9266 (With Basting Line and Added Seam Allowance) Bath Robe, Misses 34 or 36, Women 36 or 38, 40 or 42, 44 or 46 bust.

44 or 46 bust.

Every woman likes to have a really comfortable, satisfactory bath robe. This one is ample and roomy and means warmth and satisfaction. It is easy to slip on and off and it really fills its purpose perfectly well. Here, it is made of plain terry cloth and is trimmed with a fancy material cut to form a border, but the model is a good one for the blankets that are so much used, for the wool bath robe flannels, for the cotton bath robe flannels and for the terry cloth that is such a pronounced favorite, and which can be found in white and in colors and in fancy effects as well as plain. Yellow and white striped terry cloth is exceedingly handsome with the collar and cuffs of white linen. There is an inverted plait at the back and a plait at each side of the front, at the neck edge.

For the medium size will be needed, 6½ yards of material 27 inches wide, 4½ yards 36, 3½ yards 44 or one blanket 66 inches wide.

The pattern No. 9266 is cut in sizes for misses 24 or 26.

Los Angeles, Jan. 12.—Only three of the sixty things James McLeod intended to do when he came to this clip for recreation had been done when he died from natural causes. Bargain Counter Eye Glasses

Eyeglasses may be purchased for a dime at stores that specialize on goods at 10 cents. This being the case, it would seem to be rank extravagance to pay a dollar or two elsewhere if the difference in money value was the only consideration. The funny part of the proposition is the glasses that cost a dime might prove more satisfactory than those offered at a couple of dollars by some "bargain"-siving optician. It's all a matter of "hit of miss" unless you go to a recognized, reputable optometrist, who will test your eyes carefully and scientifically, and who will not fit you with glasses unless he knows that they are adapted to your eyes and will benefit you. I adhere strictly to the ethics of reputable optometrists. I don't sell cheap or trashy glasses—neither do I charge more than a fair price. I give you the benefit of 25 years' experience and guarantee that my services and prices will prove satisfactory.
