MR. AND MRS. BECK MARRIED 10 YEARS

Celebrating Their Tin Wedding With Informal Reception This Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Beck have invited forty of their friends to an informal reception this evening at their residence, 1736 Herr street, in celebration of their tenth wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Beck was formerly Miss Anna Folker, of Philadelphia, and her marriage to Harry F. Beck took place in New York city March 10, 1907. Immediately afterward they came to Harrisburg to make their home, where Mr. Beck is connected with the superintendent's office of the Reading Railway.

Plants and spring flowers are used in decorating the Beck home, and there will be music and a buffet supper for the pleasure of the guests. Day long beautiful gifts have been coming in for the "bride," silver, china, cut glass and linens, as well as the tin, which is really aluminumware nowadays.

Among the guests will be: D. M. Beck, H. O. Folker, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Umholtz, Miss Anna Fisher, Mrs. Frank Tourison and Miss Thekla Houseal, all of Philadelphia; Charles Beck, Mrs. R. M. Shope, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Davis, Mrs. Ludwig, Miss Mary Siegler, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grunden, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Whiskeyman, of Anville; Mr. and Mrs. J. LaBarre Folker, of Steelton; Dr. and Mrs. H. W. George, Miss Dorothy Gorge, of Middletown; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Houseal, Miss Sara Bell, John Bell, Miss Adaline Wealand, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Baptist, Mr. and Mrs. William Zelders, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Karpner, Miss Nan Sayford, Miss Carrie Forney, Robert Forney, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Smith, the Dorothy and Sara Smith.

FORMER U. B. CHURCH PASTOR HERE AFTER LONG ABSENCE

The Rev. William B. Evers, of Martinsburg, W. Va., is the guest of A. G. Lehman, 918 Green street. The Rev. Mr. Evers was the second pastor of the First United Brethren Church, Boas street, about 46 years ago, and it is about 40 years since the last met Mr. Lehman, who was one of the boys of his congregation.

He says the progress and beauty of Harrisburg are wonderful, but the sad part of his visit is "the absence of so many old parishioners and friends who have gone to their reward."

Salem Brotherhood Gives Banquet in Colonial Club

The banquet to be given Monday evening by the Salem Brotherhood of the Reformed Church to soldiers of the Reformed churches of this vicinity just home from the border, will be held in the Colonial Country Club. Over a hundred people will attend and there will be speeches from pastors of the various Reformed churches in response to toasts given by W. R. Houser, the toastmaster.

The guests of honor will be: Chaplain, the Rev. Harry Nelson Bassler; Lieutenant Charles W. Thomas, Sergeant Major Leroy Crist; Sergeant John Spangier, Sergeant Samuel W. Shelton, Corporal Benjamin Cline, Privates Ira Ensinger, James D. Green, Harry Deale, Henry Cocklin, Paul A. Kurkenknebe, Jacob W. Hagey, Edward Corbhan, Jay Bretz, Gordon Cassatt, Daniel Crozier and Herbert Burgeon.

Enjoy Musicales and Tea With the Misses Wilson

Guests of the Misses Harriet and Marie Wilson, of State street, had the pleasure of meeting their house guests, Miss Anne King and Miss Reba King, of Baltimore, at an informal musicale and tea yesterday afternoon. Primitives, frosts and gondoilas filled the house with their beauty and fragrance. Mrs. William G. Butler presided over the tea cups, assisted by Miss Kathryn White, Miss Alice Wilson, Miss Sara Elliott and Miss Nelle Kennedy.

The musical program was given by several of the guests and comprised both vocal and instrumental numbers.

STANFORD-KRETZ BRIDAL

The marriage of Miss Miriam Kretz, of Reading, and Lawrence Stanford, of Erie, Pa., took place Thursday, March 8, at the parsonage of the Zion Lutheran Church, Pine street, with the Rev. S. Winfield Herman officiating. The bride is a gifted musician and Mr. Stanford is head bookkeeper for the large William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh, where the couple will be "at home" to their friends after a month's tour of New England.

HEISEY-OSTOT WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Ostot, of 636 Woodbine street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Goldie M. Ostot, to Daniel M. Heisey, at Front Royal, Va., Thursday, February 15, 1917. After an extended southern trip Mr. and Mrs. Heisey will be "at home" to their friends at 636 Woodbine street.

Mrs. Victor B. Hausknecht, of 1804 Walnut street, is home from Gettysburg, where she visited her father, ex-Senator William A. Martin.

CHORAL UNION'S AMBITIOUS PLANS

Endeavor Singers Will Produce the Oratorio of "Elijah" at Next Concert

FRANK A. MCCARRELL

The Harrisburg Christian Endeavor Choral Union held its first rehearsal of the oratorio "Elijah," by Mendelssohn, last Monday evening, when a fine representation was present. Professor Frank A. McCarrell, the director, was very much pleased with the way the members took hold of this difficult music. There are at present over one hundred enrolled with an addition of a number of musicians who will co-operate in the orchestral work. The next rehearsal will be held Monday evening, March 12, in the Fourth Street Church of God. This oratorio is a most ambitious work for the union to sing, and will require the best efforts of the singers and Mr. Stanford is head bookkeeper for the large William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh, where the couple will be "at home" to their friends after a month's tour of New England.

Miss Camille Irvine, of Mercersburg, who is the week-end guest of Miss Annette Steel, of the Stanley Apartments, and Miss Elizabeth Mack, of Philadelphia, who is spending the week-end with Miss Dorothy Hurlock, of 1719 North Front street, are being much entertained during the visit.

This afternoon they were honor guests at an informal tea with Miss Hurlock hostess. This evening Miss Steel will entertain informally for the visitors, with the following guests in attendance: Miss Elizabeth Ziegler, Miss Louise Plank, Miss Dorothy Cox, Miss Mary Hawes, Miss Edith Thompson, Miss Alice Thompson, Miss Margaret Bullitt, Miss Eliza Bailey, Miss Helen Davis, Miss Miriam C. Cocklin, Miss Elizabeth Black, Miss Judith Lee Dismukes and Miss Dorothy Hurlock.

French Plays by Seiler Students; Great Success

One of the most interesting and finest of the Seiler School plays ever given by the students was "Anne D'Arc" or "La Soubrette" presented in the assembly rooms of the school last evening before an audience including the parents and friends of the students. The plays which were so excellently given were under the direction of Miss Amy Louise Beck, who is in charge of the French Department of the school. As a suggestion of their appreciation for her fine work Miss Beck was presented with a lovely corsage of valley lilies, orchids and Evergreen streets, and Mrs. Thompson, of 22 South Thirtieth street, have returned from Philadelphia.

DORCAS SEWING CIRCLE PLEASANTLY ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Holman, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Gilles and Miss Nora Koons of Camp Hill, entertained members of the Dorcas Sewing circle and their husbands. Y. W. C. A. "Gym" Girls to Hold Annual Exhibition

The large audience which packed the Chestnut Street Auditorium to its capacity last year to witness one of the most unique and decidedly interesting exhibitions of calisthenic and aesthetic skill by the Y. W. C. A. Gym girls, nearly 300 in number, under the leadership of Miss Marjorie E. Bolles, will be delighted to learn that their second annual exhibition will be given in the Chestnut Street Auditorium, March 30. Under the efficient leadership of Miss Bolles will be shown drills in calisthenic and apparatus work, as well as folk and aesthetic dances in beautiful and attractive costumes. The program for this exhibition promises to be as fine as that of last year, and a large audience is anticipated, those desiring seats are requested to arrange for them at the earliest possible date.

SING LENTEN CANTATA

The Lenten cantata, "The Triumph of the Cross," by Alexander Matthews, will be given by the choir of Reformed Salem Church, Third and Chestnut streets, on Holy Thursday evening, April 5.

The choir is holding extra rehearsals each week with Mrs. Edwin C. Thompson, organist and director.

Harper Kale and Elmer Clay, of Plainfield, Pa., are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. William Heffelfinger, of 416 South Thirtieth street. Mrs. Edward E. Beidleman, of Market and Evergreen streets, and Mrs. Thompson Beidleman, of 22 South Thirtieth street, have returned from Philadelphia.

