

YALE TOSSERS GIVE GREAT BASKETBALL EXHIBITION BEFORE LARGE CROWD

YALE'S SCORING MACHINE ROUTS ALL-COLLEGIATES

Captain Taft's Aggregation of Football and Baseball Stars Gain 44-24 Victory

Large Crowd Witnesses Classic Exhibition in Chestnut Street Auditorium

In a classic basketball game played last night on Chestnut Street Auditorium floor the Yale varsity tossers took the Harrisburg All-Collegiate five into camp with a 44 to 24 score.

Yale's presence in Harrisburg gave local enthusiasts the first opportunity to see in action some of the stars who have been prominent in baseball, football and other athletics at New Haven.

Yale's Scoring Machine

Early in the game Yale's scoring machine started. Kinney, last year's all-collegiate star, was the big fellow in this department and while he stayed in the game there was no let-up.

Harry Legore, the famous football star, was scheduled to play with Harrisburg, but eligibility rules prevented him from appearing in the line-up.

Local Players No Slouches

The Harrisburg boys put up a splendid game under the circumstances, with "Shorty" Miller and "Pat" Reagan following the ball every minute of the time.

The only regrettable incident during the game was the unsportsmanlike hissing of the crowd at one of Referee Miller's decisions.

Harrisburg Stars

Herman, of Harrisburg, scored first for Harrisburg with a foul goal, but the lead was short-lived.

Second Half

Taft opened the second half with a foul goal. E. J. Stackpole, Jr., scored from field. Olsen tallied three times from field and Taft added a foul shot.

CAN THESE STARS HOLD THE LAURELS THEY HAVE WON?

Who will be the champions of 1917? Only Dame Fortune could say. Here are the present holders of titles in the various important branches of professional and amateur sport, but will they be able to hold the laurels they have won?
