Books of Fiction For Gift Giving

The Year's Best Book Included in the List

There are many notably good books that very reader of fiction will enjoy reading, but the one book which stands out as the finest of the whole year is—

- Mr. Britling Sees It Through
By H. G. Wells, author of "The War of the Worlds," etc. This is a story of profound interest which shows what the world war means to those who are in the midst of it. It gives an analysis of Life in Matching Easys, an Essex country village, in which is typified the old England. A good evening or two will be found in each of these, also— $1.50
- The Sailor
By J. C. Snaith, author of "Anne Feversham," etc. Illustrated. A romance of the growth and struggles of a boy from squalor and ignorance to education and fame through his association with the sea. A novel of the building of a man's character. $1.40
- The Real Adventure
By Henry Kitchell Webster. In "The Real Adventure," Henry Kitchell Webster has written a big, broad, human story, marked by careful writing, close observation, shrewd reality, characters from almost every class of society, a theme that means something intensely to us all. $1.50
- Somewhere in Red Gap
By Harry Leon Wilson, author of "Ruggles of Red Gap." Illustrated. The stories all revolve about the Arrowhead Ranch, and "the mixer" is the same old "war horse"—delectable combination of tender-hearted woman half-fellow-well met. $1.35
- The Woman Gives
By Owen Johnson, author of "The Salamander." Women are the givers of this world, and men take their love, devotion and beauty with carelessness. So Inga Sondersson, subtly gifted, beautiful, having much to give, gives much and counts not the cost so long as she gains her object—the regeneration of a man. $1.40
- The Girl Philippa
By Robert W. Chambers, author of "Lorraine," "The Fighting Chance," etc. Yesterday the Girl Philippa was but a cashier in a quiet little cafe in Northern France. To-day she is the center of a whirlwind of exciting events, so quickly do things happen at the opening of the great European war. $1.40
- The Magnificent Adventure
By Emerson Hough, author of "The Mississippi Bubble," etc. Mr. Hough has chosen for his background the dramatic period of American history when Napoleon sold to the United States the vast region west of the Mississippi, known as the Louisiana Purchase. $1.35
Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart—Street Floor.
