COMMON LAW MARRIAGES CONDEMNED BY CHURCH

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 9.—The divorce courts, as busy as they are, reveal but a small proportion of the marital infelicity in this country, says the commission on family life, which reported at to-day's session of the quadrennial meeting of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. The report included statistics and discussions of many phases of the complex problems of marital relations.

"It is a striking fact," the commission says, "that in the majority of divorce cases dissolution of marriage has occurred, not hastily after a brief trial, but deliberately after a considerable period of marriage, the average exceeding six and one-half years. Common observation will show frequency of divorce among people who have been married twenty years or more."

"No legislation, however sagaciously framed, can ever effect a complete cure of marriages maladjustments, but such preventive measures as give promise of diminishing the evils which are now so abundant will commend themselves to thoughtful persons. The fact that in twenty-three states which are known as 'common law marriages,' in which a man and a woman take each other for husband and wife without the services of a civil officer or a clergyman, and frequently without any witnesses, are recognized as valid, calls for serious condemnation, and no reforms more needed than legislation declaring such unions to be null and void everywhere in the United States."

When we are seeking, therefore, remedies for the evils of our lax marriage and divorce practices our ultimate and most effective method will be found in such instruction as the churches may give to their adherents, supplemented by such work as the educational institutions of the country may be induced to undertake. This instruction will bear upon the ideals of marriage. It will teach that marriage is not contracted as a mere convenience and for prudential reasons, that it is not even primarily intended solely for the personal happiness of those who contract it, but that it is indispensable to the proper filling out of the life of human beings, that it is one of the most effective methods of developing character, and that the preservation of the integrity of marriage and of the family institution as a whole is the only process by which a truly divine order for society can be maintained.

"The girls' Bible class of the P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. met in the association rooms yesterday afternoon. Forty members attended. The subject was 'Mountain Peaks of Character.' The boys' class met in the evening with an attendance of 10 boys. The Rev. J. C. Forncrook will preach. The Rev. W. N. Yates, pastor of the fourth Street Church of God, is preparing to hold an evangelistic campaign in the church during the month of January. George Corer has been appointed musical director, to have charge of a chorus of over a hundred voices.

Miss Jessie Brewer, a Lutheran missionary in India, now on furlough, will speak at the morning services at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. The Rev. M. S. Sibers of the Redeemer will be in charge of the evening services. The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Messiah Lutheran Church held a bazaar and festival in the Minter Hall, 110 North Second street, to-day.

CANDLE LIGHT SERVICE PLANNED

Innovation at Messiah Lutheran Church Announces Rev. Hanson

Announcement was made yesterday by the Rev. Henry W. A. Hanson pastor of Messiah Lutheran Church that on Christmas Eve, in place of the regular order of evening service, there will be a "candle light service."

Upon the altar of the church and all of the windows candles will burn and radiate their Christmas message of honor to the Christ Child. The Christmas story will be the theme of the Rev. Mr. Hanson's sermon, which will be supplemented by Christmas congregational singing and by Christmas music by the choir.

Y. M. H. A. NOTES At the Young Men's Hebrew Association to-morrow morning children will be enrolled in the Sunday school at 10:30 o'clock. The classes will meet in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. An illness prevented the benefit ball for the association which was to have been held January 2. The benefit ball for the association will be held January 22.

Short Series of Advent Sermons at Pine Street

The Rev. Dr. Lewis S. Mudge, pastor of Pine Street Presbyterian Church, will preach to-morrow morning on "Home Maxims for Home Makers."

In the evening he will open a series of three Advent sermons. The subject for the first one is "The Home of Jesus." There will be two other sermons in this short series, as follows: December 17, "The Youth of Jesus;" December 24, "The Song of Jesus."

Sunday evening, December 24, in connection with the evening service, Frank A. McCarrell will present through a double quartet and chorus choir part I of Handel's "Messiah." A splendid rendition of this wonderful composition is assured.

The musical program at the services to-morrow will be: Morning—Prelude, Allegro Moderato (Sonata II), Gullmunt; anthem, "Sing and Rejoice," Halling; offertory, Prayer, Richmond; anthem, "Lead Us Gently Home," Briggs; postlude, Fantasia in C, Tours.

Evening—Organ selections at 7:20; Choral and Second Movement from the Gothic Suite, Boellman; Serenade, Braga Shelly, Anthem, "Our Day of Praise is Done," Demarest; offertory, Choral, Prelude, Pitzner; solo by Mrs. Cox, "I Will Lay Me Down in Peace," Dudley Buck; postlude, March in B Flat, Duncan.

On Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock the servants of the King will present a Christmas pageant at their monthly meeting. This is a missionary organization of "teen-age" girls who have been studying the young people of various lands and who will present something of their study in this pageant.

Wednesday evening the topic at the midweek service will be "The Practice of the Servants of the King" in the memorial building on Tuesday evening. A motion-picture exhibition will be held on Thursday evening.

At the communion service last Sunday morning forty-nine new members were welcomed. This makes the total active membership 1,470.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT One of the early musical events, heralding the Christmas season, will be the annual Christmas concert of the Musical Club of Camp Hill. This will be given on Tuesday evening, December 12, in Firemen's Hall, at 8:15 o'clock. The program includes choruses by the club and vocal and instrumental numbers by individual members. All classes of members will be admitted upon presentation of membership cards and a silver offering will be received at the door, from any others who may care to attend. Miss Flora Kurtenknebe will receive the annual dues.

Ordination Services at Market Square Church

Services for the ordination and the installation of elders will be held in the Market Square Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. The Rev. Dr. George Edward Hawes will preach on "The Eldership," after which the consecration to office will take place. As several of the elders elect have been previously ordained to the office of ruling elder, they will be installed as members of the Market Square session. Dr. Hawes will preach on "Use Common Sense About 'The Greatest Question'" at the evening service at 7:30.

At the monthly meeting of the officers and teachers of the Sunday school it was decided to ask the superintendent, Judge S. J. M. McCarrell, to conduct the review on the last Sunday of the year in the senior department. The whole department will be grouped in one large class for this lesson.

The work of the Christian Endeavor Society received a new impetus by the presentation of the efficiency chart by Miss Emily Edwards. John McCullough gave an address on the chart last Sunday evening. At the same time he presented the record of the members of the society for participation in the meetings during the past month.

The meeting will be led to-morrow evening by Gabriel McAllister. The five-minute prayer group will meet just before the regular meeting at 6:25 o'clock. The Woman's Home Missionary Society will meet on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock under the leadership of Mrs. E. C. Rauch for the study of the subject "The Mountaineers." Mrs. Charles Bergner and Mrs. S. F. Dunkle will be the readers.

The Lochiel Mothers' Meeting and the Boy Scouts will hold their regular sessions on Friday evening and the Sewing School on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock.
