

CENTRAL HIGH BOYS OPENING BASKETBALL GAME---BAR THREE GOLF STARS

INDIANS COME BACK IN SPORT

Will Be Prominent This Year on Gridiron; to Announce New Coach Soon

Carlisle, Pa., Jan. 13.—The Carlisle Indian football schedule for 1917 was announced today. It marks the return to the great college game of the Redskins, who had almost formally abandoned the gridiron during the past season.

This year's schedule contains ten games and is proportioned in its demands upon the physical capacity of the dusky wards of the nation very much in the same proportion as the schedules played by the aborigines to the delight of the American public for many years previous to the last decade.

To Announce New Coach While football activities will be under the general direction of the Indian school's physical director, Cleveland, technical gridiron coaching will be given the Indians by a close friend and football associate of many years' standing of the former Indian coach, Glenn S. Warner. The new coach's name will be announced in a few days.

The Indian schedule for 1917 follows: September 29, Albright College, at Carlisle; October 6, Mount St. Mary's College, at Carlisle; 12, Alfred University, at Carlisle; 19, Princeton University, at Princeton, N. J.; 27, Johns Hopkins University, at Baltimore, Md.; November 3, Bucknell University, at Lewisburg; 10, Catholic University, at Washington, D. C.; 17, Harvard University, at Cambridge, Mass.; 24, University of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia; 29, Rochester University, at Rochester, N. Y.

DRIVE GOLFERS OUT OF RANKS

Bar Three Champions From Participating in Amateur Contests

New York, Jan. 13.—Several golfers of national reputation will be driven from amateur ranks by the application of the new definition of amateurs approved early today at the annual meeting of the United States Golf Association.

The meeting also sustained the rule under which Francis Ouimet, Paul Tewksbury and J. H. Sullivan, Jr., of the Woodland (Mass.) Golf Club were deprived of their amateur standing.

A motion for a direct vote on the action of the executive committee in giving notice to the disqualified golfers and calling upon the Woodland club to withdraw their names from the handicap list of the Massachusetts Golf Association was ruled out of order after the vote on the main question had shown that Ouimet's friends were well in the minority.

Upheld Report

After a spirited debate lasting long after midnight, the delegates by a vote of 80 to 12 upheld a report of the executive committee sharply restricting the status of an amateur. The rule as amended and adopted makes ineligible as an amateur the players "engaging in business connected with the game of golf wherein one's usefulness or profits arise because of skill or prominence in the game of golf."

Central High Girls Win in Game With Chambersburg

Tech High Tossers Lose to Reading High Quintet

In a close contest Reading high five last night on the Army floor administered a defeat to Tech high, score 23 to 20. It was the first appearance here of Reading in a Pennsylvania interscholastic series. Tech lacked team work at critical times.

The local five was in a position to win, but the introduction of a new substitute near the close of the game gave Reading a chance to take the lead and keep it. Nyquist was the heavy scorer for Reading, running up 24 points. Pollock and Ebner were Tech stars.

As an added attraction, the Tech High Reserves defeated the P. R. R. April Reserves, score 30 to 11. Hoffman and Wilsbach lead in points for the Reserves and Difenbach was the big star for Apprentices.

AMUSEMENTS

ORPHEUM—To-night—"The Innocent Sinner," with Julia Dean.

Three days, with daily matinees, January 15-16-17—"The Birth of a Nation." Two days, Friday and Saturday, January 19 and 20—Lyman H. Howe MAJESTIC—Vaudeville. COLONIAL—"The Matrimanic." REGENT—"Heir to the Hoorah." VICTORIA—"Broken Chains."

What would your verdict as a jurymen be in a case where a good woman who has been separated from her millionaire husband by blackmailers, then reduced to a low level through his cupidity and drug habits, then plans to ruin her beautiful daughter? This is one of a number of absorbing questions involved in "The Innocent Sinner," a new four-act drama by Oliver L. Bailey and Joseph Noel, which will have its first presentation today at the Orpheum, matinee and night.

Composed of an all-star cast, with Miss Julia Dean in the leading role, the drama abounds in problems pertinent to live situations and is especially timely in cities like New York and Paris. Miss Dean was specially selected for the leading role. She is expected to achieve her greatest historic success in it. Miss Dean has made herself one of the foremost actresses of the modern stage by her successes in "The Law of the Land," "Helen of Troy," "The Girl Who Ran for a Year in New York," and "The Lily," when produced by David Belasco with an all-star cast.

"The most astonishing achievement of motion photography," are the words in which the critic of the "New York Times" describes the remarkable film epic of Sir Douglas Mawson's Expedition into Antarctica, to be presented here by Lyman H. Howe at the Orpheum, Friday and Saturday, with daily matinees.

But let it not be imagined that this animal film is merely "astonishing." It is all that, and more too. It bristles with humor, it is filled with the most delightful because it is so quaint and natural. It is a masterpiece of the art, as expressed by "Wild of the New York Evening Mail," as follows: "Now I know where the camera is when it films and walk. And a band of daring explorers had risked their lives in the Antarctic wastes and moving wondrous animals of the animal life there to make it evident."

Never in the memory of the oldest amusement caterer has there been a temptation anything so irresistible as "The Girl Who Ran for a Year in New York," which will be shown at the Orpheum week of January 22, with daily matinees and night.

To give one an idea of the colossal undertaking it may be said that for the purposes of this production, the city of New York was a part of the set. Fox built a city, with all modern improvements, that accommodated a resident population of over 600 persons. To shelter this great body and to produce the picture, Mr. Fox took over an entire city block, including the houses, and, like a supreme sovereign, is said to have governed it in every detail from his office in New York, some 1,500 miles away.

