LONG TRIP HOME FROM RUMANIA

Robert R. Rakestraw Travels Through Half Dozen Countries to Reach America

Mechanicsburg, Pa., Jan. 30. — After a hazardous journey, filled with anxiety and thrilling experiences, Robert R. Rakestraw and son Theodore, arrived in the former's native town, Mechanicsburg, after a long absence abroad. They are spending some time with Mr. Rakestraw's brother, Roy E. Rakestraw, ice cream and ice manufacturer. Twenty years ago, Mr. Rakestraw left Mechanicsburg, for England, where he lived a number of years and at various other places on the continent. For the past eleven years he has been superintending the oil wells for the Standard Oil Company in Rumania, Europe, and now that the invasion of the Germans has made their operation impossible, Mr. Rakestraw decided to come to America, with his son, who was a student in Germany. It required seven weeks' time to come from Rumania to the United States, as they had considerable trouble with their passports and had to travel over a wide detour to evade the war zone. This included passage across the Black Sea, travel through a large part of Russia, Finland, Lapland, Sweden and finally England, where they sailed for New York. When they steamed up the harbor at that city, and the shores of his native country were outlined, Mr. Rakestraw said it certainly looked good to him. Theodore, his son, will remain here and attend, in all probability, Lehigh University. Mr. Rakestraw will tour the United States and when matters abroad clear up he expects to return, as he says Rumania is a beautiful country, and his business interests are there.

Lebanon Valley Students in "Anne of Old Salem"

Anville, Pa., Jan. 30.—Last night a good diversion from midyear examinations, which began yesterday at Lebanon Valley College, was offered to the students in the form of the junior play. It has been the custom for the junior class to give an annual play and the present class presented "Anne of Old Salem," a three-act play portraying life in the New England States about the year 1629. This was the time of the witchcraft persecutions and the play is based on the historical events connected with this persecution. The cast was composed of the following: Rufus Ness, Daniel Walters, Paul Shannon, Hubert Snoke, Thomas G. Foltz, Katz Ruth, Louise Williams, Flora Case, Dorothy Lorenz, Ada Beidler, Helen Shaak, Helen Hoover, Elizabeth Gallatin, Robert Atticks, Harry Kauterman and John Berger. The play was directed by Miss May Belle Adams, dean of the department of oratory.

PROBABLY the poorest place to learn the folly of inferior tire equipment is ankle-deep snow. Numbed fingers, difficult repairs, annoying delays—these pile discomfort upon disappointment. How much wiser, how much more satisfactory, to have used Goodyear Tires in the first place! Tires that keep you in the car, and out of trouble.

The proper traveling companion for a Goodyear Tire is a Goodyear Tube. A tube built to hold air, and keep on holding it. A tube that won't leak, seep or creep—that makes the casing deliver its full store of service.

All Goodyear Service Station Dealers (there's probably one in your neighborhood) have Goodyear Tires and Tubes. All are trained and eager to see that you get out of them the final mile we have built into them. All are interested in your return from your tire investment—and keep interested after the purchase.
