ARMY INSTRUCTOR AT GETTYSBURG

War Department Assigns Captain F. L. Graham to College as Prof. of Military Science

FIRE COMPANY BANQUET

Adams County School Teachers to Attend State Educational Meeting at Harrisburg

Gettysburg, Pa., Dec. 23.—Military training will start at Gettysburg College at the opening of the institution after the Christmas vacation. Captain Frank Lee Graham, a retired United States army officer, has been assigned by the War Department as professor of military science and tactics. The fire company will hold their annual banquet the latter part of January, committees having been named to make preparations. Many of the school teachers of Adams county have enrolled for the meetings of the State Educational Association at Harrisburg between Christmas and New Years, some of the districts sending all of their teachers. Both of the licensed saloons which were refused licenses at the court last January have again applied to the coming court and will make a big effort to have their houses reopened. The school board has reconsidered its action taken some time ago when it granted the high school a vacation of only two days at Christmas and will give the entire week. The Gettysburg Woman's Christian Temperance Union has organized a new union in Mount Joy township, this county, with a membership of about twenty, and will push the work among the men in that locality in the interest of a dry Adams county. The local lodge of Eagles will play Santa Claus to the children and this evening will have a community tree at their house and give each child a box of candy and an orange.
