

NEWS OF LEGISLATURE

LEGISLATORS GO HOME TONIGHT

Adjournment Taken in Both Branches Last Night After Very Short Sessions

Both branches of the Legislature adjourned last evening until 9 o'clock on Monday night. The decision to hold up the Sprout resolution caused a change in plans and as the committees had not yet gotten fairly started the leaders decided to quit.

Neither branch was in session very long yesterday. The House held very brief meetings and the Senate was in session a little time.

In the House the Daix resolution which practically established a budget was passed as it came from the Senate. This resolution does not have to go to the government, but if there is anything that cannot be found out about expenditures of the State government under it the item must be elusive. In effect it gives the House the information on how every dollar was spent and what every dollar is wanted for in the next two years.

During the final meeting Speaker Baldwin referred about thirty bills.

Mr. Siggins, Warren, introduced bills to fix salaries of county commissioners in all counties of the State and to pay county auditors $10 per day employed. He also presented a bill to appropriate $327,500 to Warren State hospital.

Over 20 appropriation bills were also presented.

Other bills submitted were: Mr. Strauss, Berks—Authorizing supervisors of second-class townships to levy taxes on residents of districts benefited for lighting of highway.

Mr. Gans, Philadelphia—Fixing salaries of clerks in State departments of Philadelphia treasurer's office.

Mr. Hough, Allegheny—Appropriating $437,833.44 to the western penitentiary.

The first bill to be reported from committee was one relative to the York county poor board's right to issue bonds. Mr. Whitaker, Chester, reported it.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

URGES EVERYONE TO QUICKLY GET ON WATER WAGON

Drink glass of hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal, before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

BALDWIN TALKS SESSION PLANS

Speaker Says That Distant Members Will Have a Chance to Get to Their Homes

Members of the House of Representatives who have either gone or about to go to their homes for the week-end and with them are carrying two thoughts imparted by Speaker Richard J. Baldwin, both of which are likely to be adopted next week and are considered forward steps in legislative procedure. In one he asked the members to consider the advisability of enforcing House Rule No. 39, which defines those who may walk upon the floor of the House of Representatives while it is in session and the other has to do with sessions lasting five days a week for two weeks to be followed by a nine-day recess.

The lobbyists will feel the force of the rule which was one of the hobbies of Speaker George E. Alter in the 1913 session. It has long been on the House list of "don'ts," but has seldom been enforced. It finally limits the privilege of the floor of the House to members, accredited newspaper correspondents, former members of the House and the present members of the sitting member and heads of the various State departments. It is from the standpoint of the interference with the business of the House and the inconvenience to the members that the lobby may be banished to the outer walls and not so much from the alleged harm, that lobbyists are supposed to do.

The recess proposition was mentioned in the Telegraph a few days ago. It has been a matter to which the Speaker has been giving considerable attention.

In a few words late yesterday afternoon Speaker Baldwin outlined his views on the recess question in this way: "At the present time we are meeting one and one-half days a week. That makes it impossible for the members from the rural sections who must travel a long distance to get home for a number of days. The expense feature is also important. What I would ask the House to do is to consider the proposition of meeting four or five days a week for two weeks in the early months of the session and then recessing for nine days or until the following Monday a week. This will not delay legislation—on the contrary it will expedite the bills. When we would leave Harrisburg for the recess everything would be cleaned up and we would be at home waiting for the crisis of bills to come from the Senate. In addition, the far-traveling country member could get home for a considerable stay and would feel that his incidental expense was well spent. As it is the nearby members can get home at any time, but the farmer boys must stay over here indefinitely. This could not be done in the later weeks of the session but in the next two months it might be found both an efficient and convenient thing to do."

In his remarks on the question of enforcing Rule 39 the Speaker asked that the members be ready to decide their attitude on it next week when they return, and if they are agreeable to it he would be pleased to carry out their thoughts. He said when asked about the rule that it was not aimed at lobbyists entirely and did not want the term "lobbyist" to be misunderstood because he said there were many measures in which thousands in the State are interested that are lobbied for by reputable persons. What he does want to prevent is the indiscriminate use of the aisles of the House by persons and all lobbyists while the House is in session.

It is disconcerting to the members to have their constituents constantly running to their seats to speak to them about legislation and often times matters that have no connection with the Legislature, said he. There should be seats reserved for the families of members and other seats for their friends. I would favor taking the chairs out of the side aisles and give the members some privacy where they would be free from interruption. This is an important matter as it will save time to the members and expenses to the State.

ONLY THREE APPEALS

Sunbury, Pa., Jan. 31.—But three appeals from the assessments of money at interest were made at the session of the county commissioners set for this purpose yesterday. More than $2,000,000 is on interest in different forms in the county and the commissioners were well pleased with the work of the assessors.

