KAUFMANS UNDERSELLING STORE

Some Interesting News About Our Women's & Misses' NEW SPRING SUITS at $24.75

There was a time when most women looked more at the price of a suit than they did at the quality, but that time has gone by. Women think more nowadays, and buying a suit to-day is more as it should be—"A Business Proposition."

"It must be right because it costs so much," is no longer the motto of the thousands. These days an article must be right regardless of its price, be it high or low. When we placed our order for these new 1917 garments we bent every effort towards securing not only the best possible styles, but the best materials that could be procured anywhere to offer our patrons this season. Every season more and more women come, look, compare styles, qualities and prices, and it is simply remarkable how many buy.

As an Example Women's and Misses' Suits at $24.75

It is not an exaggeration to say that we sell twice as many suits at this one price than any other Harrisburg store. And they are sold only because of the comparisons made with suits at the same price (and higher) that are shown by other stores.

There is no other store in Central Pennsylvania, (and we doubt if there is one store in the entire State, except in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh,) that ever shows nearly as large a variety of suits at $24.75 as is shown in this store. And we make a conservative statement when we say that the suits shown here at $24.75 will compare well with those shown in specialty and other high-priced stores at $35.00 and $37.50. No better materials are shown in $40.00 suits.

The styles are the season's smartest, and as they come from the best known of the New York makers, the tailoring is equal to the best. We suggest that you, before buying your spring suit, allow us to show you the remarkable assortment of models we have ready for you.

Suffered Much in Teuton Camp

By Associated Press. Copenhagen, March 2, via London. Four Americans from the steamer Yarrowdale, who have been prisoners in Germany for three months, arrived here to-day. They are Dr.ohn Davis, Columbus, Miss.; Orville McKim, of Watertown, N. Y.; Dr. H. D. Snyder, of Norfolk, Va.; Richard Zabriskie, of Englewood, N. J. The four men were practically destitute.

The men reached here with only the clothes they stood in and will, under the custom of the sea, be supported by the British consul until it is impossible to send them home. They owe their release before the remainder of the 72 Americans who were on the Yarrowdale to the fact that, as physicians or veterinarians, they ranked as officers and were confined in the officers' camp at Karlsruhe. The horse tenders and sailors who composed the bulk of the American captives, are still held in "quarantine" at the prison camp for enlisted men at Dulken.

Few more dramatic tales have been brought forth by the war than the story of adventure, hardship and peril at sea, short commons on land and the new danger from the sky which was related by these four American professional men to the Associated Press correspondent. Snapped up by the German raider in midocean, they cruised around for days while the commerce destroyer was gathering further prizes.

Then they made the voyage in the Yarrowdale to Swinemuenden, under such conditions that they expected the ship's seams must open and the vessel to sink beneath them every moment. Meager Prison Fare They lived for more than two months in prison camps in Germany on the meager prison fare provided by the German government without food parcels which lighten the conditions of existence of other prisoners of war. They passed through four air-planes attacks on Karlsruhe, during which bombs intended for the railroad station rained on all sides of their camp. To cap the climax, they were ignorant until the last whether they were prisoners of war or neutrals in detention, whether their government was doing anything to obtain their release, or whether the United States had not already entered the war. To add to their anxieties their fellow Americans from the Yarrowdale at the Neustrelitz camp to be transferred with other officers from the captured steamers were in a State of complete destitution. They were insufficiently clothed, several having been without shoes or even clothing during the severe December cold and all were weakening under the effect of these conditions, although they were subsequently remedied when Ambassador Gerard finally succeeded in locating them in the prison camp at Dulmen.

Velvet THE SMOOTHEST SMOKING TOBACCO VELVET is a "two year old." You can't buy a pipe load of Velvet until after Nature has brought out the very best that's in it—by two years ageing in wooden hogsheads. You will never realize how much better natural ageing makes tobacco, until you've smoked some Velvet. Velvet Joe. Lippitt & Myers Tobacco Co.
