

HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH

A NEWSPAPER FOR THE HOME

Published evenings except Sunday by THE TELEGRAPH PRINTING CO., Telegraph Building, Federal Square.

E. J. STACKPOLE, President and Editor-in-Chief

Member American Newspaper Publishers' Association

Entered at the Post Office in Harrisburg, Pa., as second class matter.

By carriers, ten cents a week; by mail, $5.00 a year in advance.

TUESDAY EVENING, JAN. 23.

Serve God by doing common actions in a heavenly spirit, and then fill the cracks and crevices of time with holy service.—C. H. Spurgeon.

MR. WILSON'S SPEECH

IT is difficult, if not impossible, to forecast the result of President Wilson's speech before the Senate yesterday.

This much may be conceded—that the President is sincere in his desire not alone to bring the present conflict to an end, but to insure world peace in the future.

The Kaiser is very likely to discover that Switzerland is not Belgium.

THE AGRICULTURAL SHOW

APPLES," observed Elbert Hubbard, "are much cheaper than medicine."

Apples are one of the big features and by far the most interesting to the lay visitor to the big agricultural show now on at the Emerson-Brantingham building in connection with the farm-conventions being held in Harrisburg.

As the meat supply goes down the fruit supply increases. This is no better demonstrated than in our own South Mountain apple belt, where the orchards are growing in extent every year and where the quality of the apples is being constantly improved.

Apple growing is a pleasant and profitable business, properly conducted, but like everything else, it requires skill and persistence.

Apples make for happiness both for the grower and the consumer.

PENNSYLVANIA, FARMING STATE

WHILE the whole world knows that Pennsylvania ranks with nations in its production of iron and that its steel works are the backbone of the American trade.

In the matter of the big sign board erected at the corner of the Federal property at Third and Walnut streets, the question is naturally asked why the officials of the Government are so indifferent to the civic interests of a community such as Harrisburg.

Now that the distinguished landscape architects employed by the Commonwealth to prepare designs for the permanent treatment of the Capitol Park zone are ready to submit to the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings their plans, something definite in the way of action may be expected.

United States Senator Knox, Alba B. Johnson, United States Senator Oliver and other important and potential leaders of the Republican party are in line with the sentiment of that party when they declare that prohibition of the liquor traffic is inevitable.

There's one thing about the Electoral College we especially like—it doesn't have a yell the second apple grower when it comes to value of the fruit, and that in the prices obtained for its wheat, potatoes and rye it was No. 3 in America last year.

Here's hoping Companies D and I will not choose such an inauspicious hour to arrive as did the Governor's Troop.

A BUDGET FOR THE STATE

THE fact that the Pennsylvania Legislature, which will reconvene here next Monday night for the inauguration of the business of the biennial session, will appropriate money exceeding that of the total income of a number of the nations of the world lends to the importance of the statement made by the counsel of the State Economy and Efficiency Commission that a budget system of appropriations can be worked out for this Commonwealth.

Harry S. McDevitt, the counsel who made the statement last night that the budget system was feasible, is a lawyer and trained investigator and for the last half dozen years has been studying the State governmental methods and observing those in other States.

Anyone familiar with the methods of handling appropriation bills, notably the general appropriation bill which provides the funds for the running of the State government, can see that there is room for improvement.

Under the budget plan work would be done once and done beforehand.

It is now "Good Roads" Spangler, Representative Robert S. Spangler, of York, has been named to the chairmanship of the House public roads committee.

The plan for the local option campaign to be waged by the Anti-Saloon League will be settled at a meeting to be held here by the executive committee of the league next Tuesday.

It will then be decided when the bill will be presented and by whom. It is regarded as pretty certain that the county unit will be specified in the bill.

It is now "Good Roads" Spangler, Representative Robert S. Spangler, of York, has been named to the chairmanship of the House public roads committee.

One of the newspapermen who will be missed will be James H. Lamson, Jr., who resigned the Philadelphia Telegraph and who is now secretary to the director of safety in Philadelphia.

Congressman L. T. McFadden, of the Bradford county district, was here to see the lawmakers at work.

The failure of the Democrats to make a better record of the session was a disappointment to many of the minority party men and the spectators in the House were somewhat amused at what occurred after a session of the loud and noisy announcements from Market Square.

Apples make for happiness both for the grower and the consumer.

Apples make for happiness both for the grower and the consumer.

Apples make for happiness both for the grower and the consumer.

Apples make for happiness both for the grower and the consumer.

Apples make for happiness both for the grower and the consumer.

Apples make for happiness both for the grower and the consumer.

Politics in Pennsylvania

By the Ex-Committeeman

The Democratic effort to make political capital out of the factional row among the Republicans went to smash in the House last night about the time the Senate was receiving the Sproul resolution for investigation and the manner of its wreck was a commentary upon the Democratic advisory committee which has assumed to come here to show how to run the Legislature.

When Herr Sarig, of Berks, a member of the ringmaster's outfit, called up the document, which he extolled as an effort to obtain facts, it was promptly torn to pieces by Representative Beyer of Philadelphia.

The resolution was wrecked in the presence of Roland S. Morris and other Democratic bosses, who had been here all day prescribing for the members of Pennsylvania, as they see them.

State Chairman Guffey did not get here, being ill. John G. Harman, former member from Columbia, however, was here.

Representatives Quinton O. Reitzel, Lancaster, and I. D. Musser, of Juniata, who were absent when the House organized, were sworn in immediately after the House was called to order last night.

