ARRANGE WORK OF THE COMMONWEAL

Holiday Events Followed by Lectures, Socials and Other Interesting Events

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Commonwealth Club of the Y. W. C. A., held Monday evening, December 18, at 6.45, a resolution was passed donating a sum of money to provide woolen gloves for the children in the Nursery Home of Harrisburg who attend the public schools. Arrangements were also made for giving the girls of that home a treat on New Year's afternoon, it being understood that the Rotary Club was planning for the entertainment of the boys on that day.

Preliminary arrangements were made for a dinner to the members of the club and their friends on January 8, the next regular meeting night, at the Y. W. C. A., followed by a lecture by Emerson Collins, in person, general of the State. Tickets for the dinner will be on sale shortly after Christmas.

Miss Ceila Hinkley and Miss Dolores Segelbaum were appointed on the social service committee of the Commonwealth Club in place of Miss Wynne Cassel and Miss Daisy Kuhns, who had resigned.

Social Service Work

An extended program of work is being carried out by the social service committee. A gymnasium is conducted every Saturday evening at the Children's Industrial Home by Miss Elizabeth Killinger and Miss Pearl Yahn. On the first and third Saturday afternoons of the month, a member of the Commonwealth Club conducts a "Story Telling Hour" for the children in this Home. Miss Frances Acuff and Miss Alice Custer volunteered their services for the afternoons in December. If possible, the same arrangements will obtain in the Nursery Home on the second and fourth Saturday afternoons of the month.

On January 22 and 23, 1917, Dr. Thornton B. Penfield, of Englewood, N. J., business manager of the Conference on Christian Work in Latin America, which met in Panama, Panama, February, 1916, will lecture on South America, under the auspices of the Commonwealth Club, in the John Y. Boylston hall of the Y. W. C. A., January 22, 7.45 p. m., "South American—Her Land and Her People"; January 23, at 3 p. m., "The Womanhood of South America"; at 7.45 p. m., "South American—Her Problems and Her Promise" (illustrated). Dr. Penfield made a complete tour of South America after the conference had adjourned and studied at close range the many perplexing problems that confront the worker in this land of wonderful opportunity. A cordial invitation is extended to the people of Harrisburg to hear these lectures free of charge. The mission study classes of the various churches will be especially welcome.

Other Fine Lectures

The Commonwealth Club has prepared an interesting program of lectures for the balance of the year and has included in the list of lecturers, Thomas Lynch, Montgomery State librarian; Miss Helen Glenn, supervisor of the Mothers' Assistance Fund; R. Pray, of the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania; Dr. Martin C. Exley, of Harrisburg, and other prominent people.

Pegg Alerts Christmas Chat

An electrical device is the sort of practical and useful luxury which is just the thing for Christmas giving, and when you see the novel and useful gifts offered by the Electrical Supply Co., 24 S. Second street you will find just the most appropriate gift for every one of your friends.

For instance, they offer a flat electric heating device which is often used to warm a bathroom to a cozy temperature early in the morning, and would make a most acceptable gift for those who need a little extra heat for any room, and this is but one of many new and interesting electric offerings shown at this shop.

CHRISTMAS FLOWERS

When you select your Christmas flowers, you will find much to interest and delight you at the Berryhill Shop, Second street at Locust, for their charming arrangements of cut flowers, either in corsage bouquets or for the decoration of homes or Christmas dinner tables, are distinctively artistic. This shop is fairly blooming now with Christmas flowers and greens, — holly, mistletoe, laurel, smilax, &c., and the lovely baskets planted with Christmas greens make delightful gifts that will bring Christmas cheer for many weeks, while Christmas trees, boxed for garden and porch decoration as well as for practical use at Yuletide, are a very practical suggestion.

SLIPPERS FOR STOCKINGS

Santa Claus can buy bedroom slippers to put in everybody's Christmas stockings, at the Walk-Over Boot Shop, 226 Market street, for a big and varied assortment is offered at most reasonable prices. These are clever slippers which fold neatly into a silk case to match for the woman who travels, lovely creations of silk in delicate pink for the debutante, comfortable Indian headed or fringed moccasins for the boarding school girl, and warm felt slippers priced from $1.75 up for aunts, grandmothers or any of the young folks, while a fine assortment of bedroom and house slippers for men in comfortable soft leathers are also shown.

CHRISTMAS RECORDS

A few favorite songs, some delightful instrumental selections or one or two fine old Christmas carols, — what better gift than to bring the joy of such music to a friend at Christmas and whatever your talents — or lack of them — you can give the wonderful gift of music to your friends by buying Christmas records for the talking machine. In spite of the enormous rush at the J. H. Troup Music House, 15 S. Market Square, they are able to give prompt and courteous service to those who wish records for Christmas and their numerous, comfortable, sound-proof rooms make it pleasant to select records there.

GIFTS OF JEWELRY

We all know that it is easy to select gifts in a jewelry shop, where everything is so alluring, but we usually find that it is hard to find money enough to pay for the alluring trifles. The H. C. Claster Jewelry Shop, 302 Market street is a pleasant surprise in this respect, for their wonderful assortments of gifts are marked at the most tempting prices. There are guaranteed watches for $6.50, wrist watches for $12.50, diamond rings for $25.00, pretty pieces of cut glass from $1.00 up, and scores of clever little trinkets, such as lingerie clasps, vanity boxes, scent balls, sterling silver knives, little cigar cutters, etc. — priced at 50c and $1.00 which make most acceptable gifts.

