

REES LLOYD TO LEAD TECH HIGH ELEVEN---NATIONAL MAGNATES IN SESSION

LLOYD CAPTAIN TECH HIGH TEAM

Unanimous Choice of Students; Member of Junior Class; Season Star

Rees M. "Ted" Lloyd will captain the Tech high school football eleven next Fall. Following the taking of the picture of the eighteen "T" men on the official photograph yesterday afternoon came the unanimous election of Tech's popular quarterback. He was unopposed.

Lloyd has seen two years of service with the Maroon team, and during his freshman year played with the Tech reserves. He is a product of the Woodward grammar school, where he was a star in athletics. In addition to being a football star, Lloyd is one of Coach Miller's promising candidates for the basketball five. He is also a member of the Tech track team, having made his "T" as a hurdler.

Tech Football Stars May Have Jacket or Watch Fob

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Tech Athletic Association held yesterday afternoon it was decided to give the thirteen graduating members of the football team the choice between a cardigan and a football fob. Members of the team who will remain in the school will be awarded the letter "T."

All substitutes of the first team who did not make the varsity will be given a "T. H. S." At the meeting were President Frank Gipple, Vice-President Joe Todd and Secretary Victor Snyder. Members of the faculty to be present included Dr. C. B. Fager, president-elect; Professors P. L. Grubb, J. F. Rees, J. C. Peet and G. W. Hill.

TOSS OF COIN TO DECIDE AWARD FOOTBALL TROPHY

Tie Game Between Central and Tech Leaves Ownership of Thanksgiving Souvenir Undecided

Who gets the Thanksgiving football? In past seasons to the victor went the spoils. This year the result was a scoreless tie. Central students claim the trophy because of superior work. On the other hand, Tech has an army of backers who think the souvenir belongs to the junior high school because Central failed to repeat with an annual victory.

Now a toss of the coin will decide this momentous question. Should Captain Harris be a good guesser, Tech will be given the pie-skin, while if Captain Hill calls the flip of the coin, the trophy will be awarded to Central. Captains "Eddie" will meet this week. One thing is sure. "Eddie" will get the football for his school, which "Eddie" that happens to be, will be known later.

Penn State Varsity Men Receive Football Letters

State College, Pa., Dec. 13.—Fifteen football men at Penn State were awarded their varsity football letters for playing the required time in either the Pennsylvania or Pittsburgh games. The football executive committee recommended "S's" for the following: Captain Clark, Beck, Robb, Hess, Parish, Jones, Ewing, Higgins, Swain, Conover, Krushank, Cabbage, Czarniecki, O'Donnell and Manager Hoffman. By special vote letters were given to Morris and Eggers, both ends, who were kept on the side lines because of injuries the latter, half of the season. Bob Edgerton, a back, and Joe Oberle, a lineman, both of whom will be graduated this year, were voted their insignia for faithful service on the scrubs for four years.

The minor sports insignia, "S2", was awarded to Robinson, Wilson, Tavernier, Thorpe, Bort, Ehlers, Kraft, R. Clarke, Pond and Unger. Of the twenty-nine players honored by the football executive committee all but four are residents of Pennsylvania.

Hughie Likes Young Ehmke; Expects Record Season

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 13.—Hugh Jennings has high hopes for the 1917 season and looks for the Tigers to fight it all the way to a pennant. Detroit is hungry for the flag and Jennings wants to drive his men to the front. Two newcomers are expected to add strength to the club, Third Sacker Jones and Pitcher Couch, from the Coast. But the recruit hurler that looks best to both Jennings and President Navin is Howard Ehmke, purchased from the Syracuse club, New York State League. Ehmke showed his worth with the Tigers in the crucial series against the Red Sox at the close of the season. He is expected to take his regular turn next season.