Ne'erdowells Play Game With St. Andrew's Team

An interesting and exciting basketball game was that played this morning between the Ne'erdowells, a basketball team composed of Seiler school girls, and the St. Andrew's team. The game was called at 11 o'clock this morning with Cleveland Hicks as referee and Miss Priscilla Bullitt as scorekeeper. Both teams made a fine showing and played so unannouncedly well that the boys of St. Andrew's only won by a small margin.

Following is a summary of the lineup of the teams: Ne'erdowells: Edith Thompson, Margaret Bullitt, forwards; Eliza Bailey, center; Miriam Cocklin and Darthea Davis, guard.

St. Andrew's: Rudolph Koser, Burton Davis, forwards; "Cap" Birchfield, center; John Graeff and Wilbur Powers, guards.

Your Answer to Our Call. To say pleased is putting it mildly. We're DELIGHTED! And the best part of it is, everybody was taken care of. We called for 2,000 people. We don't expect to get them all in a day, or a week, or a month. But we were delighted with the ready response and no one went away without being satisfactorily fitted with glasses. Many answered our call and went away happy. They had nothing to lose—and everything to gain. Over and over again we heard expressions similar to, "Why, I didn't know Harrisburg boasted of an Optical establishment like this." That's why we are delighted. Our records show 3,200 patrons up to March 5th. We called for 2,000 more for 1917 and judging from yesterday's response we'll over-reach that number. However, our offer still stands. $2.00 Here's the Offer $2.00. Our expert eye examination (no drops). Sphere Lenses, slightly curved. Best make of Guaranteed Gold-Filled Eye Glass Spectacle mounting or frame (Manufacturers won't permit our advertising their brand, make, or name). Satisfaction is guaranteed. Complete, $2.00. J. S. Belsinger. 205 Locust St. Opticians. Opp. Orpheum Theater. Optometrists. OPEN DAILY FROM 8 A. M. to 8 P. M. Saturday till 9 P. M. Springtime in the Shops. The clever homemaker who tries to keep the family in good health through these treacherous spring months will make it a point to serve some simple salad at least once every day, and many delightful and novel salad dressings can be prepared to give variety to the menu. Mayonnaise, Russian dressing, Roquefort cheese dressing and French dressing are a few of the excellent salad dressings that can be prepared with olive oil and the real imported Tuscan olive oil sold by the Studebaker Store, (Mr. George Barnes), Second street, at the crossing of State, gives the salad a delightful flavor that makes it especially tasty. This oil sells for 55c and $1.00 a bottle. On Smart Frocks. If you want your frock to be truly smart you must have on it at least a touch of beadwork, while the loveliest costumes have wide panels, elaborate edges and deep collars lavishly embroidered in beads, and the Woman's Exchange, Third street, at the Herr, offer the newest stamping patterns for beadwork as well as the loveliest assortment of beads in all the new colorings to meet the demand of those clever women who want their frocks to have a touch of smart individuality. Anyone can do this work with the aid of stamped patterns and get the same effect that is shown in the most elaborate and expensive costumes. Quite New. Fashion has given us so much variety in footwear in the past few seasons that one would think there was nothing new to offer, yet every day newer and prettier styles are offered and one of the cleverest of these footwear designs is offered at the Walk-Over Boot Shop, 226 Market street, in a new tan oxford on the sport type, so fashionable this season. It has a graceful wing tip, defined by perforations while another row of punchings marks the vamp and still another finishes the top. Of course, it is laced, and the low heel for walking and sports is appropriately used. This oxford is strictly correct and up-to-the-minute in all its style features and the workmanship is perfect. It sells for $6.50. The Vogue of Black Satin. Those designers who allow becomingness to be sacrificed to style, have no argument left when a clever designer offers equally good style, and adds becomingness, and cleverness of design including high style and beauty, feature the new apparel shown at Astrich's, Fourth and Market streets, in spring assortment. Very smart is the one suit of black satin, which gives grace of outline to the figure, and has an air of chic distinction in each fold of the shimmering satin. The suit is exquisitely finished and luxuriously lined in figured white crepe de chine, yet the price asked is more reasonable and I have noticed that low priced and smart styles are seen together at the Astrich display.
