What Are Your Eyes Worth?

Are You Willing to Put a Bargain Price on Your Eyesight?

Are you willing to put a money value on your eyes? Are you willing to sacrifice your sight for the sake of a small monetary consideration? That is exactly what you do when you buy a "bargain" pair of eyeglasses. Under the delusion that you are saving a trifling amount of money you take chances on glasses that logically must be inferior in quality as well as imperfectly fitted—sold at a "cheap" price—glasses that are not just right in every way are apt to do more harm than good. I do not understand neither do I overcharge for either the thorough scientific examination that I make or for glasses. I have a schedule of prices that are fair to all. It will not cost you any more to come here than to go to any other reputable optometrist and you will have the satisfaction, for years to come, of realizing that your glasses are absolutely right.

AIDS DISTRIBUTE $11,000 TO POOR

Old Officers of Associated Organizations Re-elected at Annual Meeting

More than $11,000 was handled by the Associated Aid societies in helping the poor and needy during the past year according to the report submitted last evening at the annual session of the Aids by Vance C. McCormick, treasurer. Receipts from all sources totaled $11,168.81 and the expenditures were just $11,065.92.

In addition to hearing an interesting report on the finances of the organization, the big assemblage of social workers and others interested in the social uplift, charitable and philanthropic work of the city, also heard a splendid talk by Dr. Riley M. Little, general secretary for the society for organizing charity, Philadelphia, on "How to Make Benevolences Constructive."

All the old officers were re-elected which included the following: President, Mrs. Lyman D. Gilbert, vice-presidents, Mrs. George Kunkel, Edwin S. Herman; secretary, Mrs. Mercer B. Tate; treasurer, Vance C. McCormick; assistant treasurer, Donald C. McCormick; these officers together with the following form the executive committee:

Francis J. Brady, Mrs. Francis Jordan Hall, Mrs. William Henderson, Miss Mary C. Heister, Morris E. Jacobson, William B. McCaleb, Mrs. Marlin E. Olmsted, Dr. C. R. Phillips, and Miss Mary E. Reilly.

How Money Was Spent

The $11,065.92 expenditures did not include money which was expended for relief on families and children in whose cases the social workers had interested philanthropically inclined folks and which did not appear on the Aids' books. The Aids spent $1,806.59 for the Harrisburg Benevolent Association, and $1,838.16 for the anti-tuberculosis society. About $2,000 was spent for clothing and supplies for the storeroom which was not included in the report proper. Some 350 individuals, including the following organizations contributed $4,916.36; charity ball contributions, $2,250.85; directors of the poor, $1,800; relatives and friends, $1,800; miscellaneous funds disbursed by the Aids included "boys camp," special care for families and children, $689.84 while special work cost $1,162.56.

Dr. Little was presented by Edwin S. Herman and his talk was given an especial touch of local color, when he enlarged upon the lesson suggested by a letter from John Yates, secretary of the Aids, had received from a girl, the organization had once helped.

The girl, who has since been making the progress of her life in every way, following the boost upward, which was offered by the Aids, enclosed a check to Mr. Yates "to help some other girl." Mr. Yates thanked her for the money as "gift" whereas the girl wrote in which she referred to the money not as a "gift" but as a "debit that had been paid."

Dr. Little considered this the best possible example of the work on charitable and co-operative lines upon which he had based his theme. Life has six primary requisites, according to Dr. Little, health, wealth (distributed), knowledge, friendship, taste or esthetics, and righteousness, both individual and social.

"Every family," said he, "no matter how poor, should have enough income to insure the decencies of life; should be able to possess a little home of its own and have plenty of air, light, food, privacy, sanitary arrangements, food, clothing and recreation."

Mrs. Alden Is Coming to See Sunshine Society

Members of the Roberta Dinslow Lloyd Sunshine Society are planning a reception to the national president of Sunshine, Mrs. Cynthia Westover Alden, who will be a guest in this city later in the year. She will tell all about the work and how she came to organize it and everyone will be glad to meet her.

