GRATEFUL NATION SIGNALLY HONORS ADMIRAL DEWEY

Wheels of Government Suspend For Day; All Flags at Halfmast

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—Admiral Dewey was laid to rest today with all the honors a grateful nation can bestow. After funeral services conducted under the dome of the Capitol and attended by President Wilson, the Cabinet, the Supreme Court, the diplomatic corps and a notable company the admiral's body was taken to Arlington National Cemetery to rest with those of naval heroes gone before.

Private services at the home were attended by President Wilson, Secretary Daniels and a limited company. The funeral party then moved to the Capitol. All business of the government was suspended for the day; all private business in Washington stopped for an hour.

The private services at the home were begun promptly at 10 o'clock. Soon thereafter a solemn procession of midshipmen escorting the admiral's body moved along Massachusetts avenue over the capitol and a mark into the rotunda, where the body was placed on a catafalque directly under the great dome.

While the services under the dome of the Capitol were proceeding the midshipmen, drawn up on the plaza.

Editorial CITY DISPOSAL PLANT THE SOLUTION

THE TELEGRAPH is in receipt of the following letter from Labor's Open Forum, which is an organization before which working men, or men of any walk of life may appear in meetings, which are always open and public, for the discussion of any question or problem affecting labor or the people as a whole:

Gentlemen: In view of the present deplorable condition and the wholly inadequate service furnished the city with reference to the collection of city refuse, etc., and in order that there may be found some basis for a permanent solution of the constantly recurring difficulties incident to and quite obvious the present management...

The ash and garbage collection problem is one of the most serious now confronting the city and Labor's Open Forum is doing a constructive piece of work in its effort to ascertain public opinion as to its solution.

The Forum, in the belief of the Telegraph, has hit upon the only feasible plan. There has been nothing but dissatisfaction with the contract system from the very start.

On the other hand, the streets are being kept clean and in good repair by the city with its own force of workmen and we have cheap and pure water served by the city's own water department.

It follows, then, that we may expect equally satisfactory results from a garbage and ash collection system controlled and operated by the city. Fair wages, decent working conditions, proper hours, and the promise of continuous work would attract labor to a plant conducted by the city and prompt collections and satisfactory service would be thus assured.

The Forum is on the right track. Its proposal for a city ash and garbage collecting plant will have the endorsement of every good-thinking citizen.

BROTHERHOOD MEN SAY LEE IS ON RIGHT TRACK

Harrisburg Railroaders Generally Approve Trainmen Chief's Bill

Railroad Brotherhood men in Harrisburg are generally favorable to the passage of such a law as outlined in Washington yesterday by W. G. Lee, head of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, providing for the creation of a board of eight to settle railroad labor disputes—four members of the board to be practical railroad workers, such as conductors, trainmen, firemen, or engineers, and four others operating railroad officials.

Harrisburg railroad men are unalterably opposed to the Adamson bill for compulsory arbitration, but they believe that such a board as Mr. Lee has suggested would be generally acceptable.

"It's all wrong to suppose that the brotherhoods are always looking for trouble," said a local railroad man who talked freely on the subject but asked that his name not be used.
