

OF INTEREST TO THE WOMEN

The Love Time of Life

By DOROTHY DIX
Dr. Jack, of Hamburg, has analyzed on scientific principles the course of love in the lives of the average man and woman.

Thus does science interpret the apparent caprices of Cupid and teach us when to be upon our guard against the arrows of the little winged god.

Every boy is brimming over with sentiment. He is like the hero of the old Florida sextet song who used to warble, "I must love somebody."

It is boys of twenty who fall in love with chambermaids or dairy lunch waitresses, or chorus girls, or women old enough to be their grandmothers and who marry any skirt that happens to be nearest.

Then there comes a wave of reaction. They have had their eyes opened a little by beginning to get over their puppy love and see things clearer.

Above all, the primal instinct of nature for mating and building a home of their own is strong in their breast, and it is then, somewhere around thirty, that a man is not only most apt to marry, but to know the inspiration of a deep and abiding love.

From thirty to forty the average man is too absorbed in himself and his career to think of love. These are the years in which he is apt to neglect his wife if he is married, and to thank God that he hasn't got one, if he is single, because they are the crucial years of his man-life.

After forty the average man's heart is steeled in selfishness and cynicism if he is still a bachelor. He wants his own liberty, his own ways, his own privileges without the bother of fighting with a wife for them.

hood, the love line of man curves down instead of upward.
Girls are sentimental from the cradle up, but it is a surface sentimentality, and there is, in reality, no other living creature that is so hard and selfish as a soft and innocent-looking little maiden of eighteen.

It is during this time that a girl not infrequently deceives herself and marries a man under the impression she is in love with him, when in reality she is just because she liked the way he combed his hair or turkey trotted or the good times he gave her.

From twenty-five to thirty women begin to think more seriously about love, but this doesn't begin to be critical. They put their feet on the ladder for Cupid, but they are looking out the window to see if he wears a good coat, and drives up in a taxi instead of coming in on a horse.

This may be called the rational age of love. There are not many thrills to it, but it is an eminently sane and safe affection, and compared with the mad passion of the woman who is only moderately in love neither asks too much of her husband in the way of affection nor bestow too much upon him.

From thirty to thirty-five is the panic time of a woman's life when she perceives that all of her friends are married, or have espoused careers, and that debutantes are beginning to look upon her in the light of the Ancient Mariner, and that the last call for the dining car is ringing for her.

The fatal age of love for woman comes at forty, and this is true no matter whether she is single or married. Then it is that all of the pleasures and amusements with which a woman has diverted herself all her life, and which she grows suddenly stale and flat.

It is the last tropical flare up of the summer of life for a woman before the cold winter of age sets in, and under its influence she does strange and unexpected things. It is the woman of forty who marries a boy young enough to be her son or elopes with her chauffeur, or gets entangled in some disgraceful intrigue.

Poultry Keeping As a Side Line For Farmers

SINGLE COMB WHITE LEGHORNS

White Leghorn hens easily lead all other breeds as layers, and this is one of the reasons why 80 per cent of all egg farms are stocked with this variety. They are small, active hens, producing equally well in confinement and on range.

Opportunity For a Cash Income at All Seasons of the Year

Start With Standard-Bred Stock, Maintain Vitality by Careful Selection

By Prof. James B. Morman, Former Expert for the United States Department of Agriculture.

Few farmers take the interest in poultry keeping that they should take. This is a great mistake. The prospect of profits from this branch of live stock keeping are excellent.

The average price received for the eggs was 19.3 cents per dozen. The total income from the sale and use of eggs on farms was about $115 per acre.

It must be remembered that the producing power of a flock of farm poultry is not limited to eggs and broilers alone. The poultry manure must not be overlooked.

It is not surprising that some telephones were found to be busy. Eight and one-half billion telephone calls were answered last year in the Bell System.

That report, however, does not always mean that the called telephone is in use. Remember that some other party on the line may be talking or someone else may be calling for a number on that line.

Busy men have busy telephones. It is unavoidable that you may sometimes have to knock more than once at their telephone doors.

To Avoid Dandruff. You do not want a slow treatment for itching scalp when hair is falling and the dandruff germ is killing the hair roots. Delay means no hair. Get, at any drug store, a bottle of zemo for 25c or $1.00 for extra large size. Use as directed, for it does the work quickly. It kills the dandruff germ, nourishes the hair roots and immediately stops itching scalp. It is a pure, reliable, antiseptic liquid, is not greasy, is easy to use and will not stain. Soaps and shampoos are harmful, as they contain alkali. The best thing to use for scalp irritations is zemo, for it is safe and also inexpensive. The E. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.

Records of egg production from my flocks have been kept since 1907. Breeding from early layers mated with the best males was found to produce pullets which laid more eggs than the parent fowl. This led me to take more interest in the poultry side of farm work. The result was a large increase in egg production. With higher prices for eggs at that season, the flock was kept at a profit instead of at a loss, as had frequently been the case for several months of the year.
