OLIVE BRANCHES SOUTH AMERICA FOR PEACE DOVE LECTURES THEME

Vines and Trumpet Flowers Will Gaily Decorate Chestnut Street Hall For Charity Ball

In some form or other, the dove of peace is to form one of a portion of the decorations for the Charity Ball to be held for the benefit of the Associated Aid Societies on the night of January 29 in the Chestnut Street Auditorium.

This fact became known when a number of the volunteers who are turning out the flowers and vines to be used in decorating the hall were assigned the work of making olive branches. Doves and olive branches go "branch in beak" when it comes to symbolism, and although the committee members are reticent, there are strong possibilities of the doves—250 of them—being in evidence.

Commonweal Club Invites Friends to Hear Distinguished Traveler

DR. THORNTON B. PENFIELD

The Commonweal Club has been wonderfully fortunate in securing Dr. Thornton B. Penfield, the distinguished traveler and religious worker for three lectures on South America, free to everyone who is interested, in the John Y. Boyd Hall of the Y. W. C. A.

This evening at 7:45 o'clock Dr. Penfield's theme will be "South America—Her Land and Her People." Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock he will speak "The Womanhood of South America," and Tuesday evening at 7:45 his subject will be "South America—Her Problems and Her Promise."

Dr. Penfield whose home is in Englewood, N. J. was business manager of the Conference on Christian Work meeting in Panama in 1916. He is a wonderfully forceful speaker and takes his audience right with him on these tours of that wonderful land so rich in commercial and educational prospects when properly developed. Many Harrisburgers who have heard Dr. Penfield speak were instrumental in getting him here for this series of lectures, which, best of all, are free to the Commonweal and their friends.

Persons willing to help should call at the home of Mrs. Francis J. Hall, Front and Harris streets, or telephone Bell 1044, and materials and an instruction will be sent so that the work may be done at home.

$200,000 Is Paid For "Debutante Slouch" Model

New York, Jan. 22. — Paul Poiret, of Paris, has sold his original "debutante slouch." An American dealer has bought her, and the price is said to have been in the neighborhood of $200,000. Before the war, when art dealers sought to buy her, Mr. Poiret said that he did not want to sell her at that price. He loved the Chinese stone goddess, which was his original model for the style known in this country as the "debutante slouch," and did not want to part with her, but he loved France more, so, after serving for more than two years in the French army, he has sold her.
