

COMPENSATION CHANGES ARE UP

Doctors Talk Over the Subject
With the Board and Agree on
Some Propositions

The conference of medical men with the Compensation Board yesterday resulted in a decision to press for only two amendments out of the five proposed to the compensation act and they will be sent to Hampton L. Carson, former attorney general for his opinion. The conference lasted most of the afternoon and was participated in by Chairman McAllister and Drs. Swartz, Holmes and Hazen, Harrisburg; Estes, South Bethlehem; Codman, Philadelphia; Krusen, Norristown, and Kline, Lebanon, with Commissioner of Health Dixon.

The committee will not press the proposed amendment for a permanent advisory medical council and other suggestions but will urge the following:

"That the period of disability for medical attention, which now is fixed at 14 days be changed to 30 days; and the date of disability be dated from the time the patient reports to the physician or surgeon for medical or surgical treatment."

"That the word 'major operation' be eliminated from the act and permit an increase of the maximum of medical or surgical and hospital services to $200 and allow a sliding scale of fees, the rates of charge to accord with those that the physician in charge is accustomed to receive for like services from other members of the same standard of living in his community. The said fees to be paid the attending physician."

The board will consider the request for information about how to reach dependents of persons killed in Pennsylvania industries who reside in war zones.

Chairman Mackey issued a statement in which he paid a high tribute to the manner in which the employers of Pennsylvania had taken hold of the compensation act. The statement declares that the board policy of not doing anything revolutionary brought about the best of feeling.

The board will meet in Johnstown February 8; Philadelphia, February 15 and 16 and Pittsburgh, February 20 and 21.

EX-SHERIFF, DIES AT DAUPHIN HOME

The ex-sheriff was ill since December 5 and was confined to his bed since December 12. During the past two weeks his condition had been serious.

His wife, Mrs. Jane Umberger Sellers, and two daughters survive. His children are Mrs. J. William Rodenhaver, wife of the proprietor of the Hotel Carlton, Harrisburg, and Miss Bertha V. Sellers, clerk in the Division of Public Records at the State Library. Benjamin F. Umberger, of the law firm of Swartz, Umberger & Swartz, this city, is a brother-in-law.

Railroaded When Young Man
Charles Wesley Sellers was born at Stoney Creek, one mile above Dauphin. His parents were the late David and Eliza McNeely Sellers. When a young man the son went to Cleveland, Ohio, where he was employed by the Cleveland Railroad Company as fireman. He was later an engineer. When he came back to Harrisburg he became an engineer on the Philadelphia division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, where he worked until he became an office holder.

Long Active in Politics
For thirty-two years Mr. Sellers was a resident of Harrisburg and resided in the part of the Sixth ward now known as the Eleventh ward. He was active in ward, city, county and state politics and was frequently elected to nominating conventions.

He was first elected sheriff in 1893 and assumed office January 1, 1897. On the expiration of his term Mr. Sellers lived a retired life for three years, when he was re-elected sheriff. On January 1, 1907, he became proprietor of the Dauphin Hotel, succeeding David Hoffman.

He was a member of Harrisburg Division, No. 74, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; Harrisburg Lodge, No. 12, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks; Fraternal Order of Eagles, the Harrisburg Social Club and the Harrisburg and West End Republican Clubs.

"Mulberry" Sellers, as he was frequently called by many of his friends, was a unique character. Witty and always ready with a hearty grasp of the hand, he was a great entertainer. He was a familiar figure at many social and political functions held at country places and in towns throughout Dauphin county.

Mr. Sellers was also prominent in the sporting world. For a number of years he was one of the crack local shooters at the traps. He was a great fisherman and hunter and spent much of his time on the river and in the hills and mountains. He was an ardent baseball fan and attended many major league games in Philadelphia and other cities.

Dig Up Stolen Gems Buried in Field

Reading, Pa., Feb. 1. — Jewelry and silver worth $500 were found buried in a field at Wyomissing, a suburb, last October, while excavations were being made for a house. Irvin F. Impink, of Wyomissing, started investigation.

The name Castner was on the jewelry. Mr. Impink noticed a newspaper account of an accident in which Catherine Castner, a child, was killed by an automobile, and wrote to the father of the child, Samuel Castner, a Philadelphia photographer. Mr. Castner said that the jewelry did not belong to him.

A close examination disclosed on the jewelry the word "Tennessee." Mr. Castner told of relatives residing in that State and Mr. Impink corresponded with Mrs. Catherine Castner, of Tennessee, who is spending the winter in Winston-Salem, N. C. She identified the jewelry as some stolen from her, and it was sent to her.

Cabin Dweller Owes Life to Grateful Stray Cat

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 1. — Chas. Garvin, a cabin dweller in South Wilmington, claims that he owes his life to a stray cat which he took in a few days ago.

The animal was hungry and he took it and fed it. That night he was nearly overcome by coal gas in the cabin, but was awakened by the cat scratching his face. He got out into the open air in time to save his life.

RECOMMENDS PENNY POSTAGE
Washington, Feb. 1. — One cent drop letter postage without reserve was recommended yesterday by Postmaster General Burleson, in a letter to Senator Bankhead, of the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, now considering the appropriation bill already passed by the House.
