"SAFETY FIRST" FOR KING GEORGE

English Ruler Takes Precautions When Inspecting Munitions Works

London, Feb. 20.—King George left his spurs, gold cigarette case, cigarettes and matches outside a munitions plant during a recent inspection as a precaution against an explosion which might cause an explosion. This example of the monarch was cited yesterday, the prosecution of a number of munitions workers for carrying smoking materials into a plant where explosives were made.

In calling attention to the fact that the workmen had endangered the lives of 7,000 others in the plant, the prosecuting attorney referred to King George's "side of Majesty" he said: "did it cheerfully and willingly, and if our monarch did it, surely the men working there might follow his example by complying with the regulations made for their own safety; a month were meted out to the offenders."

RENEW EFFORTS TO CURB COST OF FOOD

Mayor's coming. "We are starving," Mrs. Harris told the Mayor's body-guard. "We demand help from the Mayor. We will not be responsible for what happens if we don't get it."

Three Other Riots The city authorities to-day renewed their efforts to curb the rising cost of food, which was responsible for riots yesterday in three different places in the tenement districts. Joseph Hartigan, commissioner of weights and measures, appealed to State Commissioners of Agriculture and State Departments of Food and Markets throughout the country to co-operate in bringing food supplies to the New York market.

The situation resulted from an unprecedented jump in the price of staples, particularly potatoes and onions, variously ascribed to short crop, heavy demand, speculation and railway congestion.

The indignation of housewives in the lower east side of Manhattan and the Williamsburg and Brownsville districts of Brooklyn overflowed when the produce peddlers quoted potatoes from five to seven cents a pound and onions from fifteen to twenty cents. The police estimated that at least 1,000 women took part in the riot in Brownsville. Push carts were overturned and a fire and vegetables were doused with kerosene oil. There were similar scenes elsewhere and the police had their hands full dispersing the angry women.

Plead For Food In Manhattan the push cart men met the situation by calling a mass meeting last night. They explained to their customers that onions were costing them as high as $15 a barrel and potatoes $10 a barrel. The crowd was kept at a high pitch of excitement by speakers who complained that they were unable to buy enough food at the present prices to give their families proper nourishment. In support of this statement one woman placed her five small children on the platform. The meeting appointed a committee to call on Mayor Mitchell to-day and demand that he take drastic action.

Commissioner Hartigan, in his letter to the food authorities of other states, asked what steps they were taking to organize producers and handlers of food for the purpose of reducing costs. "This information," he said, "is sought for in the event of any abnormal food conditions arising by reason of extraordinary results accruing from obvious domestic and international causes."

The Commissioner asserted that New York was the greatest logical food market in the world, and added: "It is evident, therefore, that much benefit can be given to the farmers, growers and shippers in your state who may find the New York city market a convenient and profitable outlet for their products."

Dealers said that within a year the wholesale price of potatoes had risen from $3.25 to $9 for a sack of 165 pounds and the price of onions since December 1, 1916, from $3 to $15.50 for 100 pounds.

Gompers Makes Appeal to German Labor Unions

London, Feb. 20.—The Berlin Vorwarts, says a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Company, publishes the cablegram of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to President Legien, of the German Federation of Trades Unions, and the reply of President Legien. Mr. Gompers cabled: "Can you bring influence to bear on your government so that a breach with the United States may be avoided?"

President Legien replied: "Since the war broke out the German laboring classes have worked for peace, and they are against every extension of the war. The refusal of the enemy to consider the sincere German peace offer, the continuation of the dreadful war of starvation directed against our women and children and old people and the open confession of our enemies that their war aim is the annihilation of Germany—all that has caused a sharpened submarine war. Influence on our side on the Government is only impossible if America can persuade England to give up her war of starvation."

POTATO BOYCOTT STARTS PRICES DOWN

organization yesterday by Mrs. William Henderson, the club's president. That dealers within market radius of Harrisburg intentionally are withholding potatoes for higher prices is the opinion of Mr. Reel based on reliable information gathered within the last day or two. The boycott, said he, is the weapon with which to fight gougers. He pointed out the results accomplished by the protest against the proposed six-cent loaf of bread and added that potatoes could be gotten down to reasonable prices by co-operation of the consumers.

"I have absolutely reliable information," said Mr. Reel, "that dealers are holding their potatoes for even higher prices. There is no shortage of the produce such as would warrant present prices."

Wise Way "Get Out From Under" One of the largest grain men in York, a man well posted and whose name I can hardly mention for publication, has informed me that there are great quantities of potatoes on hand. He forecasts a great drop in price the day the public awakes to the fact and refuses to pay the exorbitant price demanded. He has even advised his friends to sell their potatoes at $1.50 a bushel to get out from under the crash that is coming.

The same is true in virtually all parts of the state. A man who knows conditions in the northern farming districts has just told me that there are plenty of potatoes, but the dealers absolutely refuse to sell.

Holding Out "There is no doubt in the mind of anyone who has canvassed the situation that dealers are holding out for fabulous prices. A local dealer told me last week that he has been trying to buy 600 bushels, but the owner refuses to part with them.

The same is true in virtually all parts of the state. A man who knows conditions in the northern farming districts has just told me that there are plenty of potatoes, but the dealers absolutely refuse to sell.

Summarizing the discussions of the day, A. C. Goring, of Philadelphia, secretary of the National Shoe Retailers' Association, said: "Next fall men's 'moderate' priced leather shoes will be $7 and $8 a pair. The 'moderate' priced women's shoes will be from $6 to $8 a pair and the finer grades will go as high as $20 a pair."