Speaker Baldwin announced the following as members of the Committee on Rules: Messrs. Ramsay, Delaware; Whitaker, Chester; Heffernan, Philadelphia; McCann, Allegheny; Flynn, Elk. All are legislators of experience.

The plan for the local option campaign to be waged by the Anti-Saloon League will be settled at a meeting to be held here by the executive committee of the league next Tuesday.

It will then be decided when the bill will be presented and by whom.

It is now "Good Roads" Spangler, Representative Robert S. Spangler, of York, has been named to the chairmanship of the House public roads committee.

One of the newspapermen who will be missed will be James H. Lamson, Jr., who resigned the Philadelphia Telegraph and who is now secretary to the director of safety in Philadelphia.

Congressman L. T. McFadden, of the Bradford county district, was here to see the lawmakers at work.

The failure of the Democrats to make a better record of the session was a disappointment to many of the minority party men and the spectators in the House were somewhat amused at what occurred after a session of the loud and noisy announcements from Market Square.

Apples make for happiness both for the grower and the consumer.

Apples make for happiness both for the grower and the consumer.

Apples make for happiness both for the grower and the consumer.

Apples make for happiness both for the grower and the consumer.

Apples make for happiness both for the grower and the consumer.

Apples make for happiness both for the grower and the consumer.

Apples make for happiness both for the grower and the consumer.

When a Feller Needs a Friend

By BRIGGS

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thanks the Telegraph

Just a word of commendation. The quotations that you print at the head of the editorial column add interest and value to the Telegraph, especially the Bible verses. Hope they will be continued.

Very sincerely yours, WM. GRANT HOOVER.

Anent Market Square

I was much interested in the discussion of the treatment of Market Square.

As one travels, without exception one finds that open squares of all cities are made centers for beautifying.

It is time that some change is made in Market Square and that change ought to be to beautify.

A RESIDENT.

Welcoming the Troop

Certain things happening during the past week compel me to air my opinion in public, something I have never done before and sincerely hope this may not find its way to the wastepaper basket.

What I refer to was the elaborate (?) reception to the Governor's troop on the morning of the 17th.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

All the European nations have to restrict the consumption of food by law. Over here we just let the price-floors do it.—Philadelphia North American.

OUR DAILY LAUGH

It seems to be increasingly evident that King Alcohol will not have a seat at the council-table at which the future of the world is to be decided.—New York Sun.

WELL KNOWN PEOPLE

General C. T. O'Neil, of Allentown, commander of the Third Brigade, is one of the oldest National Guardsmen in point of service.

DO YOU KNOW

That Harrisburg produces immense amounts of tin plates which are used for hundreds of articles?

THE LEAGUE TO ENFORCE PEACE

EVERY proposal for a new departure in public affairs, and especially in foreign relations, awakens exaggerated hopes and stirs unneeded fears.

There are different kinds of obligations and alliances. Some people think of the proposed League as an alliance of a few nations to counterbalance another League of about equal strength.

There is no use in seeking to minimize the obligations that our nation would undertake; but no nation, and especially no rich and powerful nation, can be wholly isolated in the world.

Such an opportunity as will be presented at the close of this war is likely to come again.—A Lawrence Lowell in The North American Review.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

OUR DAILY LAUGH

BAD SKATER.

I've been skating all afternoon. You must be tired. Didn't you sit down?

RETREAT.

War Correspondent—Any news from the front?

General (hurrying by)—None whatever, except that the front is now the rear.

THE SKATING PAD.

Tired? Yes. I was up all night skating the baby.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Evening Chat

Wintery weather, snow and high winds, rain or low temperature, have little effect upon the industrial activity in South Harrisburg just now and the manner in which the repairs are being pushed on No. 2 Paxton furnace indicate that there will be still more doing in that section of the city.

Jacob Lightner, chief of the State Bureau of Employment, has had considerable success lately with placing one-man factory stores in men in places where there was work which suited their infirmities.

Edison J. Hockenbury has just returned from Roway, N. J., where he raised $107,000 in aid for a new Y. M. C. A., exceeding the amount necessary by $7,000.

The business office of the Telegraph there is a certain sum of money, the amount of which shall for obvious reasons be nameless, which will be paid to a certain unknown correspondent if it calls. It was enclosed with the following bit of advice which the unknown desirer to have published, and for which the Telegraph makes no charge.

"To Mothers, Guardians, Wives etc."

"Does your husband, daughter or any one of your household labor in an office, factory store, etc., from early morning, say 8 a. m. until 5.30? Do they come home to pleasant homes and bright faces so they can forget the nervous strain they were under during the day, or do they return in the evening to face household grouches? Heaven help them if they come home to the latter for they will not be able to do their best work."

One of the soldiers who recently returned from the tour of duty on the Mexican border tells this story: One evening the regimental chaplain was visiting in some other part of the Division Camp and returned to quarters after dark.

Prominent among those attending the farmers and horticulturalists' meetings this week is C. J. Tyson, who lives in the romantically named town of Flora Dale, helped put the Pennsylvania apple on the map. He did an immense amount of work toward developing the State's apple belt and his own product has been among the prize winners for years.

THE MIRACLE AT CANA

When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was: the governor of the feast called the bridegroom and saith unto him, Every man when he begins to drink saith, Good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse; but thou hast kept the good wine until now. This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee.—John II, 9 to 11.