The Licorice Gum

"You may have the witness," says the attorney for the defense. Then he unwraps a piece of Adams Black Jack Gum. And why does he prefer Black Jack? Because the licorice flavor wards off throat infection and puts his voice in better condition to address the jury.

Guests of Mrs. Maguire Meet Mrs. Arthur Emmons

Mrs. Walter P. Maguire, of 5 South Front street, was hostess at an informal tea at her home yesterday afternoon. The guests had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Arthur Emmons, of Andover, Mass., who is visiting her mother, Mrs. W. O. Hickock, 508 North Second street.

Mrs. Henry D. Boas, Miss Helen Espy and Mrs. Henderson Gilbert presided over the tea service. About twenty-five guests were present.

Seiler School Girls Enjoy a Sleighing Party

A number of the Seiler School girls enjoyed a sleighing party to Dauphin last evening. The party left the home of Miss Dorothy Hurlock, 1719 North Front street, at 7 o'clock and on arriving at Dauphin had refreshments at the Hawthorne tea room.

The party, chaperoned by Miss Martha E. Fleming, Mrs. Wilbur F. Harris, Miss Frances Acuff and Miss Amy Louise Beck, of the school faculty, included the Misses Dorothy Cox, Doretha Davis, Helen Davis, Eliza Bailey, Sara Bailey, Harriet Witman, Lydia Kunkel, Cecelia Kunkel, Alice Lescurc, Virginia Bishop, Annette Bailey, Louise Hickok, Susanna Maguire, Dorothy Hurlock, Elizabeth Ziegler, Mary Hawes, Edith Thompson, Alice Thompson, Mary Louise Hubley, Alice V. Cooper, Mary Cooper, Florence Cocklin, Miriam Cocklin, Ruth Dowdell, Edna Santanaria, Honore Patton, Judith Lee Dismukes, Elizabeth Harris and Mabel F. Wright.

Addresses to Mothers of St. Andrew's Kindergarten

An interesting meeting of the mothers of the children who attend the St. Andrew's kindergarten was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the parish house, Nineteenth and Market streets.

Mrs. Ercoyd, of Muncy, Pa., gave an interesting and impressive talk on "The Child Has a Right to Be Truthful." Dr. George Burton Stull made a forceful address on "Children's Rights."

Miss Elizabeth L. Hillery has charge of the kindergarten work and is assisted by Miss Helen B. Schwarz. About forty-five children attend the school.

A social hour with music and tea followed the formal part of this afternoon's meeting.

FOR MONTANA GUEST

Mrs. M. J. Charters entertained at her home, 408 South Thirteenth street at dinner in honor of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Hill of Bozeman City, Montana. The table appointments were in green.

Three present were: Mrs. Charles McClure, Lewistown; Mrs. James R. Holchan, Mrs. Samuel Swager, Mrs. Frank Lehr, Mrs. William Charters, Mrs. E. E. Hoerner, Miss Lizzie Charters, Mrs. Anna Sanders and George W. Charters.

SOCIAL

THREE LECTURES

BY DR. PENFIELD

Authority on South America Will Speak of Problems Before That Country

Dr. Thornton B. Penfield, of Englewood, N. J., business manager of the Conference on Christian Work in Latin America, which met in Panama in 1916, and an authority on South America will be in the city next week for three free lectures in John Y. Boyd hall of the Y. W. C. A. through the courtesy of the Commonweal Club.

Monday evening at 7:45 o'clock Dr. Penfield will speak on "South America—Her Land and Her People"; Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, "The Womanhood of South America," and Tuesday evening at 7:45 o'clock on "South America—Her Problems and Her Promise." These lectures will not only interest mission study classes but everyone who is watching so closely the development of this wonderful country so rich a field for commerce and mission work.

Dr. Penfield is a strong sturdy and forceful character and presents his subject with that appealing personality long remembered by his hearers. His long pictures are so vivid and real that the audience feels they are taking the tour with him.

Most Romantic History

Starting with the earliest history of South America which is most picturesque with Balboa and Pizarro struggling for conquest, Dr. Penfield leads up to the great leaders, San Martin and Bolivar and interesting tells of the early missionaries from England, their hardships and dominating zeal.

The educational work, a fair presentation of both Catholic and Protestant missions, a picture of the womanhood so secluded and different from that of North America, the Y. W. C. A. members for workers yet doing so much for the enlightenment of their sisters, and the businessman's problem, its openings and hampered by lack of transportation facilities, all will be discussed by Dr. Penfield who speaks with first and intimate knowledge of the subject.

CARD CLUB AT COLONIAL

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Orth, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ross Morton, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd M. Ogelsby, Miss Anne Sweeney and Hart D. Ogelsby attended a card and dancing party last evening at the Colonial Country Club, when the club members entertained the men. A buffet supper was served.

HOW THE CHURCH FINANCES ITS HOME MISSION WORK

The Home Mission Society of the Market Square Presbyterian Church will meet to-morrow afternoon in the lecture room at 2 o'clock. Mrs. W. F. Scheffer will give an interesting account of the way in which the great mission work of the church is financed.

Mrs. A. M. Lindsay and Mrs. A. L. Geyer will be the hostesses. All women are cordially invited.

Who's Your Friend? Social Just to Get Acquainted

To-morrow evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the social rooms of the Stevens Memorial Methodist Church, Thirteenth and Vernon streets, the Epworth League will provide the means for strangers to acquire new friends and old friends to get better acquainted with each other. The manner in which this is to be accomplished is unique, but effective. An exciting series of events will be the testing of the guessworks of those present. Some pleasing entertainment specialties will be presented at intervals during the evening to relieve the strain on the guessworkers. There will also be an old-fashioned "sing," by all who feel exuberant. This will be under the direction of Ross K. Bergstresser, with Miss Myrtle Schell at the piano. Songs that radiate good cheer and friendliness will be used—some of them so familiar that no books will be necessary.

JUST A LITTLE DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Berne H. Evans of the Elphinstone, entertained at dinner last evening, Miss Betty Peale, of New York City; Miss Frances Bailey, Samuel W. Fleming, Jr., and Edward J. Stackpole, Jr.
