

NOTICE of Advance in Prices

The increasing cost of labor and raw materials (particularly cotton fabric) has made it necessary to advance prices to dealers and consumers — effective January 1st, 1917 — 15 per cent on pneumatic automobile tire casings and motorcycle tire casings and 10 per cent on pneumatic tubes and motor truck tires.

Present abnormal conditions fully justify a greater increase, and should they continue, a further increase may become necessary.

TEE! HEE! DID YOU SEE THEM FUNNY MENS'?

parade mustn't be forgotten. Chief Marshal Walter C. Montgomery with his big corps of aids and division marshals were on hand in high silk hats and frock coats, and it is to the untiring energy of these men that Harrisburg folks owe the successful pageant which practically closes the joy-making part of the New Year observance in the city.

Long before the hour for the parade started, the water in the hydrants about the city was frozen and many people in the outlying districts started for the downtown section to join in the merrymaking.

The fun for the merrymakers is coming when the twelve judges announce the winners of the prizes, which total hundreds of dollars. Everything went off in order despite the fact that the weather man didn't quite favor the pageant. But the weather didn't interfere and the merrymakers will long be remembered as the grand finale of Harrisburg's biggest and best New Year.

The formation was as follows: Heralds: Robert Buck, Sr., chief of heralds; and two assistants; platoon of police, Captain J. Thompson, commanding; Municipal Band, Frank Blumenstein, conductor; chief marshal, Walter L. Montgomery; chief of staff, Charles F. Spicer.

Chief of Aids: William E. Orr, Assistant marshals: D. L. M. Raker, Sam. P. Kinsinger, H. M. Eisenberger, G. M. Keefer, Dr. Galen Halin, J. E. Davis, Fred M. Tuttle, C. E. L. Keene, B. F. ### WIFE TO OPPOSE HUBBY'S CLIENT

Attorney's Spouse One of Objectors to Transfer of Schutzenbach's License

When Attorney Charles H. Bergner, counsel for Alexander Schutzenbach, argues in the Dauphin county court Thursday, for permission to transfer Schutzenbach's wholesale liquor license from 400 Walnut street, to 310 Verbeke street, he'll urge a movement that will be fraught with more than ordinary significance to himself, his wife is one of the nearly hundred women who signed a remonstrance against the transfer. In addition to the more than four score of women, there are at least a hundred male objectors. That the transfer should be permitted became there is no need for the place on Verbeke street is the basis of the opposition.

Few Offices Open.—With the exception of the Poor Board and the Prothonotary's office in the county, and City Assessor James C. Thompson, in the city side, all the municipal and county offices were closed to-day. These, too, only kept open a portion of the day.

Sell Stocks on Courthouse Steps.—On the courthouse steps at 2.30 o'clock, Friday afternoon, a lot of Harrisburg Light and Power Company stock and Cumberland Valley Telephone Company bonds will be offered at executor's sale. The Commonwealth Trust Company, executor, is offering the securities in the settling up of an estate.

ORDER FOR STEEL CABIN CARS.—Altoona, Jan. 1. — An order for 100 all-steel cabin cars was placed by the Pennsylvania railroad with the local shops here to-day. The new cars are to be built over the N-5 model; will have double trucks, and be larger and heavier than those now in use. They will place the old wood-cabin cars in main line traffic.

Alcock PLASTERS
The World's Greatest External Remedy.
Backache, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Any Local Pain.
Insist on Having ALCOCK'S.

46 WOMEN MEET HORRIBLE DEATH

the mercury registering twenty below zero, the water in the hydrants about the building was frozen and little could be done to stay the progress of the flames. News of the tragedy was slow in reaching here owing to a lack of direct wire communication.

According to the advices received here, many of the girls who fled in terror from the scene were located by villagers who took them to their homes.

Thirty girls who were students at a convent adjoining the asylum, which also was burned, are said to have had narrow escapes.

No Outside Aid

Quebec, Jan. 1.—Sisters of Charity were without outside aid in rescuing inmates of the St. Ferdinand de Halifax Insane Asylum at St. Ferdinand de Halifax, Megantic county, when fire destroyed the building late Saturday night, resulting in the death of forty-five women inmates and one sister. The old building was in a remote district, far from other habitations and not a single man reached the place until after the forty-five women had perished and the sisters had saved the remaining 135 inmates and thirty girls attending a school conducted in a wing of the structure.

Loss $100,000

Advices received here to-day indicated that the loss would not exceed $100,000. The cause of the fire was not known.

There was much suffering, as the night was intensely cold. After the flames had reached all parts of the building, so that no further attempts at saving lives could be made, the sisters turned their attention to caring for the survivors. There was some difficulty in controlling the inmates, but finally they and the girls were sheltered by the sisters in the hospital buildings a short distance away. The building was owned by the Quebec branch of the Sisters of Charity. By arrangement with the government it was maintained as a regular government establishment for the care of insane women. The fighting facilities were slight and the water pipes were frozen.

Heal your sick skin with Resinol

The Resinol treatment for skin troubles is not an experiment. Doctors have prescribed it for over twenty years, for eczema, ringworm, and similar itching, burning, unsightly eruptions.

They rely on Resinol Ointment because it usually stops the itching at once—giving the patient much needed relief and rest—and rapidly removes all trace of the distressing eruption. Resinol Ointment may be used freely on even the most sensitive, easily-irritated skin.

Resinol Ointment is so nearly flesh colored that it can be used on the face, neck or hands without attracting undue attention. Resinol Soap contains the Resinol medication, making it excellent for the complexion and hair. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap are sold by all druggists.
