

SECRETARY TUMULTY AND LANSING TO BE "LEAK" WITNESSES

Investigating Committee Turns to Wall Street Ticker Services Which Supply "Tips" to Brokerage Houses; Seven Employers of Wall Street Journal and Central News Subpenaed

HEADS OF BUREAUS REQUESTED TO BRING SERVICE TAPES TO HEARING

Want to Know When News of Peace Note Was Made Public; Must Preserve Sales Slips; Baruch to Be Called; Wrangle Over Question of Government Officials' Integrity; May Have Been Cabled Back

Washington, Jan. 6.—At to-day's hearing on Representative Wood's resolution for investigation of whether there was a stock market leak on President Wilson's peace note the trend turned to investigation of Wall street ticker services which supply news "tips" to brokerage houses.

SECRETARY TUMULTY President's Secretary Whose Name Has Been Linked With Wilson's Kin in Sensational "Leak" Probe Before the House at Washington.

Rescue Body of Baby Frozen in Ice by Means of a Human Chain

Burlington, N. J., Jan. 6.—As his train was speeding over Broad street bridge this morning, R. J. Andrews, engineer on the Pennsylvania Railroad's Mt. Holly branch, was horrified to see the body of a young child partially frozen into a cake of ice near the shore.

The heads of the bureaus also were requested to bring the tapes to the hearing.

The committee wants to learn what time the Central News and Wall Street Journal bureaus made public the fact that a note was forthcoming from the President.

4 MASKED MEN ESCAPE WITH $10,000 ROLL

Hold Up Express Wagon at Tarentum and Take Payroll From Messenger

POLICE TAKE UP CHASE Three Grabbed Money While Fourth Covered Glass Company Employee

Tarentum, Pa., Jan. 6.—Four masked men held up an express wagon here to-day containing the payroll of the Flaccus Glass Company, of this city, and escaped with $10,000.

The money, which was in bills of small denomination, had come from Pittsburgh by rail, and was being transferred to the glass factory when the messenger was stopped by the robbers.

Three of them grabbed the payroll while the other covered the messenger with a revolver. The robbery was immediately reported to the authorities and company detectives assisted by the police took up the chase.

As the machine was passing through the residence part of the village it was sidetracked by a large touring car and stopped. Immediately a man with a handkerchief over his face sprang on the running board and, pointing a revolver at the express messenger, ordered him to hand out the money.

The alarm was given and soon after 1 o'clock a report reached Pittsburgh that the robbers' automobile had been seen near Butler, Pa. A heavily armed posse immediately left here in automobiles.

POLICE HAVE NO POSITIVE PROOF LEWIS EVEN KNEW MURDERED ARTIST MODEL

BERNARD WESLEY LEWIS Did he or didn't he kill Maizie Colbert, the Ilac pajama girl? The police believe he did. Circumstantial evidence points to him as the model's slayer. But the police have no positive proof that Lewis knew Miss Colbert. Neither have they positive proof he ever entered the girl's apartment.

Philadelphia, Jan. 6.—A missing link in the chain of circumstantial evidence forged by the police about Bernard W. Lewis, who committed suicide in an Atlantic City hotel, and who the authorities say they are convinced was the slayer of Maizie Colbert, may be supplied to-day when detectives question a new witness said to have been found.

Despite the damaging evidence collected against the Pittsburgher, the police so far admit they have no positive proof that Lewis knew Miss Colbert. Neither have they positive proof that he ever entered the apartment of the girl.

This lack of convincing information on a vital point, the detectives said to-day forces a continuance of an element of mystery in the case. Coupled with this is the lack of a known motive.

The detectives say they were informed late last night that an automobile accessory dealer will produce a woman to-day who was with Maizie

RUSSIANS MAY BE FORCED TO ABANDON LINES

Capture of Braila by Germans Threatens Entire Sereth Position

The capture of Braila by Field Marshal Von Mackensen, his advance on Galata, 12 miles north, the clearing of Dobruja of Russians and further Teutonic successes in Moldavia, have brought the Rumanian campaign to a new phase.

The Braila bridgehead while not itself an integral part of the Sereth line now held by the Russians running northwestward from the Danube toward the Moldavian frontier mountains, formed an outlying defense of that line on the Danube end, and its capture weakens the eastern flank of the Sereth position.

Galata likewise on the Danube, and lies just behind the Sereth line, and that

Germans Capture Braila, Big Storage Depot, and Now Advance on Galata

Berlin, Jan. 6.—Braila, Rumania's chief commercial city, has been captured by the Germans and Bulgarians, according to the official announcement made this evening.

Braila is important as a granary and oil storage depot and its early fall was indicated yesterday when announcement was made of the capture of Matchin, on the opposite side of the Danube, as the city was threatened by the converging attacks of Field Marshal Von Mackensen's forces there was no alternative for its defenders but to stand a siege or retire, and they chose the latter course.

With the capture of Braila the Teuton forces will now probably advance on the town of Galata, twelve miles to the north, the capture of which would deprive the Russians of virtually their last hold on the shores of the Danube west of the Bessarabian boundary.

COUNCIL'S DELAY IN MOTORIZATION IS COSTLY TO CITY

Fire Department Will Fall Short by at Least Thirty Per Cent. of Complete Re-equipping Through "Fall-down" of Commissioners, It Is Estimated

INCREASED COST OF MATERIALS MAKES APPARATUS MORE EXPENSIVE

One New Truck and Tractor For Old Machine Instead of Two Brand New Pieces; Firemen Deplore Lack of Gross Support Over Year Ago

Harrisburg's fire department will fall short by at least 30 per cent. of complete motorization of all new equipment because of Council's failure a year ago to provide for the expenditure of the $60,000 loan authorized by the people, according to ex-Assistant Fire Chief Edward Halbert to-day.

Increased cost of materials from 25 per cent. to 33 1-3 per cent. will prevent the re-equipping of the department with all brand-new apparatus as had been intended and will mean that new tractors only can be added to old apparatus where entirely new motorized machines had been figured on twelve months ago.

The ex-assistant fire chief offered some comparisons of items and figures of what had been proposed in 1915—and what can be expected now, according to City Commissioner E. Z. Gross' advertisement for fire bids—to support his contention.

Only One New Truck The single item applies to the purchase of a motorized truck. Instead of purchasing two entirely new hook and ladder trucks, as had been originally planned a year ago and which could have been purchased because of the difference at that time in the prices of materials, only one truck and a new tractor to haul the thirty-year-old truck now can be bought. This means that either the Allison or the Kelly company will have to get along with a motorized old truck instead of an entirely new apparatus, are already murmuring at the "fall-down" on Council's part.

Some of them point especial emphasis to the fact that ex-City Commissioner M. Harvey Taylor, Fire Chief Kindler and his then assistant, Mr. Halbert, had prepared a tentative estimate a year ago whereby the entire department could have been motorized with new equipment for the sum provided.

Gross Agreed to Cut Mr. Taylor urged that Council make proper provision in the 1915 budget for the item of interest, State taxes, sinking funds, etc., whereby the purchases could have been made early last year. Commissioners W. H.
