Pennsy Makes Record in Handling Year's Passengers

With the end of 1916 the Pennsylvania railroad system has the wonderful record of transporting 553,890,-063 passengers in three consecutive years without one fatal accident to passengers.

years without one fatal accident to passengers.

On the Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburgh, 1916 was the fourth year that passengers were transported without any fatal accidents. The passenger traffic on these lines is heavier than on any other lines of the system, and 616,626,957 passengers have been safely transported over the lines since 1912.

Although the freight traffic during 1916 was the heaviest in the history of the company, the record-breaking number of 196,294,146 passengers were safely transported over the entire system.

Nearly 9,000.000 trains were re-

Nearly 9,000,000 trains were required to transport passenger and freight traffic in the three-year period over the 12,000 miles of railroad, with trackage of 27,000 miles. The distance the 553,890,063 passengers were carried totaled fifteen billion miles, or 150 times the distance from the earth to the sun. The number of persons transported equals 5½ times the population of the United States.

Natural Color in Simple,

Easy Way

Nature knows best, after all. Nature provides her remedies that even the freatest human minds find it hard to ival. But master scientists and chemists have now found how to take advantage of this fact—how to make Nature in performing what seems almost marved in restoring the actual, natural of the permanently, safely—without the use of dangerous, dirty, sticky dyes or paints.

Chemical experts perfected Q-Bandhair color Restorer aiter many years of study. This preparation works in harmony with Nature in a wonderful way. All you need do is wet your hair with Q-Ban—which is not a dye—and then expose it to the good, pure, freair and sunshine. Repeat this daily for a little time and your hair will return evenly and gradually to its original uniform shade. It will be glossy, lustrous, soft, abundant and beautiful.

Remember, Q-Ban does not pretend to work instant miracles. Such claims belong to dyes, But it is certain, sate and sane. Q-Ban B not a patent medicine.

to work instant miracles. Such claims belong to dyes. But it is certain, sate and sane. Q-Ban is not a patent medicine.

The secret of Q-Ban's matchless results rests in a process of oxidation, from the oxygen in the air, which is brought about by exposure to the air and sanshine after Q-Ban has been applied. It is in this way the scientists have nummoned Nature to their aid and yours.

Q-Ban Restorer is all ready to use. It is guaranteed to be as harmless as Nature herself. It is the only guaranteed to be proved to the central system.

The finishing department occupied the first floor. The knitting and looping department was on the second floor, and a knitting department of the third. The basement was used for storage.

The mill is one of four owned by the H. A. Romberger Manufacturing Company of Philadelphia. Mr. Romberger is expected late to-day.

Other plants are situated at Philadelphia, Newport and Lyrkens. The Lyrkens plant has just opened and it is likely that some of the local employes will be given work there.

According to Superintendent Kohr this morning, no plans for temporary quarters have been made. He said that he believed much of the goods produced by this plant could be manufactured in the other company plants. He was not positive whether Mr. Romberger would rebuild.

The firm has been located here for about twenty years and is one of the largest industries in the borough.

"Only this, sah," instantly replied Shepherd. "Ah knows what Ah'm a-goin' to face. Ah got nothin' ag'in no man. Ah's not lookin' back. Ah's to Gawd."

"Then you have nothing more to say as to why the sentence of the law should not be pronounced?" asked the court.

"No, sah, only, Judge, yo' honah, would you-all send mah body back to my folks?"

The court said the proper authorities would attend to that, and as he pronounced the sentence with solemn "And may God have mercy on your soul" Shepherd murmured a wistful "Thank you-all, sah."

Then he turned back to his cell, the first to go since the "chair" replaced the gallows.
