

CENTRAL HIGH TOSSERS READY TO GOE READING FIVE HARD BATTLE TO-NIGHT

CENTRAL TO PLAY READING TOSSERS; LOCALS MUST WIN

School Spirit Is Strong; Substitutes to Help Regulars in Game Tonight

For the second time this season the Reading High School team, which is considered by many, the strongest contestant for pennant honors in the Central Pennsylvania Scholastic League, will invade this city, to play Central High.

Central will be out strong. Since the recent trouble over Gregory and Fields, who were named ineligible on account of studies and that Hilton, Frank and Mertz, the striking players have returned, the student body is up in arms and will attend the contest in a body.

A defeat at the hands of the game would practically put Central out of the running in the pennant race, while a victory under the present conditions would greatly strengthen Central's hold on the top berth.

Maloney and Wolf were regarded as varsity material earlier in the season and had been working consistently with that team all season.

Reading Veteran Players The Reading team is composed of veteran players and appears to be one of the most evenly balanced fives in the league.

The Sportlight by Grantland Rice

How dear to my heart are the scenes of last August When fond recollection gets back on the job; It gets under my feet like a raw gust

How dear to my soul are the echoes of Maytime, The crash of the trumpet that travels with vim; The squawk of the ump in the thick of the playtime,

Still, no one but a genius could pick as many openings to queer himself as Darcy has picked. He has developed the In-Bad industry into an established science.

Brilliance is one affair. Consistency is another. Most of the chatter spilt around the Cobb has involved the brilliance of his work; but little mention has been made of his later-day consistency.

But as he caught the owner's eye And swung on down the pike, Not a roofer in the place could doubt 'Twas Casey on a strike.

My memory fails me as to the mere detail of what year it was, but we were pitted against Dayton, a club that stood well up in the running because of its two strong pitchers, Asher and Wacker.

We understand from one or two managers that the Red Sox are going back. We understood the same thing in 1914, and they haven't won anything but two pennants and two world series since.

JOHNNY WOLGAST TO MEET "KID" ALBERT

Johnny Wolgast, brother of Ad Wolgast, will come to Harrisburg. He signed a contract yesterday to meet "Kid" Albert, of Frederick, Md., at Chestnut Street Auditorium, Wednesday night, February 28.

Albert is the boy who made a hit with the fans when he gave Frankie Maguire a hard fight in January. The semifinal will show Billy Waltz, of Lancaster, who claims the featherweight championship of Pennsylvania, and Dick Willis, of Philadelphia, who is going to wrest the title from Waltz if possible.

LESS ENTRIES IS TENNIS PROGRAM

Too Many Participants Take Advantage of Ticket Privileges; New Rules

New York, Feb. 21.—That a general movement to curtail entries at various national championship tournaments is deemed necessary is shown by the recent action of the tennis and golf associations.

These will prove of great interest to tennis players because they change the character of this event to the extent that entrants will now be required to show some qualifications to justify their competing for the national title.

When the tournament was shifted from Newport to New York, it was felt that in such a large tennis center many players might enter, influenced in part by the fact that a player's ticket for the matches and to have the distinction of competing in an event, although without a possibility of coming through.

The restriction was not entirely effective, however, and it became necessary to draw up more drastic entry conditions. These were presented at the annual meeting, and the delegates from clubs all over the country seemed to be cordially in favor of the idea, as it went through without opposition.

Consequently the following stand as the qualifications which will determine the acceptability of entries for the nation championship in 1917: Regulation For Players

Entries shall close on published dates at least ten days prior to the beginning of play.

FAST GAMES IN AMATEUR LEAGUE

Galahads Defeat Arrows and Rosewoods Humble West End Tossers

In spirited City Amateur games last night on the Armory floor the Rosewood A. C. and Galahad R. C. fives were victorious. The Rosewoods humbled the West End A. C. five to the tune of 56 to 23, while the Galahad tossers triumphed over the P. R. R. Arrows by the score of 21 to 13.

The large score by which the West End tossers were defeated came as a surprise to followers of the City League games. Prior to the contest last night the uptown team had been victorious in three consecutive games and it was expected they would again win the Hill tossers a hard battle.

The strong defensive playing of the Galahad five is attributed as the reason for its victory over the Pennsylvania Railroad Arrows, despite the fact that the latter club appeared on the floor with its strongest personnel.

FRESHMEN WIN INTERCLASS GAME

Lingle and Smith Big Point Winners; Senior's Stars Are Gipple and McFarland

Good work by Lingle and Smith, forwards on the Tech Freshmen basketball team yesterday proved too much for the Seniors to overcome, and as a result the first year lads continued their unbroken string of victories in the interclass league, score 33 to 16.

The two forwards scored all but four of the team's 33 tallies. The fourth year team was composed of several substitutes who put up a creditable game. Gipple and McFarland starred for the losers.

As a result of the victory, the Freshmen are better entrenched in first place, while the Seniors are in last position, and have yet to win a game. The line-up and summary follows:
