CAPTAIN GEORGE C. JACK Commander of Troop C (Governor's Troop) and Chief Marshal of the Escort Parade

Division Passenger Agent of the Pennsylvania railroad A. E. Buchanan is in close touch with the movement of the troopers, and will notify the local committee as soon as the train is near Pittsburgh. It was stated that the regular schedule time between Columbus and Pittsburgh is five hours and forty-five minutes. The troop trains are running on a slower schedule and will require seven hours. The sections are running about three hours apart and with the Governor's Troop in the fourth section according to reports from Memphis, Tenn., and Louisville, Ky., the local guardsmen will not reach Columbus until about 6 o'clock this evening. Five hours will be required for watering horses at Pittsburgh. The Governor's Troop should reach Pittsburgh sometime after midnight. It is at least six hours and a half run from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg. The snowstorm may hold the troopers up for hours from indications late this afternoon.

Captain George C. Jack, chief marshal of the escort parade issued his general orders late Saturday night along with the appointment of aids. He said to-day there would be no changes, and that his forces were waiting the signal that the troopers had reached Altoona.

Captain George C. Jack, chief marshal, issued the following orders for the welcoming home of the Governor's Troop: "The parade will form promptly two hours from the time signal is given from the various engine house bells and from whistles on the railroad and the various industrial plants. On account of the uncertainty of the arrival of the troop it is imperative that all organizations will report promptly at their place of formation within the two hours from the given signal, as no time dare be lost from the time of formation until the arrival of the parade at the Union station.

"All organizations are requested to march in columns of fours. On the arrival of the train the reception committee and the Governor's troop will take the left of line, the line of march being Market to Front, to State, to Second, to North, to Central, to where the right of line will halt at the armory; the column will then open ranks and present arms as the reception committee and the Troop march through the line into their armory. "It is requested that as many aids as possible furnish mounts and report promptly to the chief of the staff, Francis H. Hoy, Jr., at Third and State streets.

All Personal, Immoral Inter-State Escapades Are Under White Slave Act

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—Interpreting the Mann white slave law, the Supreme Court to-day decided that prosecutions under the law for transporting women in inter-state commerce are not limited to commercialized vice, and include personal, immoral escapades. Conviction of F. Drew Caminetti and Mary I. Diggs, of Sacramento, was affirmed. The court was divided. The majority opinion was given by Justice Day, Chief Justice White and Justices McKenna and Clarke dissented. Justice McReynolds took no part in consideration of the cases. "The plain terms of the act must take precedence over the designation in the report that accompanied it to Congress," said Justice Day. "It is said it will open the door to blackmail, but that is to be considered by Congress. We think the power of Congress to regulate transportation of passengers affords ample basis to exercise authority in the case of this statute."

TEUTON OUTPOSTS NOW WITHIN SIX MILES OF GALATZ

Field Marshal von Mackensen's outposts are now planted only six miles from Galatz, the important Rumanian port on the Danube end of the Sereth line, the Teutonic pressure having resulted in another gain yesterday, when the town of Vadani was taken. Vadani is a scant two miles south of the Sereth river itself, on the railway between Braila and Galatz. Elsewhere along the Rumanian front the continuing battle, which is being waged under extremely adverse weather conditions, has resulted recently in few modifications of the line. Petrograd's reports have indicated a virtually unchanged position, while Berlin's claims have been for the most part of isolated points of vantage won along the Moldavian frontier mountain chain. On the northern end of the Russian front in the Rika district the ad-

SEALER GIVES TIPS TO CIVIC CLUB ON PRICES

Some of the "inside" information incident to the recent effort of wholesale bakers to raise bread prices from 5 to 6 cents per loaf was explained this afternoon to the Civic Club of Harrisburg by City Sealer Harry D. Reel. Mr. Reel had been asked by the club to discuss the commodities question at that body's monthly meeting and while his talk dwelt particularly with the bread situation, he urged in a general way the advantages of buying food products by weight rather than by numerical count. Incidentally the Civic Club considered the adoption of a resolution suggesting that all grocers, bakers and other dealers in foodstuffs sell by weight rather than by the other methods. This action was heartily endorsed.
