"MY APPETITE IS BACK" SAYS CHEF

Long a Sufferer From Intestinal Catarrh Mere Odor of Food Sickened Him

FEELS FINE NOW, HE SAYS

"You who have but to eat the food, after she is prepared, no, you can not understand how the odors from even the best of cooking can distress one of a disordered stomach," says Tony Testi, the well-known chef, who lives at 22 N. 3rd St., Harrisburg, Pa.

"For years I have been the victim of the terrible intestinal catarrh and because of it I could eat but little and that with pain and trembling because of it suffering it being brought on by the various aromas that surrounded me. Truly I could eat but a bite now and then.

"But when the Tanlac, it is recommended to me then the joy of living again returns from the beginning. I see the improvement and I am glad. I keep on taking this wonderful medicine and soon my headaches no more, the gas it no longer forms to my distress and I sleep like a baby."

"My appetite it has come back after so long a time and I am delighted that once more I can eat and enjoy my meals."

Tanlac, the famous reconstructive tonic and invigorant, is now being introduced here at Gorgas' Drug Store, where the Tanlac man is meeting the people and explaining the merits of this master medicine.

Tanlac is sold also at the Gorgas Drug Store in the P. R. R. Station.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN IN THE BOX AT FORD'S THEATER A SCENE IN "THE BIRTH OF A NATION"

Seats will be placed on sale to-day for all performances of the "Birth of a Nation," D. W. Griffith's gigantic spectacle coming to the Orpheum next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with daily matinees.

The historic features of this presentation have attracted wide attention and educators all over the world have been convinced that there is no more effective way to tell the story of a nation. In pictorial form are shown such stirring events as Sherman's March to the Sea, the last gallant stand of the Confederates at Petersburg, the equally proud march of the northern army, the assassination of President Lincoln and the saving of the South by the Ku Klux Klan. Mere words can never give a realization of the dramatic scenes, the life-like and vivid reproduction of the past. Realism is the keynote of the success of "The Birth of a Nation." The very stupendousness of the spectacle defies description. And above all, it is entertainment par excellence.

Running through the historical scenes are two romantic love stories in which a colonel of the South loves the sister of an officer of the North, and the officer of the North loves the sister of the colonel of the South. The proud spirit of the southern girl and the equally proud man of the northern land are shown in as thrilling and soul-grIPPING a story as was ever staged. Love turns to hate and then to love again as each girl watches the grim struggle with partisan eyes, each loyal to the land of her birth.

It is important to note that the sale of seats will open at the box office to-day, for everyone remembers how difficult it was to secure seats last season. By buying early the long wait in line can be obviated. Otherwise many miss the striking opening scenes of this great spectacle.

VON MACKENSEN STRIKES AT RAILROAD CENTER

only some five miles from Pantzin, the capture of which would interfere seriously with the movement of Russian troops and supplies to the railway running northwest through Oena and virtually paralleling the Moldavian frontier line.

While the German headquarters statement to-day only claims the gaining of a footing on the opposite bank of the Putna, immediately north of Fokshani, the Russians have been cleared entirely from the vicinity of that stream towards the southeast and have been forced to retreat back of the Sereth river itself, the last of their defensive positions along this line.

Nearer the Danube, Berlin indicates that stubborn counter-attacks have been made by the Russians, but declares the Austro-German positions have been maintained against these thrusts.

In the battles of the past two days the Teutonic armies have added some 1,450 prisoners to the 5,500 they took in the previous operations around Fokshani.

Considerable importance is attached by the entente military commentators to the offensive the Russians have opened in the Riga region at the northern end of the Russian front which is believed to have the capture of important German base of Mitau for its objective. Berlin, however, while conceding that the Russian attacks are showing notable strength, declares that the assaults along the line in this sector were without success.

Nervous Diseases Due to Strain of Battle Most Numerous on the Front

Berlin, Jan. 9, via London, Jan. 10.—A noteworthy increase in epidemic disease in the German armies has been scored during the second year of the war. According to official reports just published, the number of cases has dropped from 51 per 1,000 during the first year of the war to a trifle over 28 per 1,000.

The greatest number of patients, 24 per 1,000, were treated for nervous diseases due to the strain of battle, and particularly of trench warfare under terrific artillery bombardments like those of Champagne, Verdun and the Somme. Pleurisy was responsible for 6 cases per 1,000, pneumonia 4, tuberculosis 1-17, enteric 1-14 and dysentery 1-18.

A feature of the report is the absolute disappearance of smallpox, the practical elimination of other scourges like typhus, typhoid and cholera.

WANT FLEMISH COAST

London, Jan. 10. — Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German national liberal deputy, in a speech at Hanover on Sunday declared that Germany must emerge from the war in possession of the Flemish coast, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Times. Dr. Stresemann said that Germany, although the second strongest economic power in the world and possessing the second strongest merchant fleet, had not a single naval supporting point to serve for defense in war time.

THINK SPEECH WARNING

London, Jan. 10. — Referring to Ambassador Gerard's recent speech in Berlin on German-American relations the Manchester Guardian says that "the precise significance of Mr. Gerard's speech has been missed in some quarters in England but not in Germany." The newspaper continues: "Mr. Gerard said the relations between Germany and the United States would continue to be good as long as the chancellor and present chiefs remained. That is due to the fall of Falkenhayne and Tirpitz, who pinned their hopes to expansion in the west and to the use of all methods, however ruthless, as means of victory. WOULD ACCEPT ULTIMATUM

London, Jan. 10.—The Greek council of ministers favors the acceptance of the terms of the Allies' ultimatum, according to an Athens dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

STEALS MUTE'S TROUSERS

Wildly gesticulating about something the police could not quite understand a mute entered the police station last evening. The police later learned that a negro had entered the man's home and stolen his working trousers and twenty-nine cents and that his name was Everett Marquardt, of 602 Granite street. He was unable to furnish a very good description of the thief.
