February Sale of Furniture For Every Home

The furniture which lives with you more nearly reflects your personality than does any other single factor which goes into the making of your home. If it is indifferently chosen, with the thought that one chair or table is the same as any other chair or table, so long as it answers the purpose for which it is bought, then your home does not fulfil its true mission.

Next to life itself, comes, or ought to come, our home--and next to merely living is living comfortably and happily, amid surroundings of harmony and peace.

This February Exposition and sale of furniture has a sentimental something back of it; it does not embrace a single item that does not have a reason for its existence. Each piece has been made in order that it might prove its great serviceability in some home and that it might live and grow old with those who built up that home.

Savings of 10 to 50% With Average Reductions of 20 to 25%

EVERY room in the home is provided for in this half-yearly occasion, every kind of good furniture is included, and every piece is guaranteed to give lasting service.

All our entire regular lines, as well as, hundreds of pieces that have been specially bought, will be featured at significant savings. The showing involves a stock of more than one hundred thousand dollars, representing altogether the greatest showing we have ever attempted.

PERIOD furniture for the dining room will be prominently featured in handsome suites of oak, mahogany and walnut. Luxurious chairs and davenport in tapestry or fine quality durable leather will be shown, in many desirable styles; and refined pieces for the bed room will be offered in oak, mahogany, American walnut, old ivory and bird's eye maple. We will not be able to duplicate many of the individual pieces except at considerable increased costs, so we will be glad to reserve for later delivery such pieces as you may not care to take into your home at this time.