Lofty Shoe Prices Are Predicted by Retailers

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 20.—Leather shoes will be in price $2 by autumn and the poor are advised to buy shoes made of heavy fabrics and "compound" soles to reduce the cost.

This was the consensus of opinion at the opening of the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Shoe Retailers' Association in the roof garden of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

Summarizing the discussions of the day, A. C. Goring, of Philadelphia, secretary of the National Shoe Retailers' Association, said:

"Next fall men's 'moderate' priced leather shoes will be $7 and $8 a pair. The 'moderate' priced women's shoes will be from $6 to $8 a pair and the finer grades will go as high as $20 a pair. "If the United States should enter the war against Germany there is no telling where prices will be. If such a war is sustained, leather shoes will become a luxury and only the well-to-do will be able to buy them."

Two Are Sent to Jail For $800,000 Swindle

Reading, Pa., Feb. 20.—David W. Rothensies and Frederick G. Anderson, both lately of New York, and several years ago well known men about town in Reading and with a record as liberal spenders, were committed to jail here yesterday to begin the sentence imposed upon them by the local court, having been convicted of a conspiracy whereby investors from all over Pennsylvania and several adjacent States lost upwards of $800,000 in a local insurance enterprise.

Anderson and Rothensies carried their case to both the Superior and Supreme courts, which refused to interfere with the sentences imposed by the local court. In the case of Rothensies the sentence is two years in jail at hard labor, with a fine of $500, and in the case of Anderson, eighteen months in jail, with a fine of $500, both to pay the costs, which amounted to about $500.

Gov. Lister, of Washington, Signs "Bone Dry" Act

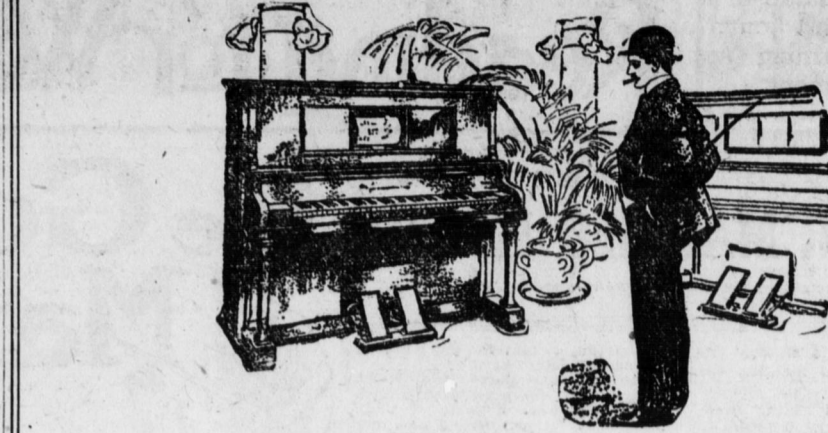

Olympia, Wash., Feb. 20.—Governor Lister yesterday signed the "bone-dry" prohibition act, which, unless referred by petition to a popular election, will become effective ninety days after adjournment of the legislature early in March.

The law prohibits possession of intoxicating liquor by any person except clergymen for sacramental purposes. Wholesale and retail druggists and manufacturing chemists can handle the same if two granted a license after public hearing.

DISCUSS GRADING OF WHEAT

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Grain men, representing the leading markets in the central west met here to-day to discuss the proposed grading of wheat by the Federal government.

Regulations concerning the moisture content of winter wheat were considered. At a conference yesterday the grain men recommended that the proposed Federal grades of red

Trade Commission Will Summon More Manufacturers Before Deciding Price Offer

Washington, Feb. 20.—The Federal Trade Commission will withhold its decision on the proposal by a large group of American and Canadian newspaper paper makers that the commission fix prices for their product until other manufacturers are heard. There is a general belief, however, that most of the manufacturers will support the suggestion and that the trade commission will approve it.

It was learned that manufacturers who did not join in the proposal have been requested by the commission to come Friday to present their views. After they are seen an announcement will be made. If the proposal is accepted the commission immediately will take up the question of cost of production as a basis for prices, and at the same time probably will call hearings at which both manufacturers and publishers may present their ideas concerning reasonable charges.

No price can be set until a most careful examination of conditions has been made. Reforestation as a means of conserving the country's wood supply was discussed at a luncheon given to-day by Frederick W. Kellogg, publisher of the San Francisco "Call," to Government officials, newspaper makers and newspaper publishers. A more serious situation than now confronts publishers will have to be faced, the speakers declared, unless the Federal and State Governments adopt a comprehensive reforestation policy.

A DOLL WHICH IS MEANT TO BE ABUSED Eugen Sandow, the professional strong man, has invented a physical exerciser which takes the form of a doll or figure. It is hung on the wall and battered into submission; its legs and arms are pulled at will without causing it any inconvenience. The inventor plans to supply the child with a doll that can be turned into an unconscious exercising medium, says the Popular Science Monthly for March.

WHAT THE FIRST TELEGRAM SAID

Contrary to general belief, "What hath God wrought?" was not the first message to be sent by telegraph nor was Morse the sender of the first communication, says the Popular Science Monthly for March. Instead, it was sent by one of the committee who were debating upon the proposal of Morse, the inventor, to string a telegraph line from Baltimore to Washington. Mr. Morse, who wanted to end the discussion and at the same time demonstrate his invention, strung a wire from the committee room to the top of the Capitol. One of the committee, who was opposed to President Tyler, wrote, "Tyler deserves to be hanged." This was received by the man at the other end exactly as it was composed.