Much of the fun on the Majestic's bill is due to the combined efforts of Stone and McEvoy, two men of pleasing appearance, who meet on a busy street and talk at that once becomes one of the most popular numbers on the bill. An other attraction that possesses real merit is that of Lewis and Feiber, young couple, in a clever singing and talking comedy skit entitled, "Ye Motor Inn." The Mabelle Fonda Trio, introducing some of the swinging stunts, and two other acts, complete the bill.

For the first time of next week R. A. Rolfe's latest musical comedy, "The Girl From Amsterdam" with twelve people, will be the headliner. Grouped around this attraction are: "The Yalton Steplively" and the Millettes, sensational trapeze artists.

"The Matrimanic," Douglas Fairbanks' funniest and most thrilling feature, will be presented at the Colonial lona Theater for the last time today, and the many who wish to get an opportunity to see this clever photoplay will miss seeing Fairbanks at his very best. In the role of a young man who tries to elope with a charming young lady, he is sure to amuse and interest you.

To-day is double attraction day at the Regent. Charlie Chaplin, Thomas Meighan and Anita King appear in the Regent today, which has been re-engaged by popular request. The dramatic portion of the bill today is provided by Anita King and Thomas Meighan in "The Heir to the Hoorah." The Hoorah is a very rich comedy with three men who decide that they must have an heir. The youngest partner is chosen to marry. His adventures in matrimony take him through many different angles of this exciting game. They married first and lived happily ever afterwards is the story. But there was an heir.

ACADEMY FIVE LOSE TO CENTRAL

Opening Game For High School Shows Strong Teams; Stars in Game

Central high basketball five opened the season last night at Chestnut Street Auditorium, defeating Harrisburg Academy team, score 45 to 36. The victors started in with a rush and secured a lead which they maintained until the finish.

The Academy tossers were fast, but the absence of Gebhart caused a delay in getting down to real team work. Wren, who took his place, played a good game. Central lost opportunities for scoring by weakness in covering up.

Frank Big Star

Frank led in the scoring with 21 points. He shot 17 out of 21 fouls. Gregory was the star shooter, rolling off 15 points. Hilton, Martz and Fields played a good game. Bruce at center played a great game for Academy. Phillips was the big shooter. Froelch and Bertell played a good game. The line-up and summary:

QUAKER TOSSERS AFTER REVENGE

Independents Expect Hard Game Tonight With St. Elizabeth Five

An interesting contest is promised to-night between Harrisburg Independents and St. Elizabeth team. The battle takes place at Chestnut street auditorium. Manager Ike McCord of the local five expects the hardest game of the season.

The Philadelphia team has been strengthened since their last game with the locals and all the players are big favorites to the Harrisburg fans.

McCord May Not Play

The locals are in the best of shape with the exception of Captain McCord, who is suffering from a boil on his leg and it is doubtful if he will start the game. The team work and passing of the Independents show a marked improvement in the last two practices with the Central high team. The game will start promptly at 8.15 and a large plated program will follow. The teams will line-up as follows:

HASSETT CLUB FIVE WINS

Hassett Club five last night defeated the Juniata five of Altoona, score 44 to 7. It was a one-sided contest. The line-up and summary shows who played the game:

LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHTS DRAW

New York, Jan. 13.—Billy Miske, of St. Paul, and Charlie Weinert, of New Jersey, a pair of sinewy light-heavyweights, battled ten terrific rounds here last night, with the westerner winning by a narrow margin on points.

The battle was one of the greatest seen in New York in many a day. Each lad striving for a victory, which would put him in a position to meet Les Darcy, the Australian scrapper, gave the best he had.

TO GET CLEVELAND PLAYERS

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 13.—President A. F. Timme, of the Milwaukee American Association Baseball Club, announced today that he had concluded a deal with the Cleveland American Club whereby Milwaukee will get Cleveland's discards and in return Cleveland will have first call on any discards of the People. The first deal closed was the purchase by Milwaukee of outfielder Dan Moeller, Catcher J. H. DeBerry and infielder Barber.

WELLY'S CORNER

The bowling match last night between the Alpha and Jolly Five was full of thrills. The Alphas made the second record score of the season, having a total of 2749.

I. Harmon of the New Ideas is some duckpin bowler. Last night he made a total of 330.

The Bankers' League bowling matches are affording much interest. The contestants are good on running up high figures. It is a habit with them.

Once more the baseball war is on. President David Fultz of the Baseball Fraternity, says 500 players will not sign contracts. President Ben Johnson announces that he will put Fultz out of business. Former Federal League players are with the managers. There is still a month in which to make peace.

Plan Bowling Tournament; to Start Early in April

Following the suggestion of the Harrisburg Telegraph, the officials of the Casino Bowling League got busy last night and started plans for a tournament. Contests will start in Harrisburg April 16. Bowlers within a radius of 50 miles of Harrisburg will be eligible. Entries close April 10. Prizes will be arranged at the close of the entry list. The committee in charge includes C. H. Morrison, chairman; W. A. Bentz, B. A. Jones, C. H. Barnes and M. D. Fry.

ONE MORE FOR SCRANTON

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 13.—Manager Jimmy Kane, of the local Pennsylvania State League Basketball team, has announced signing Chick Miles to play center for the locals during the rest of the season. Miles, who is a former Georgetown University star, played with teams in the Interstate and New York State Leagues.
