REAL ESTATE

Claffins May Open Big Department Store Here

Arrangements are being made by the Claffin Syndicate, operators of big department stores in various parts of the country, to open a store in Harrisburg at Second and Locust streets, if plans are agreed upon by the title holders of the property for the erection of a suitable building. Representatives of the syndicate, it was announced, have proposed the erection of a six-story brown tile building, equipped with two elevators and erected according to plans made by Claffin architects. If this is done, it was said, the syndicate will lease the building for twenty years. The Second and Locust street property is owned by Bernard Handler, Samuel Fishman and Robert Rosenberg, who purchased it from the United Evangelical Church.

BUILDING TRADES TO ACT
Action of the Building Trades Council in the event of war with Germany, State legislation, and the jitney situation since the Harrisburg Railways Company cited jitneys before the Public Service Commission for not obtaining certificates of public necessity, will be discussed to-night at a meeting of the council at 221 Market street. The call for the meeting was issued by Secretary Harry S. Poulson.

LODGES MUST MOVE

Drug Concern's Expansion Makes Removals Necessary
Because the Kennedy drug concern has taken a lease on the entire building at 221 Market street, beginning April 1, the Dauphin Lodge, No. 146, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, which has used the third floor for its headquarters for many years, will have to secure another hall. The first and second floors are now occupied by the medicine firm. The third floor consists of two large halls, and besides using them for their own purposes the Odd Fellows let them to more than a dozen other lodges for holding their meetings. These lodges have also been notified to look for other quarters.

IN FIVE MINUTES NO SICK STOMACH, INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the quickest and surest Stomach relief.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; it tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation all the food all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation. This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery. Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

NEW COMPANIES PART OF MILITIA

General Order Calls Attention to Locations of Machine Gun Troops

A general order from the Bureau of Militia Affairs of the War Department has been issued by the Adjutant General's office prescribing regulations for the machine gun, supply and headquarters companies of Pennsylvania regiments. These units were organized last year, most of them after the troops went to the border, and are now "integral parts of regiments."

It is stated that "a reasonable time will be allowed for these companies to be reorganized with regard to the location of their personnel" and that members cannot receive credit for drills unless they attend. The headquarters company or troop will be located at one station, the band section to be located at a station other than its company, as may battalion sergeants-major, horseshoers and saddlers. The supply company, which includes the wagons, will have its personnel located at one station, except wagons, horseshoers and saddlers, who may be located at another station, provided, as in the case of the headquarters company, there are no horses issued. There are no exceptions to a machine gun company. The order says these units are no longer provisional organizations, but are complete within themselves, and subject to the same rules and regulations as lettered companies, troops or batteries.

The order also prescribes methods for accounting for federal property in order to avoid "the difficulty encountered at the recent mobilization."

Buller to Answer.—Commissioner of Fisheries Buller will likely submit his answer to the House of Representatives in the McCall's Ferry dam matter within a week. He has been assembling data.

Making Surveys.—State Highway Department engineers are making surveys in the vicinity of Philadelphia to link up some roads and for further improvements in Carbon county.

Did Not Pay Anything.—The commission to select the site for the new Western State insane Hospital is said not to have spent anything, even for their traveling expenses. It establishes a record.

Inspections Under Way.—Inspections are being made in National Guard armories of organizations which returned from the border last year. The Fourth Regiment inspections start late this month. So will that of the First Cavalry.

Directors are Coming.—State school directors will have their annual meeting here this week. State school officials will make addresses.

To Give Hearing.—A hearing will be held by Attorney General Francis Shunk Brown on Wednesday in the case against William Reed, of Scranton, who was elected mine inspector of Columbia county district, to show cause why he should not be ousted from office. It is contended by the complainant, J. A. O'Donnell, former inspector, who was defeated by Reed in November last at the polls, that Reed had not passed an examination.

Hearing on Code.—The State Industrial Board will meet in Philadelphia to-morrow to take action on the proposed code to govern the paint industry in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Munson Here.—C. LaRue Munson, the Williamsport lawyer, appeared to-day before the Public Service Commission in the argument for reopening the Ringtown borough water plant case, in which the Commission gave the town the right to establish its own plant because of insufficient service by the local water company.

Legislators Ready For Duty.—In the event of a call for the National Guard to take the field, Senator W. C. McKee, Pittsburgh, colonel of the First artillery, and Representative Samuel A. Whitaker, Phoenixville, captain of Battery B of that regiment, would abandon legislative duties. The former is chairman of the Senate Military Committee and the latter of the House Manufacturers Committee.

BOOZE
Giving the States a Chance: State Line Now a Dead Line
The Supreme Court of the United States by a vote of 7 to 2 has upheld the Webb-Kenyon law, prohibiting the shipment of liquor from wet into dry states. For booze the state line is now the dead line. In rendering this decision the court has cut the Gordian knot by which national control of interstate commerce held helpless the State control of the liquor business. Booze shipments are now subject to State police power and can no longer claim exemption by posing as interstate commerce. According to press reports, Chief Justice White read the following language in announcing the decision:

"The all-reaching power of government over liquor is settled. There was no intention of Congress to forbid individual use of liquor. The purpose of this act was to cut out by the roots the practice of permitting violation of State liquor laws. We can have no doubt that Congress has complete authority to prevent paralyzing of State authority. Congress exerted a power to co-ordinate the national with the state authority."

No amount of comment can add anything to the clearness and completeness of that summary. The states that no business are now able to wipe out whisky within their borders.—From Collier's Weekly for February 3d.

VIRGINIA GIVEN PERMISSION TO GO AHEAD WITH SUIT
Washington, Feb. 5. — Virginia was to-day given permission by the Supreme Court to institute mandamus proceedings against West Virginia to enforce early payment of $14,000,000 decreed to be West Virginia's share of Virginia's 1861 debt. The court ordered West Virginia authorities to show cause by March 6 why a mandamus writ should not issue.
