of an imperial conference is not unlikely.

NEW CUMBERLAND PEOPLE PLAN ANNEXATION THAT WILL ADD LARGELY TO BOROUGH LIMITS

New Cumberland will be greatly enlarged and its population increased as a result of the proposed annexation, pictured in the foregoing map. The present borough line runs from the heavily scored line back to a point near the river on the plot marked 22, the way from the river back along the creek to Poplar avenue and on a line as it is now called, and thence down to the river. It takes in Rosemont, the ball ground, marked Plot 15, Brandt, Elkwood and much of Hillside.

Suffragists Heckle Liberals

A small party of suffragists lent variety to the arrival of the Liberals at the Reform Club to-day for a meeting of the Liberal party to decide its attitude toward the Lloyd George government. The women greeted the earlier arrivals with the cry "Another wait and see."

The suffragettes became more aggressive when Mr. Asquith drove up and, on being forced into the roadway by the police, they contended themselves with cries of "Traitor" and other abusive terms. Lord Haldane was greeted with "Kaiser Haldane."

When Viscount Grey arrived the suffragettes created such a disturbance that the police had to escort him into the club. All the prominent Liberals in the house of commons and the house of lords attended the meeting. The crowd with the exception of the women gave ex-Premier Asquith and his colleagues a hearty reception.

The Reform Club adopted a resolution expressing confidence in Mr. Asquith and also the determination of the organization to support the new government in whatever steps it may take to prosecute the war vigorously.

CONSIDER FORM OF PROSECUTIONS

situation was discussed at the meeting of the Cabinet.

Call Indictment Expert. Mr. Anderson, continuing his conferences with department heads, established headquarters here and called into conference Oliver E. Fagan, the indictment expert of the Department of Justice.

In Congress the House commerce committee decided to defer action on bills and resolutions relating to the subject until after the holidays. The Interstate Commerce Commission began preparation of information relating to its recent investigation of car shortage which will be available for use in the food inquiry. Officials believe there is close relation between the car shortage and price advances, not only with respect to coal but with foodstuffs as well.

Collusion Possibility. Reports to the Department of Justice are said to indicate the possibility of collusion among men having large influence in the movement of freight cars and speculators with a view to diverting cars from their normal channels and advancing the prices of products. It was said authoritatively that these reports did not involve the heads of the railroad companies under investigation.

ANOTHER NOTE TO GERMANY POSSIBLE

been going on the principle of deciding each case separately on its merits, it was said to-day that the number of cases had reached such proportions that some general action would be justified, although it was made clear that nothing had been determined upon. The day's developments in the situation were: The United States asked Great Britain for information to determine the status of the P. and O. liner Arabia which a German submarine commander took for an armed transport. Official information coming to the State Department establishes that the British ship Marina, torpedded with a loss of six Americans, was in no sense a transport and was entitled to the immunities of a peaceful merchantman.

In both cases Germany has expressed a willingness to offer amends if her pledges were broken.

U. S. Stands Firm

It was reiterated again to-day that the United States stands squarely on the position it took in the Sussex case. This, combined with Germany's statement that she too holds to the pledges she gave in that case leads officials to declare there seems to be some difference in interpretation.

A new note, if it should be decided to send one, would be to clear this up and make plain beyond question that the United States expects all merchant ships, under international law shall not be destroyed without warning or having crews and passengers removed to places of safety.