A most interesting meeting of the Sunshine Society was held yesterday afternoon in its rooms at the Young Men's Christian Association building. With the Christmas work over, the society is turning its attention to the summer work among the crippled children. This work was carried on last summer to a limited degree at the Sunshine fish-air home at Mandala Gap. The quarters were inadequate and the society was hampered in its efforts to help the little charges. This year the work is to be carried on under a more extensive plan and means for raising the required sum to finance the undertaking were fully discussed. Sunshine does a great work among the little unfortunates of the city. The list grows larger each year and the society should have the co-operation of every citizen of Harrisburg. This week several children will be taken to Philadelphia for special treatment. One little girl, wearing an Abbott cast, will have it removed, and instead of going through life with a crooked body she will have her chance with a straight back for special treatment. Those whose legs are so bowed that the soles of their shoes are worn on top of their feet will undergo an operation to have them straightened.

Shower For Civic Club Brings Beautiful Gifts

The beauty of the weather brought out a large part of the membership of the Civic Club yesterday afternoon to the tea and shower held in the beautiful new clubhouse. Spring flowers graced the rooms and a basket of white narcissus formed the centerpiece of the tea table where Mrs. William Henderson and Miss Fanny Dinslow presided, assisted by members of the house committee.

The planishing of the tea room is about complete now owing to the address of friends who gave beautiful silverware in silver and gold, pieces of china in conventional Dresden design and luncheon cloths, tea napkins and tray covers for the linen closet.

GRAND BALL OF EAGLES ON WEDNESDAY EVENING

The second of a series of balls given by Harrisburg Aerie, No. 122, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be held to-morrow evening in the ballroom at Sixth and Cumberland streets, with the Myers larger each year and the society should have the co-operation of every citizen of Harrisburg. This week several children will be taken to Philadelphia for special treatment. One little girl, wearing an Abbott cast, will have it removed, and instead of going through life with a crooked body she will have her chance with a straight back for special treatment. Tech High School Notes

Sidney Kay, a member of the senior class, is heading a movement to effect the organization of a mandolin and guitar club. While the school boasts of an orchestra and a band, students of the school feel the need of another musical club. The call was made to-day for candidates.

William Yingling, a member of the first year class, has joined the orchestra. The lad plays the piccolo, and is the first musician to play that instrument in any of the previous Tech orchestras.

Carl Beck, the freshman athlete, is prevented from competing in the basketball series at the present time, because of a carbuncle on his left side.

Coach Miller drilled the basketball candidates yesterday in preparation for the game with Reading that is scheduled for the Army next Friday night. Tech will make an effort to even its record by winning this game.

George Stark, editor-in-chief, announced to-day that the Tatler would be out about January 25. Doings of the New Year at Tech will feature the number.

Professor Emil Weisbrod, the new teacher to succeed Harry U. Johns, arrived at Tech this morning to take up his work. Professor Weisbrod is a native of Philadelphia. He is a graduate of the Philadelphia trade school, and taught there prior to coming to this city. He was employed at the building situated at Twelfth and Locust streets. He will have charge of all the first year metal work at the Technical high school.

The Tech orchestra held its regular rehearsal yesterday afternoon in preparation for the concert that will be given by them January 25 in the auditorium in Chestnut street. Their playing will be part of the concert to be rendered by the newboys to raise funds for a building. Samuel Sherman, '17, is the leader.

Drowsy Goldfish Set Fire to Family Bolster

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 8.—Although President S. C. Chichester Lloyd, of the local aquarium society, has never mentioned that goldfish should increase the fire risks of insurance companies, the fact remains that the home of Alfred Russell, at 3,002 Geyer avenue, was set on fire through the presence of a globe of the fish on the window sill.

Early in the day the globe had been placed near the window. When the rays of the afternoon sun concentrated on the globe it acted in the same fashion as magnifying glass would if used as a "sun glass." The rays set fire to a bolster on a nearby bed, and only the prompt discovery of the flames prevented a costly fire.