MINOR LEAGUE SERIES

New York, Dec. 12.—The International League ratified the proposition for an interleague post-series of 48 games next season with the American Association. The series was arranged by President Edward G. Barrows, of the International League, and Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American Association. According to the terms of the agreement between the two leagues $10,000 will be awarded to the league winning the greatest number of games and divided among the players of the eight clubs in that league, irrespective of the number of games won by each. The purse will be raised by the subscription of $25 from each team in both leagues.

HUMMELSTOWN TEAM ELECTS

At the annual meeting last night of the Hummelstown football team George Horner was re-elected captain. Lawrence Wolf will be the manager for next season. Letters were awarded to S. Horner, H. Miller, Wolfe, Eckenroth, Boyer, Cassell, C. Horner, Leimbach, Reigle, Blackburn, Waver and Shope.

ONLY ONE TRADE FOR NATIONALS

Abolish Disability List at Annual Meeting; No Increase For Player Limit

New York, Dec. 13.—Trades were few at yesterday's meeting of National League magnates. The only certain transaction was the choice of Fred Mitchell to lead the Cubs. Mitchell admitted that the finger of rumor was right when it pointed to him as the next Cub tactician. He said that the thing was all settled except the agreement between the Boston and Chicago clubs, by which his services were to be transferred halfway across the United States map. The weary magnates cast aside care and dined in a banquet to President Ebbets, of the Brooklyn club last night. The magnates convened at 3 and remained closeted until after 6 o'clock. Previous to the league meeting the board of directors held sway. Committee reports and the hearing of two delegations consumed the bulk of the session. The main bits of legislation accomplished were the abolition of the "disability list" and the increase of the player limit from 21 to 22, together with a lengthening of the early season try-out period during which the clubs select their regular players for the season. Last Spring's bad weather, making the early weeks almost useless for try-out purposes, brought about the change.

Must Reduce Limit

Managers next season will have until May 15, instead of May 1, to revise their list to the statutory 22. Previous to that date, an August 31, each club may carry as many as 35 players. The New York Club wanted the limit raised from 21 to 25, but when it came to a vote, the Chicago club's ballot was the only one that sided with the Giants' proposition. A two-thirds vote was necessary for adoption of the motion for 22, following immediately, went through unanimously. Abuses of the disability list last season, especially by the Boston club, caused the change. At times last season, it was asserted, there were as many as 28 players on the Boston bench in midsummer, seven of them take fielding practice, batting practice and make noises derogatory to the umpires and opposing players. The board of directors at its meeting awarded the pennant to Brooklyn. They mentioned nothing about the suggested scoring of an "assist" to the Giants. In fact, the "McGraw incident" was talked about only in the corridors. No magnate would admit that he even thought of it while the meeting was in progress.

TAKE UP TENNER PLANS

New York, Dec. 13.—When the magnates of the National League entered the second day of their annual deliberations here today one of the topics was the change of the league's series rules advocated by President Tener in his annual report. Mr. Tener favors setting aside a part of the players' percentage for distribution among the players of other clubs not participating in the series. These shares are to be apportioned, according to the suggestion, on the relative standing of the clubs in their respective pennant races. Among other propositions to be considered is a measure which would prevent any club selling or trading a player after August 1 unless every club in the league had granted waivers on him. It is expected that it will be adopted as a league rule.

CLEGG IS STILL CHAMPION

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 13.—William H. Clegg, holder of the Harraridge Sportmen's Cup, emblematic of the livebird championship of Pennsylvania yesterday successfully defended his due in a change match with Charles Eilber over the Fox and In's Gun Club traps. The final score was: Clegg, 24; Eilber, 23. Clegg gave a wonderful exhibition of marksmanship with the double-barreled scatter shotgun. He granted 24 straight, missing a straight score by losing his last bird. Eilber's failure to land his birds in the seventh and twentieth shots proved his undoing.

