Club are boosting the membership. Preparations are also on for a busy year. This club formed under the act of Congress for the "Promotion of Civilian Rifle Practice," makes persons eligible from 18 to 45 years. Military rifles and ammunition may be secured from the United States government without cost. The club now numbers 100 members.

This Year's Plans
Plans for the coming year include the construction fo a range along the Conodoguinet Creek, about ten minutes' walk from the street car line. This range will have facilities for firing at all ranges from 200 yards to 1,000 yards inclusive. During 1916 more experts, sharpshooters and marksmen were qualified by this club, than by any similar club in the State over one of the most difficult courses. The opening of the new range about March 1, will see even a greater number of men qualify on account of this site being one of the bestin the State. The opening of the new range about March 1, will see even a greater number of the Lebanon to-morrow evening to play a return engagement with the Lebanonites.
