Cumberland Court Makes Newville Borough "Dry"

Carlisle, Pa., Jan. 30. — By the refusal of Judge Sadler to grant a license to Daniel Huntsberger for the Central Hotel at Newville, that town becomes entirely "dry," it being the only licensed hotel there. But one licensed hotel remains in the County west of Carlisle, the one at Newburg, conducted by John C. Basehore.

Judge Sadler this morning granted all the licenses asked for, except Doubling Gap Springs Hotel and that at Newville. All places remonstrated against in Carlisle and Mechanicsburg were granted, but the court made a statement in reference to the Morrett wholesale application at Mechanicsburg. The remonstrance was signed by one-fourth of the adult population of the town, but the court said he would grant it this year, but if the same conditions exist next year it will be refused.

Every cent of this profit, he declared, was due to his foresight in interpreting speeches by Von Bethmann-Hollweg and David Lloyd George as meaning peace was coming.

Not a single transaction he made, he said, was influenced by advance information that the President was about to dispatch a peace note. He received no such information, he said, and added that he had no secret sources of information in Washington on which he based any of his stock operations.

Received No Information

Touching on his December 19 deals, Whipple asked Baruch if they were affected by any information from Washington regarding the administration's attitude toward peace.

"Absolutely not," he replied.

HOW SUSQUEHANNA IS JAMMED FROM CITY TO SAFE HARBOR

While the Susquehanna river is jammed with ice from near the Cove, north of the city, to Safe Harbor, and beyond, downstream, there is no immediate danger from ice jams and possible flood, believes Ralph H. Hosmer, State Flood Forecaster in the Water Supply Commission offices, Telegraph Building.

The Water Supply Commission employed an expert to travel the banks of the river from this city to Safe Harbor, taking photographs of the river conditions along the way. The pictures all show the ice to be jammed very thickly at all points along the stream. No big gorges exist, however.

In many places the cakes are standing on edge for miles at a stretch, and immense quantities of ice are lying between Harrisburg and the bay

E. R. Demain, the local forecaster, this morning said the real snow months are yet to come. February is usually the month of greatest snowfall and very often March. The rain and snow that has already fallen is still frozen in the ground, very little of it having passed into the streams.

Philadelphia Newspapers Forced to Raise Price

Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—The Philadelphia newspapers have increased their price to 2 cents, owing to the increased cost of paper and the limitations placed on the supply of newsprint paper by the manufacturers.

Last week the city had four 2-cent morning papers and three 1-cent evening papers. To-day every paper in the city sells for 2 cents.

In announcing the change in price the newspapers explain the enormous increase in the cost of paper, which for a single newspaper, for example, means an added expenditure of $250,000 a year, and for eight papers in Philadelphia would mean, provided they use the same quality of paper as last year, an increased expenditure of apward of $2,000,000, while the cost of many other materials needed for publishing a newspaper have advanced from 20 to 400 per cent.

Indicated by Batocki

Amsterdam, via London, Jan. 30. — According to the Berlin Vorwaerts. Adolph Batocki, president of the food regulation board, clearly indicated in a recent speech that the German food supply for the spring was very scanty and would require the most careful distribution and economical use. Calculating potatoes in the value of wheat, he said that for the current year there were 2,000,000 tons less of both available for animal and human consumption than there was last year and that, owing to the prohibition of wheat for animal feeding this would greatly diminish the yield of animal products. Even turnips cannot now be used for animal feeding this would greatly diminish the yield of animal products. Even turnips cannot now be used for animal fodder.

Herr Batocki pointed out that imports from neutrals were a slender factor in the situation and that the assets gained in Rumania, while valuable, could improve conditions only gradually owing to transport difficulties. He defended the system of distribution of foodstuffs with the remark: "The scarcer the total quantity of supplies the more necessary is a system of management."

State-wide prohibition to be effective January 1, 1918, is proposed in a bill introduced in the House to-day by Representative Lex N. Mitchell, of Jefferson.

The bill forbids the manufacture and sale of liquor "for beverage purposes," but does not prohibit any person from manufacturing wine or cider for his own use nor the making and sale of liquors for sacramental, medicinal, scientific and mechanical purposes. Neither does it provide for seizure of liquors in homes or serving to personal guests in a home.
