Darcy, who is accompanied by G. J. O'Sullivan as manager and trainer, reported that he was ready to box any opponent selected to meet him after a period of training.

He stated that he had kept in moderately good condition by working aboard ship. The Australian middleweight left New Castle, Australia, as a stowaway late in October, without saying any farewells and his disappearance caused much wonder in Australian sporting circles. He traveled under the name of Dawson.

Closing of Food Shops Reported to Have Caused Big Riots in Dresden

London, Dec. 23.—A Rotterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that there were food riots in Dresden on December 17, 18 and 19, especially on the 19th, when troops were called to help the police in suppressing the trouble, which arose from the closing of several food shops on Sunday because they were without stocks.

The dispatch says the women stoned the shops on Sunday and then marched through the streets, but the police did not interfere. There was another parade on Monday, when the paraders passed the king's palace shouting for food. Several women are said to have been arrested for using insulting language about the king. The disturbances were renewed on Tuesday, when a sharp fight occurred in which 100 women and three policemen are reported to have been involved. The soldiers then charged the crowds and cleared the streets.

Promise Mail Line to Germany by U-Boats

Amsterdam, via London, Dec. 22.—The news service from Berlin to-day contains a statement that ordinary mail to the United States can shortly be forwarded by commercial submarines. Mail to other neutral countries can also be sent, the statement says, by this route.

The story of "Marriage a la Carte" is a satire upon matrimony, nothing more nor less. It re-creates "Marriage a la Carte" at the Victoria Hotel, played in all its absurdity and baseness, although it does not overlook the humorous side of the matter. Mrs. Miller, a remarkable Florentine lady, has a pretty daughter, Mildred, played by Clara Kimball Young, and she wants to make a good match. Along comes an eligible Count, who, however, hasn't got anything more to recommend him to Mildred than his title. Instead of which she falls in love with a penniless young fellow, Theodore Vandever, and they are married.

For Monday and Tuesday, Alice Brady, in one of the most remarkable offerings of the season, "Bought and Paid For," the famous play by George Broadhurst, in advance in prices for this special Christmas Day feature.
