PLAN FOR PEACE IN PRISON CAMP

25,000 Germans and Austrians Study and Learn Trades on Isle of Man

Douglas, Isle of Man, Jan. 11. — They are busily engaged in preparing for peace in the prison camps on the Isle of Man.

Here are nearly 25,000 German and Austrian civilian prisoners. Many of them have been residents of the British Isles for ten or fifteen years, and expect to go back to their civilian employment as soon as peace comes. Others have been in England for much shorter periods, and plan to seek fresh fields. Hundreds would like to go to the United States.

Two years of imprisonment has a sobering effect on the most frivolous, and the frame of mind of the interned camp prisoner is almost uniformly serious. Some are learning new trades, others mastering new languages, others studying the course of the war in map and law book with a view to being on the spot for war developments.

Most of this preparation for peace is being done by the prisoners themselves. Their teachers are all from their own number, and much of the equipment for the schools and workshops has been purchased through the British authorities with money supplied by well-to-do prisoners.

At the Knockaloe camp there are about 22,000 prisoners. Four thousand of them are studying languages, engineering, navigation, geography and kindred subjects, or learning trades. Others are at work as gardeners, farmers, road makers or chefs.

The work which a prisoner takes up in the prison schools is frequently an index to some of the field of activity which he is planning to enter after the war. Those studying Polish are casting their eyes on the prospects in the new kingdom of Poland, while those who are dotting their energies to Spanish are generally looking forward to opportunity in South America.

All this work is under leaders chosen by the men themselves, with the approval of their British guardians.

Among the ranks and file of the prisoners there is a serious complaint about their lot or their treatment at the hands of the British authorities.

Asylum Once More For Ida Von Claussen Who Married Sunbury Man

Nyack, N. Y., Jan. 16. — Mrs. Ida von Claussen, who also has called herself Mrs. Von Claussen, and who has figured frequently in the newspapers because of attempts to annoy Theodore Roosevelt and other noted men, was yesterday directed by Supreme Court Justice Tompkins to be sent into custody by the superintendent of the Middletown State Hospital. She was once committed to the Broomfield asylum, but was released on a Supreme Court order after being placed under observation of physicians.

Subsequent to leaving Bloomingdale, Mrs. Dona was committed to the Middletown State Hospital. She was permitted to go on parole in the custody of a relative. While on parole she was married to Francis A. Dona, of Sunbury, Pa., after fleeing from the home of the relative, and was then ordered recommitted to Middletown. On her behalf yesterday a motion was made to have this order of commitment vacated and that motion was denied by Justice Tompkins.

Mrs. Dona once tried to sue Colonel Roosevelt on the ground that he had introduced at the Swedish court.

Wanted to Pawn His Wooden Arm

Pueblo, Col., Jan. 16. — A man who gave his name as Henry Waite and his residence as Chicago, entered a pawnshop here yesterday and offered to pawn his wooden arm at the shoulder. "I'm broke and need money right away," he said as he laid the member on the glass showcase. "What'll you give me on that arm?"

The clerk, Adolph Stark, fairly choked in his amazement. "Why, we don't—now—deal in such things here," he said. "This ain't a dime museum, you know. Suppose you don't come back—how could I get my money back on that arm? Nobody would buy it, would they? No, they wouldn't." Stark couldn't see the force of the argument, however, and refused to make the loan.

Comrade's Blood Saves Veteran

Salem, Jan. 16. — Robert T. Clark and Lewis S. Brown fought side by side in the Spanish war. They both belong to the Captain J. C. R. Peabody camp of Spanish War Veterans. "Bob," as his comrades called Clark, was in the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, a week ago, suffering from anaemia. Two days ago doctors said but one thing would save his life, the transfusion of a quart of blood. "Send for Louie," murmured Clark. "We've always been comrades. He'll come."

Louie came. Alongside of "Bob" he lay while doctors transfused a quart of his blood.

Now, they say, "Bob" will get well.

LUCK WINS OVER DIVORCE

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 16. — Clarence D. Simpson, independent coal operator, who died last week, left one-third of his $400,000 estate to his widow, Mabel Simpson, of New York and Boston. The remaining two-thirds go to a daughter, Clara Simpson Brady. Had Mr. Simpson lived another month he might have been given a decree in divorce. The will provided for this situation and the widow's one-third also was to be given to Mrs. Brady in the event of the granting of the divorce.

MARRIED MEN ARE THE MOST SUCCESSFUL

Do you think you are saving money and being successful by remaining a bachelor? If you do, read the January American Magazine and see what a writer says about the ratio between married and single men. Part of it is: "I'll show you twenty-six married men who have probably the ratio is even greater than this, but I prefer to base my contention on demonstrable facts. The twenty-seven Presidents of the United States only one lived as a bachelor. Nineteen of them married before they were 30, five before they were 40, and two after 40. Yet according to the census returns, taking the entire population of the country, the proportion of single men to those who are married, widowed, or divorced, is about forty to sixty."

Palm Beach, Jan. 16. — Jacob Gentry, of Palm Beach, was bathing in the surf at the time a great school of kingfish came along, and for a time it appeared that it was all up with the man, for the onslaught was so unexpected that Mr. Gentry had no time to make safety before he was in the midst of the fish.

When he reached shore, much exhausted, it was found that he had been severely bitten. So severe were the wounds that a physician was summoned to sew some cuts.

Boy Robs Father to Hear Billy Sunday

Saco, Me., Jan. 16. — Murton Lawyer, fourteen-year-old son of John Lawyer, of Gray, who stole $16 from his father in order that he might go to Boston to hear "Billy" Sunday preach, and who claimed that he had been robbed on the Portland boat and walked back from Boston to Saco, was arraigned in the district court here, charged with breaking and entering and larceny from the store of Thomas Rose, of South Saco.

He was found guilty and placed in charge of the probation officer. In telling his story the boy declared he broke into the store in order to get money to pay back the $16 he stole from his father.

IF FOOD DISAGREES, DRINK HOT WATER

When food lies like lead in the stomach and you have that uncomfortable, distended feeling, it is because of insufficient blood supply to the stomach, combined with acid and food fermentation. In such cases try the plan now followed in many hospitals — not advised by many eminent physicians — of taking teaspoonful of pure distilled magnesia in half a glass of water, as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water draws the blood to the stomach and the saturated magnesia, as any physician can tell you, instantly neutralizes the acid and stops the food fermentation. Try this simple plan and you will be established to supply the demand for relief and comfort that always follows the restoration of the normal process of digestion. People who find it inconvenient at times to secure hot water and travelers who are frequently obliged to take their meals poorly prepared, should always take two or three five-grain tablets of Bisur-Magnesin after meals to prevent fermentation and neutralize the acid in their stomach. G. A. Gorgas can supply you. — Advertisement.