AN EXTRA SELECTION

Discouraged because everything you meant to buy for Christmas giving is "sold out"? It is a relief to go into Astrich's, Fourth and Market streets and shop for some of the useful gifts which are always kept in stock though just now an extra selection is afforded to shoppers in such offerings as taffeta petticoats in newest styles and colorings, sweaters, dainty waists and blouses in white, flesh and all the new shades, and prices range from 98c and $1.38 up to $10.00. For the more valuable gifts they offer a wonderful assortment of furs, specially priced for Christmas selling, while a line of attractive bathrobes for women at $2.98, $3.98 and $4.98 is a Christmas feature at this store.

THE CHILDREN AT XMAS

Whoever you may have forgotten for Christmas, don't let it be the children, for Christmas was made for them, and when you see, at Cotterel's, 9 N. Market Square, all the Christmas gifts that are made for children you will wish you were Peter Pan and never had to "grow up." There are fascinating paper dolls that move their arms and legs, wonderful sets of pictures with crayons to color them, a novel box of colored sticks of putty for moulding, delightful books that teach children how to sew, to cook and to make a garden — and make them love to learn — and the beauty of all these play things is that they are as helpful to a child's mentality as they are a joy to his sense of play.

LAST MINUTE GIFTS

Gifts bought in a hurry rarely express much thought, yet you will find at the Woman's Exchange, Third street at Herr, last-minute gifts, which express much thoughtfulness, for they are useful, little novelties that seem just made for some particular friend of yours, and each is boxed and wrapped with a clever gift card all ready to send with the least possible worry on the part of the buyer, yet the charm of daintiness, suitability and good-will makes these most welcome to the recipient. One of the interesting little novelties is a box of crystals to make the wood fire burn brighter and more gaily, and this very home-like gift sells for just 25c, while 25c, 35c, and 50c will buy any one of a number of equally clever gifts.

IN AND OUT AT A BUSY STORE

In they come; — new buyers every day. And out they go, — new shipments on the way.

Have you guessed what I mean? — why those beautiful velour hats at the Boutrich Store for Men, 304 Market street. You may have noticed them in the windows of this store, — the same sort of hats that you so worn by well-groomed men and admired by women, too, and they are so good-looking and desirable that they have been immensely popular for Christmas giving as well as for Christmas wearing. They come in a splendid quality of velour, making a hat of unusual style and distinction.

CHRISTMAS EVE CANDLES

On Christmas Eve, when the house is still give welcome to the Christmas Visitor, — as the old legend says and burn a tall Christmas candle in every window. You will find a splendid assortment of these at the Studebaker Grocery Store, (now owned by Mr. George Barnes) Second street at the crossing of State, in all sizes and colors. Many people like to have a candle in each room to match the color scheme and at the Studebaker Store, you may find every desirable shade as well as novel and effective Christmas designs in red and green colorings, and the new black and white candles which look so pretty in the windows.

FREE STORY HOUR TO THE CHILDREN

Program of Stories and Carols by Members of Story Telling League Saturday Afternoon

To-morrow will be "kiddies" day at Technical high school. From all parts of the city children will come at 2.15 o'clock to hear the stories that the members of the story league have to tell them. And they will be glad, too, for the stories are the prettiest that the story tellers could find any place and Miss Conkling, whom all the children know and love, will be there to play for them the beautiful old carols and lead them in the singing of those they love best.

Mrs. Harry G. Keffer, the president of the league, known throughout the city as "the story lady," has spared no effort in making this meeting one of the best the league has ever held. It has been arranged entirely for the pleasure of the school children of Harrisburg, who will be welcomed by a special committee appointed by Mrs. Keffer. It is not necessary for the children to be chaperoned, as the members of the league will look after their comfort during the afternoon, though a special invitation is extended to their parents and friends who may wish to accompany them, as well as to members of the School Board, the teachers of the city and all others interested in this old-new art of story telling. The program for the afternoon will be: "Joy to the World," sung by the children; "The Beautiful Old Carols and Lead them in the singing of those they love best," told by Mrs. George Matern; "The First Christmas Tree," told by Miss Mary Snyder; "On Santa Claus," told by Miss Clare Bashore; "The Rolly Polly Man," told by Mrs. Charles J. Wood; "The Worker in Sandewood," told by Professor J. J. Brehm; "The Child Who Saw Santa Claus," told by Mrs. Edna Groff Deil; "The Christmas Angel," told by Mrs. Keffer; "We Three Kings," sung by the children; "O Little Town of Bethlehem," sung by the children.

Guests of Miss Carter at Little Sewing Party

Guests of Miss Lucille Carter, State street, had a merry time last evening at her home at a little sewing party. The last stitches in many Christmas gifts were taken and after refreshments the girls made fudge and other Christmas candies to go with a large array of toys and gifts for some of the needy families of the city. These presents will be placed in chip baskets and taken about by a real Santa Claus with good wishes for a happy holiday time.

George H. Goetz, a son of Professor and Mrs. S. Herman Goetz, 921 North Second street, is home from Dickinson College, for the Christmas vacation.

MISS GUTELIUS FALLS

Miss Ellen Gutelius who is in the Harrisburg Hospital with a fractured hip caused by a fall in her rooms in Chestnut street, has a host of friends throughout the city who are planning to make her Christmas as happy as possible. Cards, flowers and gifts will be showered on her.
