Beyond the Barrier Upon our shield the staining rust Has gathered deeper than we knew;

The ruggedness of ancient mould Is hidden now by softer dreams; The braver line we used to hold

The ancient spirit of the clan May shrink, at times, before the call, Bewildered, in the waiting span,

Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson, of Brooklyn, is the Human Net who catches them as they start to fall.

When Robbie slipped the net under Jack Coombs, Rube Marquard and Larry Cheney, all held as impending hasheens, few took his pitching staff with any great seriousness.

It was Marquard who saved Brooklyn last fall. The Phillies had just beaten the Dodgers five straight in Philadelphia.

"Giants at Marlin lack military supplies." You'd think there'd be a lot of Marlin rifles, or at least marlin spikes, around the place, anyway.

The trouble with most pitching in the present era is the fragile aspect of pitching arms.

Who are the pitchers that did the bulk of the work in 1916—who worked the greater number of innings? Here they are:

From these eight men you can pick the six best pitchers in baseball, and they are the eight men who did the bulk of the work, who were willing and ready to start three times a week.

TECH'S VICTORY FEATURE IN SCHOLASTIC CONTESTS

Slogan Now Is "Beat Central"; Important Games on This Week's High School Schedule; Academy Has Game

Tech's victory over Steelton on the latter floor Friday night was not only the surprise of the week, but of the season. From a Tech standpoint, the surprise was all the greater when it is taken into consideration that three freshmen played on the team.

With three first year lads on the quintet, it would appear that Tech has at last a chance to turn out a winner. Another lad who will bear watching is Smith, a member of the first year interclass basketball team, which is leading the league.

League Games on Schedule In the Central Pennsylvania League, York will play at Reading Friday night, while on the next men they will stop off at Lebanon for another contest.

Central will go to Steelton Friday night for the first contest between the two aggregations. York may win either contest on its trip, but the odds are against the White Roses.

Chances are that the league race will not be decided until March 16 when Lebanon will travel to Reading for the second contest between the two leaders. At Lebanon that team won from the Berks counties by a 34 to 32 tally.

The highest scoring team in the league would be made up of the following players: Moore and Nyquist forwards; Wendler, center; Frank and Witnayer, guards. While five of the teams in the league will play during the coming week, the standing in the race is not likely to be affected, and it is likely that there will be no definite change until the leaders get together, and fight it out for the first position. The standing of the teams to date is as follows:
