WANN PLEAD FOR JEFFERSON BOYS

Board of Pardons to Hear Appeals For Rehearings of Doomed Youths

Few sessions of the State Board of Pardons since the days of the Mason and Pennington cases have attracted the attention which is being bestowed upon the meeting of the board scheduled for to-morrow when the appeals for rehearings for the two Jefferson county youths sentenced to death will be heard. The boys were refused recommendation for mercy after extensive arguments.

An unusual number of letters and appeals for mercy are being received at the Capitol since the office of the board but those of the Governor and members of the board being addressed. Governor Brumbaugh has reiterated his well known position on capital punishment and said last evening that he would have no opposition to its abolition.

In Luzerne county the bill, vetoed some years ago, to give judges the right to set punishment at death or life imprisonment, is being revived and Representative David W. Thomas will present it.

Meet in Pittsburgh.—The State Compensation Board will meet in Pittsburgh on Thursday for one day's hearings. The suggestion that the board be split into the Department of Labor and Industry is not arousing much support here.

Named Inspector.—Ernest W. Lott, of Springdale, Susquehanna county, was named as special inspector by Commissioner Jackson last night. He will specialize in quarries.

To Get Check.—The Uniontown hospital will get its appropriation check. It has complied with State requirements in regard to laboratories.

Coming on Crutches.—Norman A. Whitten, one of the senators-elect, is ill at his home in Allegheny county. He expects to come here on crutches.

Commission Meets.—The State Water Supply commission was in session to-day acting on a number of applications.

Justice Named.—John T. Coleman, of Tuscarora, was to-day appointed justice of the peace of Schuylkill township, Schuylkill county. Objections Withdrawn.—Objections to the proposed merger of various Pennsylvania lines west into the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railroad company were withdrawn before the Public Service Commission to-day. The matter will be taken up in executive session to-morrow.

Ruling on Names.—In an opinion given to Secretary of the Commonwealth Woods, Attorney General Brown decides questions of similarity of names of corporations in applying for charters. It was contended by one company that the use of its name in addition of an adjective would tend to confuse the public. The attorney general says the secretary would be justified in refusing a charter.

COUNCIL IN ROW OVER WATER FUND

sum appropriated from the water surplus that is equal to a full mill. Incidentally this will also mean that the appropriation ordinance for 1917 cannot carry more than $599,000—the same amount as 1916. Consequently no more improvements, extensions, etc., beyond what had been done during the year just closing, can be planned for in the coming twelve months.

Howman as Bowman.—In offering his ordinance Mr. Bowman reiterated his previous statement of efforts on his own part to obtain the use of the water earnings to reduce the millage but had decided upon advice of City Solicitor D. S. Seitz.

Incidentally he pointed out how he had twice reduced the rates and said that he has been a good "housekeeper" of the departmental funds. Furthermore, he said, he believed in using the surplus toward a fund to eventually build a new reservoir. He doesn't like the plan of Council, however, to "throw the water earnings" into the city general fund to be used as a "grab bag" for scarcely resumed his election as an officer of the union held here, where: C. H. Steel, Muhlenberg, president; A. H. Pierce, Swarthmore, vice-president, and P. A. Mueller, of Franklin and Marshall, treasurer. The twenty-fifth annual State inter-collegiate oratorical contest will be held next March at Gettysburg.

Other officers of the State association elected at a recent meeting of the union held here, were: C. H. Steel, Muhlenberg, president; A. H. Pierce, Swarthmore, vice-president, and P. A. Mueller, of Franklin and Marshall, treasurer.

For weeks the question of annexation has been threshed out at length and a week ago Charles L. Smith and Thomas F. Bowman, the two candidates for the office of mayor, presented the petitioners, intimating that Riverside folks, wearying of the parleying and the delay, preferred to withdraw their names.

Council postponed action until to-day, however, and on motion of Mr. Gross, superintendent of parks, the request for withdrawal was granted.

Riverside, according to Mr. Burns, will not make further effort to come into the city, but will now take steps to seek incorporation as a borough.

In suggesting that the withdrawal be permitted Commissioner Gross said it has unfortunately been discovered that the cost of putting down new sewer connections, providing for proper water lines, electric light, paving and other facilities would be such as to make it unsatisfactory for the city at this time.

Council passed finally to-day the ordinance prohibiting the parking of automobiles and other vehicles in Fourth street between Market and Chestnut streets, upon penalty of $5. Fifteen and $25 for first, second and each subsequent offense.

Action on the police salary raiser ordinance and on the measure providing for thirty additional policemen was laid over until after the budget makers get together.

The budgeters will meet again to-night and the chances are that there will be meetings every evening until the ordinance is completed. At an evening's meeting a committee from the Harrisburg hospital consisting of John Fox Weiss, Ross A. Hickok and William M. Condon, superintendent of the institution, asked Council for $3,000 appropriation for a hospital motor ambulance. Mayor Meals promptly tendered a private description of $50.

OVER-CROWDING CAUSES CRIME

of over-crowded quarters and bad housing conditions. The Law and Order League has taken this step both for the good of the city and because it believes crime is engendered and encouraged where too many families occupy the same house.

"Put a half-dozen or a dozen families in rooms made for one or two families and you invite disorder," said Dr. Crampton. "So long as the conditions of which we have complained to the Mayor to-day continue there will be crime of all kinds among the people who are the victims. I am not defending anybody, but I submit it as a general and a reasonable proposition that even the most peaceably inclined people might not conduct themselves in a precisely exemplary manner if penned up together as some of the folks are in the tenement houses of which we complain."

Riverside's Hope of Annexation Is Blasted by Council

Riverside, the hustling little suburb to the north of Harrisburg, to-day formally withdrew its petition for annexation to the city.

For weeks the question of annexation has been threshed out at length and a week ago Charles L. Smith and Thomas F. Bowman, the two candidates for the office of mayor, presented the petitioners, intimating that Riverside folks, wearying of the parleying and the delay, preferred to withdraw their names.
