HOLIDAY BRIDAL FOR MISS STEVENS

Miss Alice Ferol Stevens Becomes the Bride of Preston Crowell, Jr., Today

One of the prettiest of the holiday weddings was that of Miss Alice Ferol Stevens to Preston Crowell, Jr., to-day at noon in the First Lutheran church with the Rev. Thomas E. Retzsch, pastor of the church, officiating.

The altar was banked with holiday greens and Christmas trees covered with the sleet of winter's ice and snow, with a single candelabra on either side made an attractive setting for the bridal party.

Mrs. William M. Kishpaugh, the church organist, played Wagner's "Plehrengrin," as a procession and the finale of the wedding chorus as a recessional. During the ceremony, Mrs. H. Albert Smith, of Mechanicsburg, sang, "O Promise Me" and "Perfect Love."

The bride, who was given away by her father, Charles J. Stevens, was wearing a going-away spring suit of midnight blue crepe with white lace and white French ruffled collar, and hat with parade trimmings. Her corsage bouquet was of orchids, valley lilies and sweetheart roses. Miss Margaret Ramsey Boas as maid of honor, the bride's only attendant, wore an amethyst gown of Georgette crepe over white satin with trimmings of fur and a lace picture hat. Her bouquet was of bride roses. John Motter Fletcher was the best man.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Preston Crowell, Jr., left on a Southern wedding trip including Washington, Baltimore and Old Point Comfort, Va. Upon their return they will be "at home" to their friends at 801 North Seventh street, where a short time previous to going to their own home.

The bride, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Stevens, 1736 Market street, is a graduate of the Allegheny high school and of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, in the design school. She is a member of the Alpha Psi Sorority, has taught private classes in water color and was a former teacher in the art department of the Y. W. C. A. During her residence of two years in this city she has gained a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Crowell, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Crowell of 801 North Seventeenth street, is a graduate of the Fairmount high school, West Virginia, of which Professor Howard G. Dibble, of the Central high school, was principal at the time of Mr. Crowell's graduation. He is an alumnus of the Carnegie School of Technology, having completed a four-year scientific course there, a member of the Techmont Club, now a chapter of the Theta Xi Fraternity; a former player on the varsity eleven of his college; and a member of the University Club. Until a few months ago he was connected in the civil engineering department for the Division Engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, but is now an attaché of the Highway Department at Hildbrand, of the Bouquet Shop, was the decorator.

ROSES TELL TALE OF ENGAGEMENT

Miss Miriam Opal Carl to Marry Attorney Earl E. Renn Next June

The Roshen Studio MISS MIRIAM O. CARL

At a luncheon this afternoon in honor of Miss Josephine Ulrich, daughter of Representative Dr. I. K. Ulrich, of Anville, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Carl, 404 South Fourteenth street, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Miriam Opal Carl, to Earl E. Renn, attorney, with offices in the Russ building.

The story of the engagement was told by cover use of the favors, corsages of Ward roses. Concealed amid the roses was a tiny roll of paper tied with yellow ribbon containing the names of Miss Carl and Mr. Renn. The table appointments, arranged by Miss Lou V. Rook, of the Berryhill Nursery Company, carried out a color scheme of yellow. Ward and sunburst roses were used to complete the decorative effects.

Among the guests were Miss Ulrich, Miss Ruth Stricker and Miss Esther Boyer, of Lebanon; Mrs. C. Laurence Shopley, Miss Helen Bright, Miss Mabel Bright, Miss Stella Ulrich, Miss Hope Renn, Miss Fay Renn, Miss Martha Miller and Miss Opal McCann. Miss Carl is one of the most popular of the Hill girls and is active in the work of Derry Street United Brethren Church. She was graduated from the Central High School, class of '12.

Mr. Renn is widely known throughout the city and Central Pennsylvania. He is the son of the late Rev. U. G. Renn, who served as pastor of State Street United Brethren Church, this city, at the time of his death several years ago. He was graduated from the Reading High School, Lebanon Valley College, and the University of Pennsylvania School of Law. He was admitted to the Dauphin county bar several years ago. At the present time he is an assistant in the State Legislative Bureau.

He has taken an active part in musical affairs since being in this city, was director of the Derry Street United Brethren Church, until the press of business compelled his resignation last June. He is director of the orchestra of the Men's Class of Derry Street Church and is leader of the Harrisburg Band. The wedding will be a June event.

Farewell 1916

Welcome 1917

Looking Backward Over 1916

As we stand on the threshold of the New Year, allow us, first of all to wish each and every one of our customers and friends a very, very Happy New Year. May 1917 bring to you peace; contentment, health and prosperity. Looking backward over the year 1916 we have much to thank our customers for. 1916 was one of the biggest years in our store's history. Hosts of new customers were gained. It affords us much pleasure in looking over through our records to learn that our continuous efforts to secure dependable merchandise and to mark them at fairest prices and to afford our customers courteous service has been rewarded in the large, liberal and satisfactory amount of increased business.

LOOKING FORWARD TO 1917

And now we look forward to 1917. We shall endeavor to eliminate such mistakes as we made in 1916. We shall aim to bring this store to a higher level of efficiency than ever. We shall aim to secure for our customers the most dependable merchandise and continue to sell such merchandise at the fairest prices. Quite True — We shall need to be ever on the alert to secure dependable merchandise at fair cost, because of the tendency of higher prices; but you can rest assured that during the entire year of 1917 this store will bend its efforts to secure every price advantage, when the quality of the merchandise is satisfactory and offer you the saving proportionally. So we again thank you for the business of 1916 and hope we may be favored with as liberal a share, or more during 1917.

Sincerely yours

Astrich's

Seymour Nissley Host to Centralian Society

The Centralians held an interesting meeting last evening at the home of Seymour N. Nissley, 1714 State street. As the members entered they received a very cordial handshake from the host and an electrical shock caused by an attachment dexterously fastened to the welcoming hand.

At the president's suggestion the society is planning to hold an entertainment some time within the coming month. The president appointed committees for the entertainment, including Richard Mount, Thomas Caldwell and Seymour Nissley, Russell Zimmerman, Leon Simonetti and Arthur Gardner.

Music was then enjoyed, with selections by Messrs. Zimmerman and E. Smith, Charles Koser, William L. Kay, Russell Zimmerman, George Pavord, N. Lee Frank, Arthur Gardner, Vernon M. Wright, Thomas D. Caldwell, Richard W. Mount and Seymour Nissley.

YALE AMATEURS PRESENT "OURS"

Large Representative Audience Enjoys Military Comedy by Undergraduates. The representative audience that greeted the Yale players at the Orpheum theater in Tom Robertson's military comedy "Ours" last evening received an agreeable surprise in the finished acting and entertaining presentation by the undergraduate dramatic association from New Haven. The extended Christmas trip which the Dramat is taking in its private car is calculated to produce sufficient revenue to make a substantial increase in the fund for building a theater in New Haven. Harrisburg aided materially last evening, and enjoyed doing so, judging from the appreciative applause. The comedy was light and without plot, and was presented in an agreeable manner by the young actors and actresses. Each act was an improvement over the preceding one, the work of Douglas S. Moore as Sir Alexander Shendryn and A. C. Cronin as Angus McAllister being especially noteworthy. Three Freshmen, Alfred Bishop, Wilson Marshall, Jr., and John W. Andrews, donned dresses for the occasion and met with an enthusiastic response from the audience.