SUNDAY FISHING EAGERLY SOUGHT

Maurer Bill Outlines Some of the Arguments in Favor of the Proposition

A new reason for permitting fishing on Sunday was given by James H. Maurer, the Reading Socialist and labor leader, in a measure which he introduced in the House. Fishing on Sunday, as everyone knows, nowadays reduces the high cost of living—providing the fisherman catches any fish. But here's Maurer's reason: "Whereas the day of rest commonly called Sunday was made for man and not man for Sunday; and whereas recreation on the day of rest injures none, but on the contrary conduces to better physical and moral well being; and whereas to man tired by six days of labor the art of fishing affords an opportunity of rest and relaxation and an acquaintance with nature denied during the days of toil; and whereas the span of human life is short enough without making it shorter by absurd laws that accomplish no material good, but simply tend to arouse resentment in those not limited by selfish creeds and beliefs: Therefore be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall be lawful to fish on the day commonly called Sunday."

SMITH ELECTED FOR FOURTH TIME

Secretary of Appropriations Committee Chosen at the Organization Yesterday

Albert B. Smith, of Steelton, was elected secretary of the House appropriation committee last night by unanimous vote of 26 members at the meeting for organization. Mr. Smith has been secretary of the committee for four terms and prior to his selection for that office he was clerk to the committee. He is one of the most competent men in committee work in the Capitol and one of the best posted on appropriation matters in the State. He was secretary to Speaker Walton in the session of 1905 and has been identified with each session since. Chairman Woodward complimented Mr. Martin on his work. The committee named ten as a quorum and decided to have four sub-committees for the session. Meetings will be held almost daily. Chairman Beyer organized the Judiciary general committee of the House which elected Representative J. W. Swartz, of this city, as secretary.

WIDE INTEREST IN SISAL PLANT

New York, Jan. 31.—Although the government's suit to dissolve the so-called Sisal Trust will bring up several questions of international law and although the Mexican government receives a large share of its revenue from the sale of sisal in the United States, attorneys interested in the case express the opinion that the suit will not lead to international complications. The government's action attracted wide attention to-day because it is the first suit under the Sherman law with an international tinge, also because the farmers of this country consume annually nearly 300,000,000 pounds of sisal in binder twine.

TWO DEAD IN WRECK

Chicago, Jan. 31.—The eastbound Wabash passenger train which left Chicago at 12 o'clock last night was derailed by spreading rails near Dillon, Laporte county, to-day. The engineer and fireman were killed. One passenger was slightly injured.

DELAWARE MAY ABOLISH WHIPPING POST HORROR

Dover, Del., Jan. 31.—A movement to abolish the whipping post in Delaware was launched yesterday, when Representative Downward introduced a bill in the House to that effect. A delegation of Wilmingtonians will appear before the Legislature in a few days in support of the bill. A similar bill introduced in the House in 1915 by Mr. Downward received only four favorable votes.

Cadomene Tablets Lift You Over The Wall to Happiness

Physician Says Weak, Nervous People Gain by Leaps and Bounds When Cadomene Takes Hold.

Tablets Contain Vital Elements for Nerves, Brain and Body.

A nationally known physician, in speaking of the benefits to be expected from Cadomene, the iron, phosphorous, vegetable tonic, said: "When the structures and functions of the body are in perfect health, they work without attracting attention. The moment that any part of the system becomes inefficient in functioning, the cry of pain, or distress, tells us all too quickly that we are being attacked by nerve and cellular weakness. Proper tonic and reconstructive means must then be resorted to as an aid to nature, and it is well known that iron, phosphorous and certain vegetable extracts yield prompt and permanent aid." And when Cadomene Tablets are directed to the nervous system, the origin of disturbance is reached, so that the grievous symptoms and distress may be quickly vanquished. When you become conscious of an unnatural condition, these symptoms are usually manifested. Extreme nervousness, irritability, despondency, sick-nervousness, with pains at the base of the brain and along the spinal column, sleeplessness, a coldness of extremities, with a listless, unambitious attitude toward life and its successes, and an ever-present but natural desire that all things desirable should be yours.

Careless, indifferent, or thoughtless expenditure of your vital forces may be the cause, or prolonged illness, or overwork, with dissipation and excess, but whatever the cause, you are like an engine with insufficient fuel—your full supply of nervous energy and strength is not forthcoming and therefore the tonic, alterative and nutritive action of Cadomene Tablets, on the nerves and cells of every muscle and structure of the system are essential to your recovery and complete renewal of nerve-energy and strength. Cadomene Tablets are prepared in convenient form and may accompany you anywhere in pocket or purse, and taken with due regularity to produce satisfactory and happy results. They are sold by all wide-awake druggists in sealed tubes with full directions for self-administration. They also bear a guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

Advertisement for Carter's Iron Pills. Text: 'Few People Know This Large doses of pills for the liver are not as efficient as small doses. The big dose purges its way through the system fast, but does not cleanse thoroughly. The small dose (if right) acts gently on the liver, and gives it just the slight help it needs to do its own work, and do it well. Take one pill regularly, until you know you are all right. Colorless faces often show the absence of iron in the blood. Carter's Iron Pills will help this condition.' Includes logo for 'Carter's Little Liver Pills' and 'Genuine bears Signature'.
