VEGETABLE CALOMEL

Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not salivate. As a liver stimulator, it's great. It's a perfect substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable after-effects. Physicians recognize this and prescribe may-apple root (podoophyllin, they call it) daily.

Combined with four other standard, all-vegetable remedies, may-apple root may now be had at most any druggist's in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Santalax Laxatives. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it.

These tablets are small, easy to take and are really wonderful little performers. They quickly clean out the poisons that are causing you headache, constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, dizzy spells, bad breath and coated tongue.

They are mild. They never gripe. And they are a bowel tonic as well as a cleanser and liver regulator. A 10c box should last one several weeks. A Physician's trial package (4 doses) will be mailed you free if you write mentioning this advertisement. The Santalax Remedies Co., 802 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

THROAT CUT BY REJECTED SUITOR

Arthur Cunningham Seriously Slashes Miss Catherine Eckenrode

Gettysburg, Pa., Jan. 19. — Arthur Cunningham, a rejected suitor, last evening cut the throat of a young girl on the front step at her home in South Washington street. Young Cunningham, who is 18 years old, for some time has been calling on Miss Catherine Eckenrode, a school girl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Eckenrode, but the girl herself, and her parents, objected to his attentions.

Last evening Cunningham called at the Eckenrode home and the summons brought the girl's sister to the door and she told him he was unwelcome. He insisted on seeing Catherine, and when she came to the door and told him she did not wish to talk to him, he took a penknife from his pocket and with a vicious stab, cut the girl's throat for several inches, missing the jugular vein and windpipe by the fraction of an inch.

Cunningham then ran into the street, but realizing what he had done he went back to the door and told Catherine he was sorry. He then went to the county prison and gave himself up to the authorities. He will probably be given a hearing to-day and will be held for trial.

Miss Eckenrode is seriously injured, but the physicians believe she will recover.
