Daubert's Coolness Is Life Saver For Family

Pottsville, Pa., Jan. 18. — Jake Daubert, of the Brooklyn National baseball club, saved himself and family from injuries by his coolness yesterday. ## AMUSEMENTS

ORPHEUM — Two days, Friday and Saturday, January 19 and 20—Lynan H. Howe's sensational play, "The Heiress of Coffee Dan's."

MAJESTIC — "The Heiress of Coffee Dan's."
COLONIAL — "The Heiress of Coffee Dan's."
REGENT — "Miss George Washington."
VICTORIA — "The Rise of Susan."

Thrilling — Gripping — Tense — these nor any other words in the dictionary, it is said, could possibly describe the original film of "A Most Notable Sin" Douglas Mawson's expedition into the innermost recesses of the Antarctic regions which Lynan H. Howe will present at the Orpheum to-morrow and Saturday, with daily matinees. Never has any camera recorded any scenes more wonderful and more dramatic in nature, animate and inanimate, as found in the newly-discovered continent, is depicted in this most interesting and elemental mood. It is, indeed, something to marvel at. The actuality and atmosphere of the actuality and atmosphere of the Antarctic, so realistic are they and yet so fascinating that hundreds of patrons have attended the exhibition time and again to catch all it conveys to the mind.

One of the most unique and really interesting stories that was ever screened is "The Heiress of Coffee Dan's," the newest of the Colonial Triangle feature that was shown to-day. The funny part of it was that she had such a pious and innocent expression on her pretty face that she completely fooled everybody except her immediate friends who ironically called her "Miss George Washington" because she was, so different.

To-morrow and Saturday, Mary Pickford will be presented in "Tess of the Storm Country."

"The Rise of Susan," the charming picture play in which Clara Kimball Young, the beautiful and talented artist featured, is the sort of play in which the action centers about the most adorable girl imaginable. It is the character of picture that gives Miss Young many opportunities to display her wonderful natural charms. "The Rise of Susan" is a play with a strong lesson for the right and dramatic tension is high throughout the

NEW COMMISSION

Department of Agriculture Will Ask For Over a Million For Next Two Years

The Commission of Agriculture last night made up its first budget for the Department of Agriculture under the act of 1915 and it will be presented to the Legislature for appropriations for the next two years.

The budget calls for an appropriation of $1,065,000 for the two years but of this amount $400,000 is set aside for the payment of indemnity to livestock owners whose cattle are killed during epidemics.

The Commission of Agriculture is asking for an increase of $45,000 for the Bureau of Zoology. Ten thousand dollars is to extend the work of apyary inspection and bee culture; $25,000 for expert investigation of the diseases of trees and insects damaging the crops and orchards of the State to the amount of over $25,000,000 annually and $10,000 for carrying on the campaign for the extermination and prevention of the spread of the white pine blister rust.

The establishment of a Bureau of Markets is to be strongly recommended and an appropriation of $1,000 is asked for carrying on the work. For new work that is being developed an appropriation of $10,000 is asked and an increase of $5,000 is asked for carrying on the work of the Farmers' Institutes which are showing larger attendances this year than ever in the history of the department. The Bureau of Statistics is asking for an increase of $5,000 for the addition of a field agent and additional township crop reporters.

A statement issued last night says: "The receipts of the Department of Agriculture are increasing annually and amount to more than the appropriation asked for, with the exception of the fund for indemnity to cattle owners. It is practically a self-sustaining department, although all of its receipts, including those from the Dairy and Food Bureau, are turned into the State Treasury and all expenses are paid on direct appropriation."

ROOKWOOD FIVE NEXT ATTRACTION

Play Independents Saturday Night on Auditorium Floor; McConnell Is Back

The attraction at Chestnut Street Auditorium Saturday night will be the Rookwood team of Philadelphia. This five holds the independent championship of Philadelphia for the last five years and this year's team is considered stronger than in former years. The Rookwood team is known all over the state and the fans of this city will remember the hard game they gave the locals last year and the article of basketball they played in former years.

McConnell Is Back

Captain Ike McCord expects to have Dave McConnell back in the game and all the fans will be on hand to welcome him back from the border. There is also a possibility of having Gordon Ford in uniform for Saturday night's game and with these two stars in the line-up the locals will present one of the strongest independent teams in this part of the state. Horace Geisel will referee the game. Spectators were much pleased with his work last Saturday night.

BUDGET MADE BY SHIPMEN EXPLAIN LABOR SHORTAGE

Naval Committee Told Only Skilled Workers Are in Private Plants

Washington, Jan. 18. — The Cramp Shipbuilding Company is willing to devote one-third of its shipbuilding facilities for four years to battleship work, Henry S. Grove, president of the company, told the House Naval Affairs committee yesterday. The company will take a profit of 10 per cent over the cost, he said, but could build only one battle cruiser, as two of the company's six slips would be required for such a ship.

