OPEN HOUSE AT Y. M. C. A. JAN. 1

Association Building to Be Thrown Open to Boys

A unique entertainment is being arranged for New Year's Day at the Young Men's Christian Association, Second and Locust streets, the occa-sion of the sixty-second annual New Year's celebration. Open house will be observed from 11 in the morning to 5 p, m. and the public is cordially invited to visit the association building

The physical director, C. W. Miller, who is spending Christmas at his for-mer home in Sharon, Pa., has arranged for a special gymnasium exhibition to be given during the afternoon by Julius Morrell, a finished gymnast who received his training in Germany. Mr. Morrell, who, with Frank G. Roth, will have charge of the gymnasium during the physical director's absence, will do his famous skating dance, original with himself, which has never before been shown in Harrisburg. In addition there will be special exhibitions every hour during the day.

One hour in the afternoon will be devoted exclusively to the boys of the city. A general invitation will be issued and the boys are urged to make the gymnasium their playground at that particular time.

In the evening C. Arthur Dulton, of New York, the well-known magician, will entertain the members and their friends in Fahnestock Hall. A large attendance is expected. ranged for a special gymnasium ex-

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Money as a Gift

To the Editor of the Telegraph:

It is time to turn our thoughts to the annual Christmas gift puzzle. What does the coming of Christmas mean to us? Do we greet the approach of what shod be the occasion of unclouded the common of the property of the common of the property of the troublesome and by the common of the property ourselves. One and all we herald also advent with sighs and misgivings, agree with resentment, at the looming spectre of the troublesome and perplexing problem of selecting gifts to be bestowed upon people whose wants we do not know and whose needs we cannot ascertain. If so many of us do not do our Christmas shopping early, but defer it until the last moment, it is mainly for the reason that we do not know and esperation with the haph again and ill-advised purchase of a miscellaneous assortment of articles which in the majority of cases will prove to be to the recipients nothing but disappointing pieces of useless junk. There is no pleasure either in the giving or receiving of such gifts. To the donor they are nothing but a vexatious bother; to the recipient they are nothing but a vexatious bother; to the recipient by the such as the such as a soft of the proposed on their futile selection by the such as the such as a soft of the proposed on the such as a soft of the proposed on the such as a soft of the proposed on the such as a soft of the proposed on the such as a soft of the proposed on the such as a soft of money with which they may purchase what they really want and would enjoy, some little luxury, some special thing which they very much desire, but the expenditure for which they have reduced and they are proposed the proposed on the recipient of the proposed on the such as a sift of money with which they may purchase what they really want and would enjoy, some little luxury, some special thing which they very much desire, but these received will be regarded as a second of the proposed of t enjoy, some little luxury, some special thing which they very much desire, but the expenditure for which they have not felt justified in making out of their ordinary income or resources? Money thus received will be regarded as a special fund, given with the very object the set things which it is a special fund, given with the very object these things which it is given would be happy to have but which he otherwise would be unable to obtain. Such a gift has the double advantage of keeping the giver's heart free from the rancor which the necessity of performing an unwelcome 'ask with little prospect of a satisfactory result must invariably produce, and of giving the recipient the true happiness with the recipient the true happiness of course, ways and ways of giving, but there is no reason why money cannot be presented in so gracious and acceptable a way that none of the senticeptable a way that none of the sent ment of the gift is lost. Too Much Liquor Causes Demolition of Station

Atlanta, Dec. 22.—The State Railroad Commission to-day granted a petition of citizens of Moye, Ga., concurred in by the Georgia, Alabama and Florida Railroad and the Southern Express Company that the railroad station at Moye be abolished. The plea was made that persons from as far as fifteen miles around Moye had liquor shipped to them at Moye from outside the State and that the shipments and drinking in the town had grown to such proportion as to become a "menace to safety and to morals." Moye is a South Georgia town of a few hundred inLabitants.

62 Families of 11 Children Each

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 22.—Apartment houses may not be the best places in which to rear children but Chicago's stork doesn't sniff at them—not on your iron-bound statistics, which show that 6,144 families Lere have seven or more children.

School census figures just made public show sixty-two families with eleven children or more. The largest family is of fifteen children from six months to seventeen years old, including a pair of twins.