A member of the aquarium society said:

"We have recommended a bill to the legislature to prevent the use of circular globes for goldfish. By the way what kind of fish were they? Some aquatic breed of fish—chubunks, for instance, or Japanese fantails, or well-tails, which cost only $25 apiece, would have been swimming around and broken up the rays."

The Springer Organ Recital With Stanley Backenstoss Singing

Before an audience that filled the capacity of the main auditorium J. Herbert Springer, organist, played a wonderful program last evening at the Fourth Reformed Church, Sixteenth and Market streets, having the assistance of Stanley G. Backenstoss, baritone.

Mr. Springer's initial number, the Bach prelude and fugue in E minor, enabled him to display wonderful technique which continued throughout the recital, balanced in such a manner as to not become monotonous by the assistance of his teacher, Professor E. J. Decevee, in the arrangement. Mr. Springer concluded the first part with DuBois' toccata in G major in masterly style, which was probably his best effort of the evening, although the concert caprice by Kreisler, as well as the five movements of Mendelssohn's sixth sonata, of the second part, will be well remembered by all present. He concluded his program with the overture "Oberon" by Weber.

The audience will often recall with pleasure how splendidly Mr. Backenstoss sang his two numbers, compositions of Gounod and Mendelssohn, which showed his rich, lustrous voice to good advantage. His interpretation of "It is Enough," from "Elijah," was probably the best, and he displayed much dramatic ability as well as technique. He eased up somewhat in his last number, that of Gounod's "O, Divine Redeemer," which was also well sung.

There were representatives in the audience from Hershey, Camp Hill, New Cumberland, Mechanicsburg, Middletown, Gettysburg and Winchester, West Virginia.

A most generous silver offering was received, which will go to the church fund.

A Well-Known Actress Tells How She Darkened Her Gray Hair With a Simple Home-made Mixture

Miss Blanche Rose, a well-known actress, who darkened her gray hair with a simple preparation which she mixed at home, in a recent interview stated: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To a half-pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1/4 oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the required shade. This will make a gray haired person look 20 years younger. It makes the hair soft and glossy and is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."

BEAUTIFUL HAIR, THICK, WAVY, FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Save your hair! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light wavy, fluffy abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and gently draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes— but really new hair growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful. You can surely have pretty, charming, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knott's Danderine from any drug store or toll counter and try it as directed.

DUBUQUE, IOWA, HAS TWO AND ONE-HALF CENT CAR FARES

A booster of Dubuque, Iowa, as a place to live won the first prize in the contest called "Why I Like My Part of the Country," held by the American Magazine, and in the January issue the winner says:

"Now, friend, it's a hard thing for me to try to make you believe that we all have jobs in Dubuque and that we keep working and saving. Dubuque didn't know a blessed thing about the panic of 1907 except as she read about it in the newspapers. We don't have panics out here. Most of our manufacturers (the farmers) keep their plants running night and day, the year round. All of which tends to stability and to mental calm. We don't have to go through the hysteria of high finance every once in a while, and we are saved from the nervous spasms caused by industrial depressions.

"Another thing that isn't of great moment to those who are propelled by gasoline, but that means much to most of us is our two and one-half cent morning and night street car fare. A workman may live four miles from his job on the edge of the city, where he keeps cows and chickens and raises small garden truck, and spend but five cents daily for transportation. The street car fare makes all factories, all locations accessible to every part of the city. It is an item that is never overlooked by manufacturers."

JAPAN'S TRADE WITH CHINA GROWING FAST

Japan's trade with China is showing a gain of more than 30 per cent. over that of last year. Since January 1 the exports have totaled $71,446,210 as compared with $52,999,693 for the same period last year, and the imports total $25,895,355 as compared with $27,501,637. That this rate of increase continues is evidenced by the returns for the first ten days of November, showing a balance of $27,100 in favor of Japan, and the second ten days a balance of $287,222. Beyond political relations between the Government of the Chinese Republic and the Japanese Empire is here indicated, as well as Japanese trade push.—East and West News.
