Princton Alumnus Working Among Soldiers

Among the many agencies doing effective work in ministering to the spiritual and physical welfare of the solders fighting in the trenches beyond Third street, in honor of William H. I, Machine Gun, Supply, Headquarters the seas probably none other deserves scholz, of New York city.

Mr. Scholz is the American managsoldiers along the lines of Y. M. C. A work.

One of the young men engaged in this work is Weir Stewart, youngests son of the Rev. Dr. George B. Stewart, president of Auburn Theological Seminary, and former pastor of the Market Square Presbyterian Church. Weir Stewart, who was born and spent his boyhood here, was a member of the class of 1815 at Princeton. He sailed from New York last July for England, later going to Bombay, India, for his chosen work. Here the men are aclimated to the great difference in climate prior to sailing on British transports for the extreme South. Mr. Stewart is now carrying on this interesting work among the soldiers in Mesopotamia. His brother, George B. Stewart, Jr., is still in Beirut, Syria, where he has been connected with the Christian College for several years, and, with many others of the faculty, is suffering great hardships due to the war conditions.

Prior to his present position Mr. Scholz was commercial adviser of the American legation at The Hague, and american legation at The Hague, and envelope and the same capacity to our envoys at Stockholm and Berlin. Springtime in the Shops

If it was not the smartest, newest, most sophisticated of coats, one would be tempted to guess that it was plucked from a garden of roses for the loveliness of flowers and the charm of Springtime are embodied in it. It is one of the many clever new coats shown at Astrich's, Fourth and Market streets, which can be worn so well for both street and dress wear. This particular coat is of soft green bolivia, with wide belt, deep cuffs and most unusual collar faced in broad-cloth of that new shade they call "heart-of-a-rose." White crepe dechine beautifully flowered with tiny rosebuds makes a most luxurious lining.

Imported Olive Oil

"It is very scarce"—Oh, where have we heard those words before!—yet when one considers that less than 7,000,000 gallons of olive oil were preduced last year in Italy for distribution to the entire world one can see that there is a definite reason for this scarcity. There is, too, a great difference in the grades of olive oil and that known as "finest sublime" prepared from the first pressing of selected ripe olives is the highest quality and the scarcest of all, yet the Studebaker Grocery Store (Mr. George Barnes), Second street at the crossing of State, offers this grade of olive oil, which they buy in bulk directly from the importer and sell for 55c and $1.00 a bottle.
