THE Federal Council of the Churches of Christ of America recom-mends that the week preceding Easter be given to united intercession. The subjects suggested are on the thought of the Lord's Prayer. Frank Mason North, president of the council, says:, "Never in the history of our nation has there been a more appropriate time for thus cultivating a spirit of devotion, never a time when we so need to humble ourselves before God, to rid ourselves of humble selfishness, to look for guidance that we may do the will of God and seek the establishments of the Kingdom of our Lord. "Let us, in spirit of surrender to God, and of sympathy and compassion for mankind, set apart these days of sacred memory, ever praying, that the risen Christ may be enthroned over the life of a redeemed world." The subjects and dates of the scremons and prayers suggested are: SUNDAY, APRIL 1.—Sermons on the Incarnation.

The entrance of God into human life and history, His welcome Matt. XXI:1-17; Isaiah XL:9-11; Haggai 11:7. That we may have the faith of children and with joy prepare Christ's way. That we may believe in Christ's victory, even if darkness must inter-vene. NDAY, APRIL 2. "Forgive us our debts as we forgive." That truth and duty may be seen with singleness of eye and purity of heart. That loyalty to righteousness may dominate all life. That the shame of sin, and all hate and selfishness may be washed away from men's heart. That loyalty to righteousness may dominate all washed away from men's heart. That loyalty to righteousness may be washed away from men's heart. That loyalty to righteousness may be washed away from men's hearts. That the world may be a household filled with love and prayer. That the barren life of earth may bear the fruitage of the Kingdom of Heaven. That we may forgive and be forgiven. Mark XI:12-26; Isaiah LVI:1-8. TUESDAY, APRIL 3. "Thy Will be done." That we may know and do the will of our Father. That we may love God and man, and that all love of man for man may be made sure and strong by the love of men for God. That we too may desire to see Jesus and may be willing to have banished from life all the sin and impurity which hides Him from men. That we may see in all humanity the present Lord and so live "Ye as to be free from all amazement when we hear Him say: did it unto Me.'

MONDAY, APRIL 2. "Forgive us our debts as we forgive."

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4. "Thy Kingdom come."

That love and treachery which struggled about Christ may not longer struggle in us of in the world. That we may give ourselves and our all to Christ in complete surrender. That He may master our minds and hearts and make possible in us and for us the things of which we despair. Matt. XXVI:1-16. URSDAY, APRIL 5. "Lead us not into temptation."

That there may be peace in men's souls, and an untroubled faith in God. That there may be peace upon earth. That men and nations may love one another, even as Christ loved us. That being convinced of sin and of righteousness and of judgment we may be fitted to receive the Comforter who is the Spirit of Truth. That we may lay aside all division and bitterness and rise into the oneness with all our brethren which is in Christ. John XIV:1-27; XVI:1-16; XVII:20-26. IDAY, APRIL 6. "Hallowed be Thy name."

That men may be prepared unto death in the way of duty. That life may be less to us than the love of God and men. That we may see through death and darkness to life and light. That we may be saved from judgment of men and given a share of love and service in their suffering. That the Cross may be the utter-most principle of our life and thought. John XIX :4-16; Luke XXIII :33-46. SATURDAY, APRIL 7. "Deliver us from evil."

That we may hope and believe ever against the darkest night. That the buried possibilities in humanity may obey the creative touch of God and come forth now. That we may not despair of the world which lieth in darkness and the evil one, but believe that by the power of the Resurrection it may be redeemed. Mark XV:42-47; Matt. XXVII:61-66.

SUNDAY, APRIL 8.. Sermons on the Power of the Resurrection. That the might which raised again our Lord from the dead may work to-day upon the world. That we may believe with a mightier faith in a Risen Saviour with power over death and in His freedom to help us. That the Risen Christ may live in us that the life we now live in the flesh may be lived by the faith of the Son of God. That Christ may rise over all the life and death of the world and reign. Luke XXIV; Rom. 1:4; Eph. 1:17-23.
