PERSONAL SOCIAL

SPICER S. S. CLASS AT CLUB DINNER

Members and Their Wives Spend Pleasant Evening in a Social Way

Members of the J. Henry Spicer Bible Class of the Market Square Presbyterian Church and their wives were guests last night of the teacher at the Colonial Country Club.

A delightful evening was spent bowling, while some of the ladies who didn't bowl enjoyed the coziness of the big, inviting lounge, with the music of a victrola.

Refreshments were served in the dining room, where the small tables were used.

The guests included the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. George E. Hawes, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Schooley, Burton E. Commines, Edith Weves, William McKenny, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Whalen, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hillard, Mrs. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. John DeGray, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Miller, Mr. and Mrs. John Schrum, Mr. and Mrs. John Fries, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Critchley, and Mr. Edward Hillton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Geyer, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Morrison, Jack Willis, Mr. Clapp, Glen Byers, Mr. Renzen, Mrs. Miller, the Rev. G. S. Renz, Mr. Ogden and Mr. Irvin.

Aged Resident Who Has a Keen Interest in Events of Today Will Greet Friends

The many friends and relatives of Mrs. Sara A. Musgrove, of this city, will be interested to hear that on Sunday, January 14, she will celebrate her 92nd birthday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Albert M. Hamer, of 1100 North Second street.

Mrs. Musgrove is one of the oldest residents of Harrisburg, and recalls with interest many of the incidents and experiences when Harrisburg was but a small village upon the banks of the Susquehanna. She remembers vividly the day upon which the first passenger train pulled into the city, in 1835, and relates with keen pleasure many incidents of the old Pennsylvania canal days.

Mrs. Musgrove was born January 14, 1825, in Boonsboro, Md., and is the youngest daughter of Samuel Garman. While she was very young, her parents removed to Haldeman's Island, 16 miles above this city, and it was here and in the neighboring town of Donnaway that her youth and middle life were spent. She recalls that, in 1841, while President William Henry Harrison was passing through the locks at the foot of the island on a canalboat, someone fired into the boat, and relates the consequent excitement in the country for miles around over this attempt upon the life of the country's President. On April 1, 1845, she was married to William Musgrove, of Duncannon, and they moved to Harrisburg about 1852.

Mrs. Musgrove has all her life been greatly interested in politics, and is a most ardent Republican. On election nights, she is as much interested as any man in the returns, and she states she has not yet gotten entirely over the results of last November's election. Many of her friends express the hope that even yet she, with her sisters in the Keystone State, will be given the franchise, and it is certain that, if given, the privilege will be exercised by her.

Her two daughters—Miss Alice Musgrove and Mrs. Albert M. Hamer—plan a reception in her honor at the home on Sunday afternoon, from 2 to 4 o'clock, and it is hoped that as many of her friends and relatives as possible will be able to call and pay their respects and best wishes to the aged woman.

Miss Marie Pelham and Sister, Miss Grace Pelham, Left for their Home in Monticello, N. Y., this morning, after a holiday visit with relatives in the West End.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Yarrington, of Washington, D. C., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. William J. King, of North Second street.

Mrs. Edwin A. Nicodemus of Derry street, is home from El Paso, Texas, where she visited her husband, First Lieutenant Nicodemus of the Governor's Troop.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Rambo, of 1623 North Second street, are spending several days in Philadelphia.

Emerson Collins Speaks Before Commonweal Club

Emerson Collins, Deputy Attorney General of Pennsylvania, who will address the Commonweal Club Monday evening, January 15, at 7:45 o'clock, on the subject of "The War We See Now," is not only a gifted speaker of great oratorical ability, but is also a great student of history. He has followed closely the events of the great war and, with his marvelous knowledge of European history as a background together with his ability to marshal the facts of history in a most attractive way, is fully qualified to lecture on a subject of such magnitude as that of the present world war.

The Commonweal Club realizes that in this subject and extends to its friends the privilege of attending this lecture free of charge.

SPEND HAPPY EVENING

MALICK O. DWYER DIES

Yeagertown, Pa., Jan. 12.—Mallick O. Dwyer, aged 74 years, died on Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Jones, from a paralytic stroke. For the past ten years Mr. Dwyer had been a sufferer from the "war" closed, and the prices returned to normal—42 and 44 cents per dozen.

Highmount, Pa., Jan. 12.—The egg war which was raging in this section stopped yesterday when Charles Shaw, offered one dollar a dozen for eggs. For some time the storekeepers in several sections were offering prices from 45 to 65 cents and holding them. When Shaw offered the dollar, the "war" closed, and the prices returned to normal—42 and 44 cents per dozen.
