This Clothing Sale Gives a Man a Chance to Step Into the New Year in a New Suit and Overcoat at a Substantial Saving

$15. Overcoats, $10.75 $18.00 Overcoats, $12.75 $25.00 Suits, $14.75

The suits and part of the overcoats are right from regular stock—a special purchase of overcoats contributed its quota of fine garments at a considerable price advantage. These days of higher priced woollens and increased productive costs, it's a piece of good fortune to secure a price advantage with the knowledge that there has been no lessening of quality.

Therefore we say these overcoat values especially, are uncommonly good—good in cut, good in style, good in tailoring and extra good in value. In the two special groups at $10.75 and $12.75—correctly and conservatively appraised as being worth $15.00 and $18.00—are styles enough to please a host of men and young men.

The suits at $14.75 were formerly $25.00—their mates sold at this price and it is only because of broken sizes that we have taken this line of fancy suits in their entirety and reduced them to this price.

ORDER KEEFER TO GIVE UP PAPERS

Court Decides Family Land Dispute Involving Deeds Taken From Desk

Within the next fifteen days Horace B. Keefe, son of Major John B. Keefe, must turn over to his brothers and sisters either the originals or duplicates of the deeds of all the properties in which he shared under the will of his father, and these he had agreed to transfer in November, 1914, but surreptitiously snatched from an attorney's desk after the agreement was entered into. Additional Law Judge S. J. McCarrell so decided the suit brought by the other Keefe heirs against Horace to compel the return of these papers. In citing the facts in the case Judge McCarrell points out that the Keefe brothers and sisters had agreed to pay to Horace $30,000 for his share of the half-dozen or more tracts of land that constituted the late major's estate. Incidentally, Horace wanted what is known as the Linglestown farm, and the other heirs agreed to turn this over to him for $3,000, the price to be deducted from the $30,000. Accordingly, a check for $22,000 was made out and the signed agreement was left on Attorney Paul A. Kunke's desk while Keefe and his own attorney went out to discuss the question of attorney fees. No agreement could be reached and Horace returned to Kunke's office. While the latter was at the telephone in an adjoining room he picked up the signed deeds and agreement entered into a short time before and departed. In ordering Keefe to return the deeds forthwith Judge McCarrell severely condemns him for appropriating papers that were no longer his because of a disagreement with his counsel. Furthermore, Keefe is ordered to pay the costs.

The bank had a capital stock of $25,000 and a surplus of $15,000, but as the deposits amounted to $65,000 an assessment of $25,000 on the shareholders will be necessary.

RESIGNATION OF RAMBO REQUESTED

sons and the Governor did not comment. For days there have been rumors that Mr. Rambo would be asked to resign because the Governor's advisers have wanted some places in Rambo's department which it is reported he did not want to give. Mr. Rambo was the superintendent of construction of the building and knows more about it than anyone else. Breiting's name has never figured in the gossip as likely to go and no reason has been given.

FREAK STYLES FOR MEN

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 23.—Freak styles in men's clothes are coming back next year, says Irving I. Frankel, of this city, president of the National Association of Clothing Designers. He believes that American men are about due to go off on another sartorial "spree." Further, he believes it will be catching in the fall or winter of 1917.

We have had a sample of freaks in the coats adorned with buttons and patch pockets," said he. "Do you remember the flaring coats? Then the balmacaan overcoat came into vogue, and now we have with us the trench overcoat, made popular by the war." Overcoats and suits for next fall and winter will not have padded shoulders, Frankel says. Just what styles there will be will be determined by the style committee to be named when the designers meet in Cincinnati January 14.

The family blamed the bread they had eaten and Dr. Halsey brought some of the preparation of which the bread was made to a pharmacy for analysis. ## Austria May Seek Peace Separately With Italy; Emperor Is For Pact

London, Dec. 29.—It is an open secret here that Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary is desirous of concluding a peace at the earliest possible moment, and to this end is likely to make separate overtures to Italy for the conclusion of hostilities between the two countries.

Since his accession to the throne, the new Emperor has shown a spirit of independence anything but pleasing to Count Tisza and the other members of the Potsdam party in the Cabinet of the dual empire. His country has had to bear the brunt of the economic hardships of the Central Powers, and is now on the brink of starvation. His readiness to strike a separate bargain with Italy, looking toward the eventual retirement of Austria from the entire war, is therefore evident.