Labor shortage was reported by J. Harry Mull, manager of the marine department of Cramps. He said that within the last year his company had found it necessary to accept $0,400 applicants in order to gain an addition of 1,900 skilled workers in their plant. Inroads in the eastern seaboard yards had been made by a western firm, which took men from his plant by an offer of a two-year contract on a basis of $6.50 a day for ordinary skilled workers. In addition the transportation of these men and their families was paid across the continent, he said.

Officers of the Bethlehem corporation subsidiaries, the Union Iron Works and the Fore River Shipbuilding Company, also told of labor scarcity. J. W. Powell, of the Fore River Company, said his company had been forced to establish night schools in co-operation with the Massachusetts State Board of Education to develop skilled workers to offset the constant losses.

On basis of reductions in cost of materials obtained by the Navy Department, H. B. Taylor, vice-president of Cramps, told the committee the lowest possible estimate of cost on a battle cruiser his company can make is $18,600,000, which is more than $2,000,000 higher than the amount appropriated for the act.

H. S. Snyder, representing the Union Iron Works, voiced the Bethlehem Steel Company's proposal to leave the matter of cost of materials and fair profit to the Federal Trade Commission. Mr. Powell made the same offer, but Mr. Grove said he could not accept such proposal offhand.

WELLY'S CORNER

Local fishermen representing nine different organizations met last night at the store of George W. Bogar to discuss proposed changes in fish laws. Opinions differed as to the meaning of the amendments, and another meeting will be held January 23. Fish Commissioner Buller will be present and explain the changes.

Local anglers outside of sportsmen's Associations are against the proposed license fee. They claim it will be a foolish expenditure of money for the State to use the license fees for propagation of fish unless they take drastic measure to prevent eels from eating up small fry.

For the first time in several seasons Harrisburg is not represented at the big shoot at Pinehurst, N. C. State shooters who figure in local matches are on hand. It is said the inducements offered this year were not strong enough to tempt many Northern sportsmen.

Organized baseball yesterday gave the Baseball Fraternity a stiff upper cut. President Johnson of the American Association and John K. Tener of the National League have served notice on David Fultz, head of the fraternity, that they are through with him. Fultz is charged with violating several agreements and notice is served on him that hereafter major leagues will deal directly with players.

Yale men from all parts of the United States will go to New York to-morrow to participate in the celebration in honor of Yale football heroes. Former athletes will give a dinner to the team. It will be an all day celebration with a theater party and banquet at night.

Les Darcy does not appear to be a popular drawing card in his exhibitions. Fight promoters claim he has not shown anything attractive as yet, and the only thing for him to do is to get hold of one or more good men and show if he is still a winner in the ring.

There is considerable gossip about transferring the Utica franchise of the New York State League to either Allentown or Bethlehem. Both cities are after league baseball. In the event of a change the league would become a Pennsylvania organization.

It is the opinion in Harrisburg that a change to Allentown would prove beneficial. Harrisburg, Reading and Allentown would be strong rivals. It would leave only three towns in New York State, Elmira, Binghamton and Syracuse.

Football Coach Is Now Governor of Nebraska

Nebraska's new Governor, Keith Neville, is a millionaire sportsman and for twelve years coached the rocky North Platte High School football team. His team won the state championship several seasons. He was president of the Nebraska Sportsmen's Association two years.

Neville, who is only 25 years old, inherited an estate of more than $1,000,000. He was virtually unknown to politics until last summer, when the Democrats nominated him for Governor.

SCENE FROM A "DAUGHTER OF THE GODS"
Miss Kellermann, known as the Diana of the Films, is not only the most perfect specimen of womanhood in the world, but she is physically and mentally one of the most courageous. This explains William Fox's faith in his star, and why he was willing to back that faith with a great flock of golden eagles. What others considered a gambler's chance, he knew for a sure thing. Miss Kellermann's remarkable work in "A Daughter of the Gods" far exceeded Mr. Fox's wildest dreams. Truly a beautiful mind, it is claimed, conceived the theme of the story, truly an understanding one accepted it, truly a master financier determined to bring it into the light of day, and truly the most perfectly formed woman in the world voluntarily risked her precious neck in interpreting the role to its last bewildering and difficult detail. For beauty of natural setting this film, it is said, stands alone; you will not be able to compare gnome village, gnomes valley, the fairy fern-bowered pool, the terraced waterfall, with its airy pinnacles of mist, with anything that you have ever seen. "A Daughter of the Gods" will be the attraction at the Orpheum week of January 22, with daily matinees.
