EPISCOPAL WOMEN MEET ON TUESDAY

Miss Julia Emery General Secretary of Woman's Auxiliary Will Speak

The regular monthly center meeting of the women of the Episcopal churches in this city and suburban towns will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. James L. Darlington, 321 North Front street.

This will be a meeting of unusual merit, due to the fact that Miss Julia Emery will be the speaker. Miss Emery has been general secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church for forty years. She is now retired and upon her resignation Miss Grace Lindley, of New York City, was appointed in the vacancy. Mrs. James Fry Bullitt, president of the local organization, will preside at to-morrow's assembly.

The subject of this meeting is the "Pilgrimage of Prayer," a movement of this particular society started in Maine some first week in December. This special work will be celebrated in the Harrisburg and other parts of the central diocese, the week beginning Sunday, February 11, at which time special prayer services will be held.

The meeting to-morrow afternoon, which affords such a singular opportunity to the women of the local auxiliary is open for any women interested in missions.

Miss Emery, the speaker and an ardent worker along the line of missions, will be the guest of Mrs. James Fry Bullitt at her Bellevue home during her visit here.

Original of Heroine Sees Herself in Play

One of the most interested spectators of "Erstwhile Susan" Saturday afternoon at the Orpheum was Mrs. Clara Kuhn of Cashtown, Adams county, the original of Mrs. Dreary. Mrs. Kuhn pronounced the play "very elevating," and was proud to see herself as Mrs. Fiske showed her. Every time the great actress nonchalantly gave one of her own favorite quotations, Mrs. Kuhn would nod and smile as if to say, "very true, indeed."

Mrs. Kuhn who is spending several days among old friends in town came into the telegraph this morning and had the pleasure of being taken over the plant and seeing just how a newspaper is made. Everyone was glad to greet such a distinguished visitor and as she left, in her own pleasant way, just as one might see Mrs. Fiske do it in the play, she said farewell: "Happy have we met, happy have we been, happy may we part and happy meet again."

The Prince-Freedman Betrothal Is Announced

Miss Tillie Freedman, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe Freedman of 1939 North Second street, and Joseph Leonard Prince of Pottstown, were formally betrothed last evening and received the congratulations and good wishes of a host of friends gathered at the Freedman home for the occasion.

KROEHLER Duofold SOFA BED SUIT

A Living Room and Bed Room Combined Designed and Built Covered in Brown Imitation Spanish Leather by Specialists

The illustration can show only the appearance of the bed into which this handsome davenport can be converted—but no picture can convey the correct impression of its comfort and its roominess. As a couch it is all that could be asked for—large, comfortable, attractive in appearance, and substantial—as a bed, it is absolutely satisfactory.

The entire suite is designed, and built by master craftsmen—specialists in the construction of good davenport suites. They're made in one of the largest factories in the world—by a company that is nationally known. All pieces are upholstered over oil tempered steel spring construction—that means comfort and long lasting quality. The finish is a rich, deep fumed—or a beautiful golden.

The fabric used in covering these excellent pieces is so finely finished and so handsomely colored that it's hard to tell it from the genuine leather. When you consider that it won't crack or peel as easily as most split leathers, the only thing noticed in its use is the substantial saving for you. You can't appreciate how good it really is until you've seen it.