Manager Chic Hartman Builds Hopes on Barnhardt

Binghamton, N. Y., Dec. 13.—If "Barney" Barnhardt does not prove to be one of the State League twirling sensations of 1917, Manager Chic Hartman will be disappointed. Chic is counting on Barnhardt to repeat his winning record of early in 1916 and to continue his victorious march through the entire period of play. The long, lean, angular Pennsylvania boy was nothing less than a Bruin for John C. Calhoun and really kept the Bing team out in front with plenty to spare for many weeks. Toward the close of the season's mulling the "side-arm" flippist became as careless as other Bings, but his work was always clean-cut and uniformly good. Hartman has several surprises for fandom. He is out to show results from the start, even though several untried ones are on the roster. Murphy, Konnick, Irving and Joe Pepe are E. and J. employes and expected to have a good winter. Pepe should be the State League's most accomplished shortstopper next season, while Murphy, Konnick and Irving are always good and ready to get into the going at short notice. Konnick expects to be first string catcher for Mike O'Neill's Syracuse team next season. John C. Calhoun has said next a word about his 1917 Barons.

Three Deacons to Be Raised to Priesthood

Mechanicsburg, Pa., Dec. 13.—This week special services will be held in St. Luke's Episcopal Church. On Thursday evening, an illustrated missionary address will be given by the Rev. Leroy F. Baker, general missionary of the Episcopal church. On Friday morning at 10 o'clock ordination services will be conducted by Bishop James H. Darlington, of Harrisburg. It will be the first service of this character here in a long time. The ordinands are three deacons who will be raised to the priesthood. They are the Rev. Edward S. Barlow, in charge of St. Luke's church here, and St. Andrew's at Shippensburg, who will be presented by the Rev. Leroy F. Baker, of Selinsgrove; the Rev. Herbert Connop, associate at St. Luke's church at Newtown, Bucks county, who will be presented by his rector, the Rev. William C. Emhardt, and the Rev. Robert B. Galt, assistant at St. James' church, Lancaster, who will be presented by his rector, the Rev. Clifford G. Twombly. The Rev. Mr. Emhardt will preach the sermon. The Rev. Mr. Baker will conduct a quiet hour in St. Luke's church immediately preceding the ordination service.

ADVICE TO COAL USERS

There are many reasons advanced for the shortage of coal. The most important thing of all to know is that there is enough coal to fill present orders.

The future supply is a question. As Winter is upon us surely no wise home-keeper is going to delay much longer the purchase of fuel for the weeks and weeks of cold weather ahead of us.

Our advice is—buy all the coal you need at once—don't delay longer.

WELLY'S CORNER

The coming of the Yale basketball five to Harrisburg promises a rare attraction. The date is Friday, January 5. The game will be played at Chestnut Street Auditorium. Members of the Yale alumni in Harrisburg are already busy for this game. Crowds will attend from York, Lancaster, Lebanon and points in the Cumberland Valley. The opposing team will be players who have won honors at Yale and other colleges.

If Georges Carpentier comes to this country for a series of boxing matches, a furlough of four months will be necessary. In order to make his trip profitable more than one engagement is necessary. Miss Anne Morgan, Miss Elsie DeWolfe and Ambassador Jusserand are back of the efforts to get the furlough.

Manager William R. Winn, of the Methodist Club, has a hard schedule this season. The dates he gives to the public to-day show that he will meet the best teams in the state. A majority of victories will bring to the local five championship honors.

Ban Johnson does not like the scheme of Edward G. Barrow for a post-season series. This sounds queer. Everybody in baseball has always been of the opinion that Johnson and Barrow worked together. He is also sore

The DeNeri franchise of the Eastern Basketball League has been transferred to Allentown. William H. Meyers is the new manager. The games will start early next month. Contests on the December schedule will be played at Camden and other places.

Syracuse offers Cornell $10,000 for a football game next season. Football relations between these institutions have been strained since 1900.

According to present reports, the Carlisle Indians will get a place on the Harvard schedule next season. The good work of this season's eleven indicates that the Indians are coming back as an attraction and there are some strong bids for next season.
